NINE LIVES LOST IN STORM THAT CAUSED OVER A MILLION LOSS IN VICINITY OF NEW YORK

Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.

Nine lives were sacrificed today in accidents caused by the deluge of rain, and property worth many millions was destroyed by the flood. Such a downpour has never before been chronicled in New York and it will require several weeks for the municipal authorities and the railroad corporations to repair the damages.

In many respects the storm was similar to the great blizzard of March, 1888, as it came from the southeast and was drawn here in the path of another storm already raging. The weather was warm, however, and there was a phenomenal rain instead of snow.

At a late hour tonight there was every indication that the coming coast storm would descend on the city with far more riotous fury than that of the lakes storm which deluged the city today. Early in the afternoon the gale, sweeping up the Virginia coast, had reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour. It was accompanied by the heaviest rain. Two ships have been reported ashore on the Virginia coast, wrecked by the fury of the hurricane.

In the Chesapeake bay the flood tides reached an unprecedented height, driven in from the roaring ocean by the gale, and at Norfolk, Va., the water front of the city was feet deep in water pounding and surging into the city.

Storm Signals Set.

A bulletin from the Washington weather bureau this evening said that hurricane signals had been ordered up from the Delaware breakwater to New York, and that so terrific was the storm in its increasing fury that it was unsafe for vessels to leave harbor.

In Brooklyn the damage was even greater than in Manhattan. Miles of outlying territory were submerged and the only means of communication was by hastily constructed rafts. Five horses were drowned in one of the city streets. A lineman was killed by electricity while fixing wires underneath the elevated road.

Paterson, which is just recovering from the ravages of fire followed by flood, again suffered. Mary Hadley, 14 years old, was standing on a bridge crossing what is known as Molly Ann's brook, when the bridge was washed away, carrying her to death.

The dam confining the waters of Pompton Lake, N. J., burst. The iron bridge across the Ramapo river was carried away and 100 houses below it were partially submerged. Pompton was isolated as no trains could pass. The lake, which was emptied, was more than a mile long and half a mile wide. Nearly all the cities in northern New Jersey were partly flooded. Electric light plants had to close and schools and many houses were wrecked.

Storm Was Widespread.

Great damage was done in New York state. Two men were drowned at Garnersville by the carrying away of a bridge. At Big Hill, near Newburg, two men were killed by a landslide. Two others were drowned at Catskill, N. Y.

While railroads were generally able to run some trains in and out of New York, all suffered. One branch of the Erie was abandoned after fruitless attempts to get through a train. The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western road, the West Shore and the Susquehanna were blocked during a portion of the day. The New York Central and the New York, New Haven & Hartford trains ran irregularly.

Many persons were unable to get to their homes from this city. Those who arrived by ferry found difficulty in crossing the expanse of water that flowed through the streets along the river front. Ferry houses and railroad stations were crowded by those along the lines affected by the flood.

After stopping for some hours, the rain began to fall again after 11 o'clock tonight. It will probably continue tomorrow, as the storm center has remained almost stationary; but there is little probability of a continuance of the heavy downpour. From Tarrytown comes word that Pocohantio bridge, made famous by the tales of Washington Irving, was in danger of going down.

At Rutherford, N. J., a break in the dam supplying the McKenzie Bleaching Company with water for their works caused the flooding of the works and heavy damage. The tracks of the Erie railroad at Rutherford were under three feet of water and trains were stalled.

Central park suffered more than from any storm in years. Branches of trees were broken, sewers were stopped up, gullies formed between hills and great washouts were made in the paths and roadways. In some places holes five and six feet square were formed by whirlpools, while the sod was torn away.

The menagerie was flooded from three to four feet deep. When the keepers arrived they found the deer wading about in their enclosure, unable to reach solid ground. The camels, which are on higher ground, were shivering in the storm, but would not go under the shelter.

In the eagle cage one of the bald eagles was found drowned on the floor, while the others, drenched and forlorn, were clinging to the perches.

At Nyack, N. Y., a young man was drowned by being washed away by the flood crossing the road on which he was driving.

PATERSON ISOLATED BY GREAT DOWNPOUR

Thousands of Those Working in New York Unable to Get Home.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 9.—Cut entirely off from the world for hours this afternoon, Paterson saw the Passaic river rise until it lacked just nine inches of the height of the great flood of February. The isolation of the city was complete, all telephone and telegraph communication being entirely suspended for four hours.

Late tonight it was reported that the Greenwood lake dam bursted and an avalanche of water was sweeping down on Paterson. This is the largest lake in New Jersey and is 25 miles northeast of Paterson.

Not a train has arrived here since morning over any road except the Lackawanna, which managed to get a local through tonight. The Erie is out of communication entirely and trains are stalled on both sides of the city. There is not a trolley wheel turning in most parts of the city. On a few lines a car or two runs back and forth between flooded points. Of the thousands of commuters who left here this morning only a few have succeeded in getting back this evening. Probably the greatest damage will result at the Passaic steel works. The water poured into the fire rooms and all the fires were put out. Every furnace in the plant was running all the time and filled with molten metal. The putting out of the fires is causing the metal to solidify, and unless the fires are going by morning the steel will be hard and there will be nothing for it but to tear down the furnaces and be rebuilt. Water poured into the Rogers locomotive works, compelling it to shut down.

In the city the water stood 10 feet deep in the lower streets near the river, which for a time early this afternoon rose at the rate of one foot an hour. When the rain ceased the flood began to rush outside. The force along the river shut down this morning. It is feared that the walls of many have been dangerously undermined by the current. The abutments of the West Twenty-fifth street bridge were undermined and the whole structure collapsed.

At Little Falls, above the city, many bridges were swept away. A train on the Newark branch of the Erie road was wrecked today by a washout near Nutley. Two of the cars crashed against the abutments and many were more or less injured.

The loss in the city is impossible to estimate but it will run close to a million of dollars. Much will depend upon what condition the streets in the flooded district are. Soundings made by the street department indicate they are badly torn and washed. The state of foundations in the flooded districts is also unknown and will remain so until the water subsides.

An officer of the Passaic Steel works said that the loss already was $10,000 and might be $100,000 if the blasts were not going by morning, which seems impossible now.

BULGARIAN VILLAGE IS RAIDED BY TURKS

They Cross the Frontier, But Are Driven Back by Regular Troops.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

SOFIA, Oct. 9.—News has reached here of another incursion of Turkish troops into Bulgarian territory and a battle between them and the garrison of a Bulgarian block house near Karamanitza. It is said that a number of houses on Bulgarian soil were looted and destroyed by the Turks before they were driven back across the border.

The feeling here up to the receipt of this news has been more hopeful of peace, at least until spring. The reports that the Macedonian committee had expressed a willingness to cease hostilities until the powers had a chance to show what they could do in the way of forcing reforms from the Turkish government has been largely instrumental in bringing about this state of feeling, though there is little confidence that anything short of the expulsion of the Turk from Macedonia will give any real relief or result in any lasting reforms.

The news of the invasion of Bulgarian territory, however, has tended to reawaken the war feeling, and in the event of further invasions Bulgarian retaliation is a certainty.

PITTSBURGH MAN WILL NOT BE TRIED AGAIN

Case Against E. S. Murphy for Killing Sheepherder Nolle Prossed in Denver.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

DENVER, Oct. 9.—A nolle prosequi was entered today in the case against E. S. Murphy of Pittsburgh, whose third trial on a charge of having murdered Fritz Kassahn, a sheepherder in his employ, was to have come up at this term of court. The county commissioners refused to stand the expense of a third trial. The first two had nearly bankrupted the county.

Murphy came to Wyoming five years ago and accumulated quite a fortune in the sheep business. Kassahn and another herder assaulted Murphy's nephew and took possession of the camp wagon. A party of sheepmen surrounded the wagon and Kassahn was killed and the other herder wounded.

Murphy admitted being in the party but said Kassahn started the shooting. Murphy, made bankrupt in his defense in the two trials, is now in Pittsburgh, his former home.

MUCH DAMAGE BY FLOODS IN THE NORTH OF ENGLAND

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The heaviest rainfall of the year is causing enormous damage in the north of England. The roads are impassable, railroads are interrupted, bridges are down and the valleys of the Dee and of the Tweed are like inland seas. All kinds of animals and wreckage are floating seaward. Much outside work has been suspended.

Acquitted of a Murder Charge.

TOPEKA, KAN., Oct. 9.—Earl Neal and J. Peterson, the young men who were attendants at the state insane asylum and who were charged with the murder of A. B. L. Maxwell, one of the patients, were acquitted early today in the district court. The jury was out a little over 12 hours.

PROPHET'S GLORY WILL RIVAL KING SOLOMON'S

Dowie's Horses Better Provided for on New York Trip Than His Followers.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WAUKEGAN, ILL., Oct. 9.—John Alexander Dowie will travel to New York next week in one of the finest private cars maintained by any railroad, while his followers will have to content themselves for two nights in ordinary coaches. As Dowie's carriage is electric lighted and he drives one of the finest spans in the state, he expects to show the New Yorkers how "prophets" travel in style. His horses will go in a palace horsecar.

Dowie with his wife and son will occupy the private car of the Nickel Plate railroad's president.

A bad blow to Dowie just as he is about to leave for the east is the sudden disconnection from his church and legal department of Judge Webb, a prominent jurist from Tennessee who joined Zion a year ago. He was next to the head of the legal department and was to have taken a prominent part in New York.

LABOR UNION MERGER.

Window Glass Workers Arranging to Weld Factions Into One Body.

MARION, IND., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Window glass workers are now arranging for the amalgamation of the four trades in the window glass industry and for welding into one organization the two factions now existing. At a conference at Erie, Pa., of the wage committee and executive board of the Window Glass Workers' Association of America a declaration was made favoring one big union of the window glass trades.

Voting sheets were sent out from headquarters today to the locals throughout the country and in three weeks the sentiment of the organization will be known on amalgamation. John Phillips, Jr., president of the Window Glass Workers' Association of America, is here and will make a week's tour of the gas belt. He said tonight:

"I have come west to brand as a lie the story that members of our organization are working under private agreement with employers for less money than is called for by our scale. The scale of this organization is now operating in practically all the factories. It is true the independents have canceled our scale but we are ready to enforce its provisions at all hazards."

ONE STEAMER WAS SUNK NEAR MOUTH OF CANAL

DETROIT, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The steamer Glidden, laden with iron ore, was sunk near the mouth of the canal here this morning in a collision with the barge Magna. However, there is seaway enough between the wreck and the canal pier to permit the passage way of vessels and navigation will not be blocked.

AUTOS ARE SCATTERED FROM PINE HILL TO BATH

Terrible Condition of the Roads Makes It Almost Impossible for Machines to Run.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 9.—From Pine hill to Bath she strewn the 24 automobiles that are attempting the endurance race from New York to Pittsburgh. They should all have registered at Bath tonight, which is 106 miles from here.

Instead only seven of the cars were here at the starting time today, and these made a feeble effort to push on to Bath. The cars seem generally to be in fair shape, but the roads if anything, are in worse condition than they were yesterday.

Howard M. Davis and V. H. Gunderman, the 20th and 21st drivers in the automobile endurance contest to reach this city came in at 7 o'clock tonight.

Shortly after 6 o'clock a machine was towed into the city behind a farmer's wagon. Messrs. Gunderman and Davis expect to continue in the morning, hoping to reach Buffalo Sunday night and to continue for that city with the others. They report the conditions of the roads as growing worse.

TWO MEN ARE KILLED AND FIVE FATALLY HURT

Breaking of a Rope Causes Wreck of Coal Cars in Mine Near Johnstown.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The breaking of a rope in the Sunshine mine of the Sheaman Coal Company at South Fork this afternoon caused the death of two men and the serious, and perhaps fatal, injury of five others. A long train of cars was being hauled from the mine by an endless rope. The heading leading out of the mine is a steep grade and when near the top the rope parted.

The train started backward at a terrific speed. When the bottom was reached the foremost car left the track and the remaining cars piled up in a heap. When the trip started from the mine a number of men on their way home from work clambered aboard. Owing to the swift descent they were unable to get off and were buried in the wreckage at the bottom of the incline.

Irving Oakes and an unknown foreigner were killed, while five other foreigners were so badly injured that death will probably result. The injured were brought to this city and placed in the Memorial hospital.

Boy Blown Into Reservoir.

YORK, PA., Oct. 9.—Walter Royer, aged 12 years, met death in a singular manner today. With a companion he was standing at the top of the city reservoir during a wind storm, when he was swept into the basin by the wind and drowned.

SAYS MORGAN WAS IN DEAL

John W. Gates Answers Financier's Shipbuilding Statement.

HE SAW AGREEMENT

Was Signed by C. M. Schwab and Gave First Sale to Joint Holdings.

DETAILS OF THE CONTRACT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Oct. 9.—John W. Gates, whose name has been mentioned in the recent developments as to the underwriting of the United States Shipbuilding Company, was interviewed today. Referring to the contract that he says exists between his house and the house of J. P. Morgan & Co., Mr. Gates said:

"There is no question about the contract with Harris, Gates & Co. to sell the Morgan and Schwab shipbuilding stock ahead of all others. The contract was signed by Charles M. Schwab, for J. P. Morgan & Co., and C. M. Schwab; by Daniel Leroy Dresser for the Trust Company of the Republic, and by Lewis Nixon for the United States Shipbuilding Company. Morgan's name was not signed to the agreement. I presume that Mr. Dresser furnished the copy. I saw it personally, but had nothing to do with making it.

"I was one of the unfortunate underwriters. Under the terms of the contract the Morgan and Schwab stock was to be sold first, and it was further provided that the rest of the stock should be locked up in a vault and kept until the Morgan and Schwab stock was disposed of. They simply made an agreement to market the stock ahead of any other—if it had been possible to market it—but there was no market for the stock.

Gates Long, Not Short.

"Mr. Morgan acted, as I understand it, in this whole transaction, for the United States Steel Corporation, using the steel syndicate's money. I think Mr. Morgan will deny that there was such a deal. He claims that they were not the managers of the underwriting syndicate, which is correct; he doesn't say they were not directly or indirectly interested.

"I see it is reported that I was short of this shipbuilding stock. I never sold a share or stock or a bond. I would be very glad to, today at a considerable sacrifice. I consider the whole thing much ado about nothing."

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Evening Post today prints a copy of the agreement in the United States Shipbuilding underwriting mentioned on the witness stand by Daniel Leroy Dresser on Wednesday. Dresser, Lewis Nixon, Charles M. Schwab and Harris, Gates & Co. were parties to the agreement, but the name of J. P. Morgan & Co. was not signed to it.

According to the agreement the Trust Company of the Republic, D. LeRoy Dresser and Lewis Nixon were to acquire from the Shipbuilding Company 200,000 shares of its preferred stock and 250,000 shares of its common stock and of this 25,000 shares each of the common and preferred were to be delivered to J. P. Morgan & Co. and 25,000 shares of each were to go to Charles M. Schwab. "Such stocks having been issued to said Dresser and Nixon in part payment for the sale and transfer to said United States Shipbuilding Company of 200,000 shares of the capital stock of the Bethlehem Steel Company."

That Bethlehem Deal.

Of the remaining 100,000 shares of preferred and 150,000 shares of shipbuilding stock, it was set forth in the agreement, that the Trust Company of the Republic and Lewis Nixon, were to retain 53,000 shares of preferred and 125,000 shares of common for "a term not less than one year." The agreement set forth further that one of the considerations and inducements by which Nixon and Dresser secured the stock of the Bethlehem Steel Company, and the funds to pay for the same, was that 25,000 shares of the preferred stock and 25,000 shares of the common stock be delivered to J. P. Morgan & Co. It is then provided that the sale of the Morgan & Co. stock and the Schwab stock was to be managed by Harris, Gates & Co.

It is set forth that the Trust Company of the Republic guaranteed that no part of the company's stock except 15,000 shares of each kind to be distributed among the various vendors of property acquired by the Shipbuilding Company, should be sold until after the 25,000 shares of the preferred stock and the 25,000 shares of the common stock to be delivered to J. P. Morgan & Co. and the 75,000 shares of the preferred stock and 75,000 shares of the common stock to be delivered to Charles M. Schwab, should have been marketed, sold and disposed of.

According to the agreement as printed, Harris, Gates & Co. guaranteed to dispose first of the Morgan stock and then the Schwab stock at $65 for the preferred and $35 for the common or lower prices, if agreed upon, but it was further provided that of each 10,000 shares sold J. P. Morgan & Co. were to receive one-fourth of the proceeds and Charles M. Schwab three-fourths.

Mrs. Williams Was Acquitted.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—The jury late tonight returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Mrs. Emma Williams, whose trial for the murder of her two children has been in progress for the past four weeks. The woman was accused of administering arsenic to her little daughters in order to secure the insurance on their lives.

CZAR'S FORCES DEFYING JAPAN

Russia's Broken Pledges Mean a Challenge for War.

FEELING IS INTENSE

Manchuria Has Not Been Evacuated and Japanese Patience Is Exhausted.

SITUATION GROWING WORSE

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chefoo, China, Oct. 9.—The Russian fleet left Port Arthur yesterday with sealed orders. Its destination is supposed to be Korea. It is rumored that the Japanese are landing there.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Yokohama, Oct. 9.—The leading papers in voicing Japanese opinion today show unusually intense feeling on the far eastern situation. The Jiji of Tokio says:

"The patience of the people has reached the extreme limit. Though Japan only asks Russian fulfillment of treaty pledges, yet Russia is apparently challenging her to a contest."

The Asahi, also of Tokio, arguing on the same lines, points to the moderate Japanese attitude and the "long and serious provocation," but indicates Japanese desire to retain peace, while "Russia's attitude has been uniformly arbitrary and aggressive."

Both papers quoted consider that that makes the situation grew worse for Japan and they say Russia "must modify her attitude considerably if an amicable settlement is to be reached."

A sensational paper at Tokio published an announcement of the conclusion of a Russo-Japanese agreement, but the report is discredited. The Chinese-Japanese commercial treaty, so far as known here, is still unsigned. The chief officers of the naval stations have been holding conferences since yesterday.

Individual Japanese have been applying for permission to subscribe to a war fund; but the Japanese authorities have persistently refused to accept subscriptions.

NEWCHWANG, MANCHURIA, Oct. 9.—The Russians are taking no steps to restore the government of Newchwang to the Chinese. On the contrary they are hastening the erection of extensive government buildings and have added another gunboat to the naval force here. Reports from Northern Manchuria indicate that no movement has been made towards the evacuation of that territory and Russian officials are discussing the permanent occupation of the points they hold as being the settled policy. The Russian viceroy, Admiral Alexieff, has been conducting joint naval and military maneuvers on a great scale in the vicinity of Port Arthur this week. Ninety Russian war vessels of all classes were engaged.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—(Special Cable.)—Despite the evasions and denials of officials, both Japanese and British, the situation in Korean waters is critical and many at any time develop into war. The latest news from the far east is to the effect that China has appealed to Japan to force the evacuation of Manchuria by Russia and that Japan is ready to undertake the task, if she can be certain of the active co-operation of Great Britain in case such action brings on war.

BERLIN, Oct. 9.—(Special Cable.)—A letter from St. Petersburg states that it is well known in official circles that Russia has decided not to give up one square foot of land to Asia. Not only will she not vacate Manchuria but it is even said to be the intention of the government to induce over 1,000,000 Russians peasants to colonize the Amur country and the northern part of Manchuria to form a living wall against China which is more effective than the famous Chinese wall.

TWO CONDEMNED FELONS GAIN THEIR LIBERTY

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Oct. 9.—As a result of a partly successful attempt at wholesale delivery of prisoners at the Utah state penitentiary today, one prisoner was killed, one guard was shot and wounded, another man was beaten almost into insensibility, three prisoners were wounded and two others under death sentences escaped. A posse of prison guards, with several bloodhounds was promptly started on the trail of the two convicts.

ANOTHER HONOR FOR MILLIONAIRE GUARDSMAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—First Lieutenant Cornelius Vanderbilt, Company D, Twelfth regiment, who not long ago was promoted to his present grade, has received an additional honor by being appointed addecamp on the staff of Gen. Odell. Lieutenant Vanderbilt was elected in the Twelfth Regiment as a second lieutenant in Company G, September 28, 1901. He was elected first lieutenant and passed his examination in February last, and was taken ill with typhoid fever a few days later.

PITTSBURGH WOMAN REPORTS ON MISSIONARIES

READING, PA., Oct. 9.—The annual meeting of the Philadelphia branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church adjourned here this afternoon. Mrs. A. M. Wood of Pittsburgh, treasurer of the missionary box committee, reported that during the year 75 boxes had been sent to missionaries abroad. They ranged in value from $150 to $75 each.

UNKNOWN JUMPED OFF THE BRIDGE

Stranger Was Sucked Down into the Dark Waters of the Allegheny River.

WHISKY KILLED LITTLE GIRL

Drank a Pint of Liquor and Died in Four Hours—Port Vue Man Struck by a Train—Fatal Fall Downstairs in Allegheny.

An unknown man, about 35 years of age, jumped from the Sixth street bridge into the Allegheny river shortly after 3 o'clock last night, and floated under Patterson's coal fleet, where it is supposed he was drowned. The act was deliberate suicide and was seen by a number of persons passing. It was reported to the police by Charles H. Taylor of No. 421 Arch street, Allegheny, and Bridge Officer John B. Smith. Smith says the man came from Allegheny and stopped for a moment to pay toll. He was well-dressed and gave no indication of being excited. About 50 feet from the end of the bridge he climbed on the rail and jumped off. He arose to the surface for a moment, but made no outcry, and was almost immediately drawn under Patterson's coal barges by the swift current. The man was of medium height and wore a brown suit and light hat. The body had not been recovered up till midnight.

In a childish frolic Mahala Stang, 4 years old, of Castle Shannon, drank a pint of whisky last night and died from the effects of it four hours afterward. Mahala was playing with a companion in the bed room and found the bottle in a drawer. She drank the contents while her companion looked on. The girl's heart was affected and she became unconscious. Dr. R. E. Poole worked four hours with the girl but was unable to revive her.

Deputy Coroner John Black made an investigation yesterday into the death of Stanislaw Yonakowski of No. 827 Mulberry street, Allegheny, who died Tuesday. It was reported that the man had fallen off a step and died of a fractured skull. An examination showed death was caused by pneumonia.

Samuel Porter, aged 45 years, a driver for a Port Vue grocer, was struck by a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad train yesterday morning and died upon being taken to the McKeesport hospital.

Edward Hogan dropped dead on Thursday night while at work in the steel hoop mill of Glassport. He was 50 years of age and lived in Elizabeth.

Michael Catshor, a coal miner in the Banner mine at Shire Oaks, was killed yesterday by a fall of slate.

Sidney Kolkowsky died at his boarding house at No. 827 Mulberry street, Allegheny, from heart failure several days ago, when he fell down a stairway. He was 50 years of age.

PRESIDENT CASSATT VIEWED LOCAL WORK

Head of the P. R. R. Looked Over Costly Brilliant Cut-Off and Scully Improvements.

Along the full length of the new Brilliant cut-off President Cassatt and about 20 directors and officers of the Pennsylvania drove yesterday morning. The important and costly work which was ordered to be started soon after the visit of Mr. Cassatt here a year ago was inspected with all care. Upon completing the inspection of this line the party of officials returned to their private train and were taken to Scully station, near Carnegie, where the big new Panhandle yards at the junction with the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Youghiogheny are being built. The party then went east, passing over the Panhandle, the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston and the Port Perry branch, to the main line at Irwin.

The journey over the main line was made with average speed. The points at which will be spent the $12,000,000 appropriated for the Pittsburgh division work of next year were pointed out and the new Portage railroad was also seen, the train being sent over that cut-off instead of the old line. The party reached Altoona shortly before 5 p. m., and there visited the big new classification yards and the Juniata shops. The night was spent at Altoona. The trip will be completed today, the president and directors reaching Philadelphia about noon.

TODAY'S ORGAN RECITALS.

Allegheny's 600th Will Be Made Noteworthy This Afternoon by Several Special Numbers.

The free organ recital to be given in the Allegheny Carnegie music hall this afternoon by City Organist H. P. Ecker, will be the 600th Mr. Ecker has given in that hall, and a special program has been prepared containing a number of compositions especially written for the occasion, and Mr. Ecker will be assisted by Mrs. Emma Porter Mackinson, soprano; George A. Taylor, concert tenor from London, England; Leon Prevost, cornet virtuoso, and Adolf Rosen, the well-known violinist. Prof. John A. Brashear, chancellor of the Western university, will make an address. The recital will commence at 2:45 p. m.

The 607th and 608th in the series of free organ recitals at the Pittsburgh Carnegie music hall, will be given this evening and tomorrow afternoon by City Organist E. H. Lemare. The program for this evening includes several numbers made familiar at these recitals including the "Lohengrin" prelude and the Dvorak "Carneval" overture—the last named in its organ dress being a veritable poem in tone colors.

BRECK FACTION HAS ITS INNINGS

Fourteenth Ward Citizens' Party Muddle Was Not Clarified Last Night.

ONLY ONE SIDE WAS EXAMINED

Committee on Contests, L. S. Levin, Chairman, Did Questioning—Breckites Hurl Back Charges Made by Mooreites. Latter to Be Heard on Monday.

Just how peace is to be brought about between the two factions of the Citizens party in the Fourteenth ward was not very evident last night after the meeting at which the Breck faction presented testimony to show that its district delegates are the ones properly elected. The testimony was exactly the opposite of that which the Moore faction, to which Councilman W. H. Stevenson belongs, will offer on Monday night. As the Breck faction is the one popularly supposed to be favored by Thomas S. Bigelow, the Moore people have not much hope of gaining a favorable decision, but Assistant City Solicitor L. S. Levin, who as chairman of the committee on contests, conducted the hearing, announced that the committee's decision would be given strictly according to the evidence.

The quarrel between the two factions began even before the election at which William B. Hays was elected mayor, but broke out shortly after the election. W. J. Moore, as ward chairman, called primary meetings to elect district committeemen. This was toward the end of May. About the time these meetings were to be held James W. Clark, secretary of the county committee, issued a call for primary meetings to be held on June 2.

Moore Faction Was Cautious.

Mr. Moore's call was hearkened to by most of the 14 districts and district committeemen, but on the date set by Clark meetings were held in all the districts, the Moore faction deciding not to insist that Moore's call was legal. A meeting of the ward committee was then called for by Chairman Moore, and Councilman William H. Stevenson presided over it. A committee on credentials was appointed, but although the committee made up a roll of the ward committeemen who should be entitled to vote for a new ward chairman, the report was not adopted and the meeting broke up in confusion. The Breck faction, then called the Booth-Negley-Lauer faction, held a meeting and elected a ward chairman, who later gave way to Capt. E. V. Breck. Each claims the chairmanship, as does Moore, and to decide their conflicting claims the committee on contests of the county committee decided to hold hearings and make up a membership roll of the ward committee.

To keep the two factions out of each other's hair the committee decided to hear each separately, and the Breckites had their chance last night. The hearing was held in the Citizens party rooms, quarters in Oakland, the committee on contests being L. S. Levin, chairman; John Costello and J. I. McDonough.

Contentions of Moore Faction.

The Mooreites are in the position of contestants, because Murry A. Verner, chairman of the Citizens party county committee, recognized the Breck faction, and the contests they have brought are in the Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eleventh and Fourteenth districts of the ward. The Moore people charged that the district committeemen alleged by the Breckites to have been elected were, many of them, members of the Democratic district, ward, county or city committees, that the primary meetings at which they were elected were not regular, were not presided over by the proper officers and were not held at the appointed polling places.

The method adopted at last night's hearing was to call upon the Breck committeemen. They stepped forward and all denied that they are now or were at the time of their election officials of the Democratic organization, and they all asserted that their meetings were regular. The committeemen from the district of which George W. Curran, Mooreite, claims to be the regularly elected chairman, asserted that Curran had called their meeting, put his head in at the door, and finding that his election would be defeated, went away, got together a few of his followers and held a meeting in his own house.

Son Opposed to Father.

A young man named Lewis, a Breck committeeman, testified that the meeting at which he was elected was regular and the one at which his father, Ben Lewis, was elected by the Moore faction was irregular.

When the testimony, which, of course, was not sworn to, was all in, Chairman Levin announced that he would hear the Moore faction on Monday night in the school house. W. G. Negley of the Breck side asked for an opportunity to offer more witnesses, and Mr. Levin said:

"We want to permit a full and free hearing, but this thing cannot be allowed to drag along. This committee intends to make out a roll of the committee of this ward next week, and then you can fight it out among yourselves and elect a ward chairman."

After the meeting Mr. Levin said that although the two factions were fighting among themselves they were both loyal to the Citizens ticket.

MUST HAVE SANCTION.

Miners Are Opposed to Strikes Without Permission of Executive Council.

SCRANTON, PA., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The executive board of District No. 1, United Mine Workers, in session today, adopted resolutions declaring against any organization affiliated with the American Federation of Labor going on strike without the sanction of the executive council of the federation, which shall also have the power to raise by levy upon all affiliated bodies sufficient funds for the conduct and support of such strikes.

The resolution is to be presented to the next convention of the Federation at New Orleans in November for indorsement.

CANTON GETS CONVENTION OF OHIO FEDERATION

FINDLAY, O., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—After a rather stormy session of four days the Ohio Federation of Labor adjourned this afternoon. Canton secured the convention for next year. Following is the list of officers elected: President, Conrad Beck of Cleveland; vice presidents, J. A. Robinson, Canton; O. F. Rabbe, Toledo; Edward A. Grier, Findlay; secretary, Michael Goldsmith, Cleveland; treasurer, Christopher McConnell, East Liverpool; delegate to the American Federation of Labor, Frank Poplowski, Cleveland.

NINE MEN ARE CHARGED WITH CAUSING CHURCH RIOT

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Nine more arrests were made today as a result of the riot Sunday at the Oakland Polish church, when a number of Poles attacked the Rev. B. Fowlowski. He was forced to call Sheriff Brown to suppress the trouble and protect him from personal violence. The accused men will be given a hearing next Monday, while warrants are yet out for the arrest of others in the same affair.

New Fraternal Insurance Order.

Application for a charter for "The American Life and Annuity Society of Pittsburgh," will be made October 31 by John J. Fletcher, John E. Haines, H. E. Gilmore, W. LaRue Thomas and Benjamin N. McLain of Pittsburgh. The new society will be a fraternal insurance order.

Constable's Home Blown Up.

JOPLIN, MO., Oct. 9.—The home of Foster McConnell, a constable, who had made enemies among the rough element, was wrecked by dynamite early today. Mr. McConnell's two little children were hurt but the other members of the family escaped injuries.

CITIZENS WANT AID OF VETERANS

Trying to Force Old Soldiers Into Line by Threats of Dismissal.

SIGNIFICANT LETTER IS READ

Aged Warrior Tells His Comrades of Methods Used to Compel Him to Attend Political Meetings—Relies Upon the Secrecy of the Ballot.

The efforts of the Citizens party of Allegheny to draw into its ranks the old soldiers of the North Side are proving as fardeal as was the meeting of veterans held at Kenyon hall on Thursday night. At that time an organization of old soldiers was formed, at which Col. William Cowell was elected chairman; Thomas Dunlap, vice chairman, and W. H. McCune, secretary.

There was no roll call or enlistment of any members aside from the officers. Col. Cowell is employed in the water department of the city, McCune is in the health bureau and Dunlap works in the city treasurer's office. Conrad Schmidt, who made the principal address at the meeting, is a street sweeper. This organization got its orders from Chairman R. H. Jackson of the Citizens party to go to work among the veterans of the North Side and to see to it that there was a large number of them at the meeting in Carnegie hall tonight. This they have to do or forfeit their positions.

An evidence of their loyalty to the Bigelow machine was given last night at a meeting of the War Veterans' association, at their headquarters in Diamond street. A letter from one of these at the Citizens meeting Thursday night was read to about 100 old soldiers. The missive was very plain and the writer told that because he had a city position he was compelled to be present at the meeting and to show some apparent interest.

"You know my heart and vote will be in the right place," the writer said. "I have a city position and cannot afford to be idle. They would certainly let me go if they knew I wrote this letter, so do not let my name be made public. Thank God, the ballot is secret, and I, like many another G. A. R. man will show his loyalty to his comrades on election day."

It was asserted at the headquarters of the veterans' association last night that the Citizens party old soldier organization is nothing but a bluff and that the party leaders know as well as anyone that it will be in no way effective. The purpose of the organization, it is said, had for its object the gathering together of as large a number of old soldiers as possible to attend in a body the Citizens meeting at Carnegie hall tonight. The three who were elected officers of the little organization Thursday night realize that they can do nothing toward getting votes for the Bigelow machine, and it is pretty generally known that they will not try to.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR PEOPLE CELEBRATE

The Allegheny County Society Reaches Its Fifteenth Milestone—Officers Installed.

The 15th anniversary of the Allegheny County Christian Endeavor society was celebrated last night by a rally in Bellefield Presbyterian church, Bellefield and Fifth avenues. The principal feature was the installation of the newly elected officers of the society, selected at the September meeting.

John L. Moore, the retiring president, acted as chairman of the meeting, which was opened by devotional services conducted by the Rev. H. C. Keller of the Aspinwall Lutheran church. The installation service was in charge of the Rev. J. C. Broomfield of the Fourth Methodist Protestant church, Pittsburgh, who, with brief remarks introduced each of the new officers.

The incoming officers are: President, C. L. Steiner; vice president, William McColvin; corresponding secretary, Miss Margaret G. King; recording secretary, Miss Winnie Ward; treasurer, Harry W. Keller; junior superintendent, Mrs. C. P. Wiles; intermediate superintendent, Miss Ida B. Cook.

President-elect Steiner made an address in which he reviewed the work done by the society during the past year and the outlook for the future. A stereopticon lecture on "Christian Endeavor Around the World" was delivered by George B. Graff of Boston, business manager of the United Christian societies.

QUAKER CITY DRENCHED.

Heavy Downpour in Philadelphia for Over Thirty-Six Hours.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—The heavy rainstorm which set in Thursday morning continues tonight. During the last 36 hours three and one-tenth inches of rain have fallen. The storm is accompanied by a high wind, which reached a maximum of 36 miles an hour this afternoon. Beyond the flooding of a few streets caused by choked sewers, no damage has been done in this city or vicinity. The Delaware and Schuylkill rivers are above normal, but nowhere near the danger point. At Atlantic City, N. J., four inches of rain fell between 8 a. m. and 8 p. m. today.

GLASS WORKERS TO MERGE.

Burns Faction Makes Proposition to Consolidate With Denny Organization.

The executive committee of the Simon Burns faction of the window glass workers, has made a proposition to the Denny faction. The object of Burns is to get both organizations together to settle upon a wage scale. Burns recommends that both unions consolidate.

Both organizations had their wage scale agreed upon, but not signed. An advance was promised, providing they would keep the scales from any manufacturer until the stock now in the hands of the manufacturers had been sold. The Denny faction entered into the same agreement, but the rank and file would not abide by it and started to work for independent concerns. This action caused the three large companies to withdraw the agreement. The effort of Burns is to get the Denny organization to sign an agreement which will put both organizations in a good condition and to insure good wages.

Organist Hall Re-elected.

Walter E. Hall, organist of Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, has been re-elected for the third term as organist of the Carnegie music hall, Braddock. He will also fill his second year at the Homestead music hall, where fortnightly concerts will be given. Mr. Hall is organizing a chorus which will be heard at several entertainments in the Monongahela valley this winter.

Ship and Part of Crew Lost.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—A dispatch to Lloyds from An-Ping, Formosa, says that the American ship, Benjamin Sewall, and her cargo have been totally lost at the Pescadores. Only 12 of the persons on board the vessel, including the captain, were saved. The Benjamin Sewall, Capt. Halstead, was last reported at Singapore on June 13. She hailed from Boston, Mass., and was owned by A. M. Sewall.

Only two more Saturdays at the EXPO. after this one. Everybody, of course, will be out tonight at the closing concerts of the brilliant VESSELLA and the famous PARK SISTERS.

WAS PUT BEHIND THE BARS FOR STEALING AN EMPTY POCKET BOOK

George A. Lynn of East Pittsburgh was sent to jail last night by Alderman McGovern on a charge of larceny from the person made by D. W. Kearney. Lynn was riding in a West End street car. Kearney was sitting by his side with a large bulky pocketbook sticking out of his coat pocket. At Main and West Carson streets Lynn snatched the pocketbook and dashed out of the car. Kearney took after him. Both men rushed out West Carson street, and a crowd of 40 men and boys took up the chase.

Constable M. P. Johnson was in the next car and noticing the excitement got off. He, too, joined in the pursuit and captured Lynn. When the pocketbook was opened at the alderman's office there was nothing in it.

"You only stole an empty pocketbook," said Kearney to the prisoner.

"Now that was hard luck," replied Lynn regretfully.

ENGLAND MUCH PLEASED BY ANGLO-FRENCH TREATY

Agreement Will Not Affect Great Britain's Attitude in Manchurian Affair.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Anglo-French treaty of arbitration is expected to be signed by Foreign Minister Lansdowne and Ambassador Cambon at the end of next week. Lord Lansdowne is at present away from London, but will return during the middle of the week and it is hoped that a few days thereafter the details now wanting to complete the treaty will have been arranged and the full draft will be ready for signature.

A great deal of satisfaction is expressed in official circles at the success which has attended the negotiations. The news came as a complete surprise to the foreign embassies here. The opinion there expressed is that the Anglo-French arbitration treaty will not affect the previously concluded treaties, such as the Anglo-Japanese treaty, which provides that under certain conditions Great Britain will be obliged to support Japan in the far east.

The treaty will not positively bind the two powers to arbitrate all questions arising, but provides generally that whenever possible disputes shall be settled on this pacific manner either by their submission to The Hague arbitration court, or their reference to a special tribunal. In the event of the latter being chosen it shall be composed of a member selected by each power and of a third arbitrator, to be chosen by another power, to be mutually designated by the disputants.

It is acknowledged on all sides that King Edward's influence has largely contributed to the success of the negotiations for the arbitration treaty.

VETERANS TAKE FIELD.

Fifty-Fourth Pennsylvania Infantry and Ringgold Cavalry Receive Marching Orders.

Ringgold cavalry and the Fifty-fourth Pennsylvania Infantry have been ordered into action. The following is a copy of an order issued yesterday, directing the movements of this famous command:

I have reliable information that McNeil's rangers and Ashby's cavalry are at Winchester, Va., and are supplied with provisions for a long siege. In order to capture the entire outfit, companies A and B, under command of John W. Elwood, Adam Wickerham and William Worcester, will leave Pittsburgh October 14 as an advance guard and scouts, via Cumberland and Romney, W. Va., gathering all stragglers on the march. At Romney put out pickets on the Winchester road and scout the entire country until October 20, and then move to Winchester, Va., arriving in the enemy's rear in the early morning of October 21. I will advance at the same time with the balance of the Ringgold battalion and the Fifty-fourth Pennsylvania infantry. By this disposition and movement of troops we except to capture the entire command and commissary stores.

ANDREW J. GREENFIELD, Colonel Commanding.
LOUIS ARTHUR, Acting Adjutant.

STEEL MILLS RESUME.

President Shaffer Advised Peace Measures at Canal Dover Plant.

CANAL DOVER, O., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, was in New Philadelphia this morning and advised peace measures in an open meeting. The mills started this morning under union rules.

CANTON, O., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—President Shaffer of the Amalgamated association came here this afternoon to confer on the troubles at the Stark rolling mill. President J. A. Campbell and Secretary J. H. Nutt of the Independent Iron Manufacturers, and Secretary Bishop of the state board of arbitration are also here. None will say nothing except that a conference is expected tomorrow and that an amicable settlement is hoped for.

FOUND IT WAS SMALLPOX.

Dr. Batt Exhumed Another Body and Thereby Traced Several Cases.

Dr. Wilmer R. Batt, state quarantine officer-at-large, yesterday exhumed the body of David Johnson, a negro who died two weeks ago presumably of pneumonia, and who was buried in Chartiers cemetery. Dr. Batt found the man died of hemorrahgic smallpox and that several other persons were infected from this case. The physician who attended him diagnosed the case as pneumonia and permitted a public funeral, at which many persons were present.

A few days after Johnson died his infant daughter developed smallpox and died a few days ago. The man was prepared for burial by a funeral director of Carnegie and the man who assisted in preparing the body also took the disease and is at present under quarantine. Dr. Batt traced several other recently developed cases of smallpox to the negro who was thought to have had pneumonia.

STIFF PUNISHMENT FOR UNSUCCESSFUL SUICIDE

An attempt at suicide is always a punishable offense in Magistrate J. H. Vitchestain's court in the South side police station. Yesterday he ordered Adolph Hundermart of No. 1021 School street, who had jumped into the Monongahela river at South Thirteenth street, to pay a fine of $25 or to serve 30 days in the workhouse.

THIRTY-FOUR ENLISTED MEN WIN THEIR SHOULDER STRAPS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—It was announced at the war department today that 34 enlisted men recently examined at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., for appointment as second lieutenants in the army, successfully met all the requirements and will shortly be commissioned and that eight of them will probably be assigned to the infantry arm.

Yesterday's Smallpox Record.

Jacob T. Pollard, a colored man 38 years old, died of smallpox at the Municipal hospital yesterday, after an illness of 10 days. His home was at 518 Grant street. New cases of the disease reported yesterday were: Daniel Langon of 6 Vera street; Mrs. Lizzie Reynolds, 5408 Penn avenue; Carrie Moore, rear of 2624 Wylie avenue; Henry Howard, 1010 Bedford avenue; Walter Chambers, 38 Carrie street; Edward Black, 6800 Butler street; John Hopkins, 44 Washington avenue, Thirty-eighth ward, and Charles Whittman, 3107 Penn avenue.

Rewarded for Killing King.

BELGRADE, SERVIA, Oct. 9.—Col. Alexander Machin, the former minister of public works, who took a prominent part in the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga, has been appointed to the command of the Belgrade and Danube division of the army.

New Fourth Class Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The following fourth class postmasters for Pennsylvania were appointed today: Aroma, Westmoreland county, Daniel R. Kimmel; Roosevelt, Luzerne county, Adam F. Gregory.

GEN. PAYNE ACCEPTS TWO RESIGNATIONS

Henry A. Castle and G. A. C. Christiancy Leave Service of the Government.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Two developments at the postoffice department today were the resignation of Henry A. Castle as auditor of the interior, and the acceptance and the acceptance of the resignation of G. A. C. Christiancy as assistant attorney general for the department.

Mr. Castle's name has been mentioned in charges made by Seymour P. Tulloch, formerly cashier of the Washington, D. C., postoffice, in connection with irregularities which came to his notice while in that office. These charges have been recently investigated by Charles J. Bonaparte of Baltimore, as special attorney for the government. The acceptance of Mr. Castle's resignation indicates that the charges of Mr. Tulloch are not considered sufficiently grave for further action, but that Mr. Castle's retirement is permitted for the good of the service.

Mr. Christiancy also receives a certificate of good character with the acceptance of his resignation. Assistant Attorney General Robb today reported the result of his investigation of Christiancy's official conduct in these words:

"The investigation being completed, I now have the honor to advise you that, in my judgment, no evidence has been adduced impugning the honesty of Mr. Christiancy and that, therefore, there is no good reason why his resignation should not be accepted."

MAHONING FURNACES PREPARING FOR WORK

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—While some furnaces in the Mahoning valley are preparing to bank in order to curtail the output of pig iron, others are preparing for operation. These are in the United States Steel Corporation, and include No. 4 stack in the Ohio group, now in process of construction. This stack will be finished in February and will be started at once. No. 2 stack, which is being relined, will be finished the latter part of this month, and at once be put in operation. The stack of the Youngstown Steel Company will be blown out within a short time for relining. The Hazelton stack of the Republic Iron & Steel Company will blow out next week. Extensive repairs will be made.

Indiana Lawyer Kills Himself.

BEDFORD, IND., Oct. 9.—E. K. Dye, one of the best known lawyers in Southern Indiana, shot and killed himself this morning. The family thinks he was temporarily deranged by ill health.

Extra Session for French Chambers.

PARIS, Oct. 9. — President Loubet signed a decree, during a meeting of the council of ministers, this morning, convening an extraordinary session of the chamber for October 20.

Scrofula

It is commonly inherited.

Few are entirely free from it.

Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of ten, and many adults suffer from it.

Common indications are bunches in the neck, abscesses, cutaneous eruptions, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, rickets, catarrh, wasting, and general debility.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Eradicate it, positively and absolutely. This statement is based on the thousands of permanent cures these medicines have wrought.

"My daughter had scrofula, with eleven sores on her neck and about her ears. Hood's Sarsaparilla was highly recommended and she took it and was cured. She is now in good health." MRS. J. H. JONES, Parker City, Ind.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

GEN. PAYNE ACCEPTS TWO RESIGNATIONS

Henry A. Castle and G. A. C. Christiancy Leave Service of the Government.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Two developments at the postoffice department today were the resignation of Henry A. Castle as auditor of the interior, and the acceptance and the acceptance of the resignation of G. A. C. Christiancy as assistant attorney general for the department.

Mr. Castle's name has been mentioned in charges made by Seymour P. Tulloch, formerly cashier of the Washington, D. C., postoffice, in connection with irregularities which came to his notice while in that office. These charges have been recently investigated by Charles J. Bonaparte of Baltimore, as special attorney for the government. The acceptance of Mr. Castle's resignation indicates that the charges of Mr. Tulloch are not considered sufficiently grave for further action, but that Mr. Castle's retirement is permitted for the good of the service.

Mr. Christiancy also receives a certificate of good character with the acceptance of his resignation. Assistant Attorney General Robb today reported the result of his investigation of Christiancy's official conduct in these words:

"The investigation being completed, I now have the honor to advise you that, in my judgment, no evidence has been adduced impugning the honesty of Mr. Christiancy and that, therefore, there is no good reason why his resignation should not be accepted."

MAHONING FURNACES PREPARING FOR WORK

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—While some furnaces in the Mahoning valley are preparing to bank in order to curtail the output of pig iron, others are preparing for operation. These are in the United States Steel Corporation, and include No. 4 stack in the Ohio group, now in process of construction. This stack will be finished in February and will be started at once. No. 2 stack, which is being relined, will be finished the latter part of this month, and at once be put in operation. The stack of the Youngstown Steel Company will be blown out within a short time for relining. The Hazelton stack of the Republic Iron & Steel Company will blow out next week. Extensive repairs will be made.

Indiana Lawyer Kills Himself.

BEDFORD, IND., Oct. 9.—E. K. Dye, one of the best known lawyers in Southern Indiana, shot and killed himself this morning. The family thinks he was temporarily deranged by ill health.

Extra Session for French Chambers.

PARIS, Oct. 9. — President Loubet signed a decree, during a meeting of the council of ministers, this morning, convening an extraordinary session of the chamber for October 20.

Scrofula

It is commonly inherited.

Few are entirely free from it,

Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of ten, and many adults suffer from it.

Common indications are bunches in the neck, abscesses, cutaneous eruptions, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, rickets, catarrh, wasting, and general debility.

Eradicate it, positively and absolutely. This statement is based on the thousands of permanent cures these medicines have wrought.

"My daughter had scrofula, with eleven sores on her neck and about her ears. Hood's Sarsaparilla was highly recommended and she took it and was cured. She is now in good health." MRS. J. H. JONES, Parker City, Ind.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

RITCHIE HOOTED DURING SPEECH

His Free Trade Argument Not Well Received by His Audience in London.

CHEERED FOR CHAMBERLAIN

Former British Chancellor of the Exchequer Declares Against the "New Mysterious Policy Which is Ravaging the Country Like an Epidemic."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Mr. Ritchie, member of parliament for Croydon, and until recently chancellor of the exchequer, delivered a speech this evening on free trade and the reasons for his resignation before 4,000 persons at Croydon town hall. A large Liberal element was present. The reception of Mr. Ritchie was decidedly unharmonious, consisting of cheers, hoots and counter-cheers for Joseph Chamberlain.

Mr. Ritchie said that if anyone expected to hear a denunciation on his part of his late cabinet colleagues he was happy to disappoint them. He believed Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain were actuated by the highest motives. Mr. Chamberlain's administration of the colonial office had been the most successful of the present generation.

The speaker later precipitated a scene of disorder by declaring that Mr. Chamberlain had been inconsistent, because he upheld free trade while president of the board of trade and protection while colonial secretary.

Mr. Ritchie said that as chancellor of the exchequer he could not consent to a commercial revolution and an overturning of the policy of his conservative predecessors on the strength of the arguments of Mr. Chamberlain. "Where strong point always was his ability to present any scheme he championed in the most favorable light."

The former chancellor of the exchequer felt convinced that the present preferential proposals were merely an entering wedge, "which would ultimately land the country in the same position as Germany, where food taxes had driven the workingmen to socialism."

Continuing, Mr. Ritchie said that one of the personal questions to be considered was the attitude of the United States. This country must guard against giving the United States any cause for resentment which would result in her punishing Canada. The above statement resulted in fresh disorder on the part of the audience and the singing of "Rule Britannia."

Mr. Ritchie concluded with a statement to the effect that he opposed with all his strength the "new, mysterious policy which was ravaging the country like an epidemic." The speaker resumed his seat amid scenes of disorder, and until recently a vote of thanks was ultimately carried amid boisterous shouts and hooting.

The new cabinet ministers have assumed their duties, the seals of office having been exchanged in a privy council meeting held by King Edward at Buckingham palace this morning. All the retiring officials and their successors were present, with the exception of the duke of Devonshire, the late lord president of the council, and Mr. Arnold-Forster, the new war secretary. The latter was indisposed and the former was subsequently received in private audience by the king.

Victor Cavendish, nephew and heir of the duke of Devonshire, has been appointed financial secretary to the treasury. Earl Percy, under secretary for India, eldest son of the duke of Northumberland, has been appointed under secretary for foreign affairs.

BISHOP FOWLER ADVISES YOUNG MINISTERS TO MARRY

SIOUX CITY, IA., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—"Get married, and marry women with common sense," is the advice which Bishop Fowler of the Methodist church gave young ministers just entering the ministry at the Northwest Iowa conference in session in this city. "Never marry a woman," said the bishop, "just because she is pious. Choose the woman with common sense because she can get along religion within two hours after she marries you."

Director Bigelow Amends an Ordinance So as to Favor Street Railways.

MAY KEEP UP THEIR POLES

Telegraph and Telephone Companies Stopped from Erecting Any More Overhead Wires—Ordinance Alleged to Be Invalid—Favoritism Charged.

Strong favoritism to the street railway monopoly was shown yesterday by the Citizens party leaders in the amendment of an ordinance prohibiting electrical companies from erecting poles and overhead wires on the streets of the city. At the suggestion of Director E. M. Bigelow the joint finance committee of councils amended the ordinance to exempt the street car monopoly, and in this shape the committee approved the ordinance and sent it to councils with an affirmative recommendation. As the ordinance was originally drawn it applied alike to street car companies, telegraph, telephone and electric light companies.

As it stands no prohibition is placed upon street car companies and they can proceed to put up poles and wires wherever they please. The other electrical companies which occupy the streets, claim the discrimination made by Director Bigelow and the public works committee is not only unjust but illegal.

J. G. Splane, president of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company, declared the ordinance was invalid and said that the city could not permit one electrical company to put up poles and wires and to prohibit others from doing the same thing.

The ordinance declares that all poles and wires hereafter erected to be a public nuisance and that the company shall forfeit not more than $100 nor less than $50 for each day that a pole erected hereafter, shall be left standing. Furthermore, the director of public works is authorized to remove such poles.

Ordinance of 1895 Still In Force.

The ordinance does not affect the ordinance of 1895, which requires that the poles and wires on the seven main thoroughfares of the city shall be buried. The ordinance gave the electrical companies eight years to do this, and the time limit expired last May, but there are still many poles and wires on these thoroughfares. Director Bigelow sent out a notice to the electrical companies about September 1, giving them 30 days in which to remove their wires, but the order was rescinded by Mayor William B. Hays after the Western Union company retaliated by giving the city notice to take the police and fire alarm wires off the company's poles within the same time.

Another wire ordinance, which requires the electrical companies to bury their wires on all the streets of the city within five years, was up before the public works committee yesterday, but action on it was postponed at the request of Director Bigelow, who said it would have to be amended. He said a provision would also have to be inserted in this ordinance exempting the street car companies because they could not bury their trolley wires without changing the system of operating cars.

It was decided to appoint a special committee to submit the measure to the city solicitor and Director Bigelow to be revised. Director Bigelow gave to Daniel F. Crawford of the Fourteenth ward the amendment exempting the street car companies and Councilman Crawford presented it. W. H. Beehner of the Twenty-third ward wanted to know why favoritism was being shown the street car companies, and Councilman Crawford claimed that there was no device by which the trac on car companies could put their trolley wires underground.

Wanted Rich Privilege.

"I know better," asserted Councilman Beehner. "The street car companies in the eastern cities have their trolley wires underground and there is no reason why the same cannot be done in this city."

Notwithstanding Mr. Beehner's objections, the amendment went through.

Two Citizens reformers caused a scene in the committee by advocating the passage of ordinances granting to private individuals the privilege of placing waste paper boxes on the sidewalks bearing advertisements, the chairman of the committee stating that he knew a man who was willing to give $20,000 for the privilege.

Charles S. Crawford was sponsor for one of the ordinances, which was to give this valuable grant to William C. Hamilton, with the promise that the city should receive five per cent of the gross receipts from the sale of the waste paper and from the receipts of the advertisements. Daniel F. Crawford wanted the ordinance, granting the same right to the Frank Brown Company passed.

Chairman B. H. Douglas' statement that the privilege was worth $20,000 to the man who would receive it and Director Bigelow's opposition on account of the adoption of the "salamanders," were instrumental in killing the ordinances. C. S. Crawford had the ordinances withdrawn from the sub-committee to which they had been referred. P. J. Barry, chairman of the sub-committee, opposed the ordinances, claiming that it was only a "big advertising scheme," and that the boxes would only be an obstruction on the sidewalks. The committee finally decided to send both measures to councils with a negative recommendation.

SPOILED A JUNKET.

Nurses Will Not Hold Their Next Convention in St. Louis.

A surprise was sprung yesterday at the closing session of the convention of the American Society of Superintendents of Training Schools for Nurses when Washington, D. C., and not St. Louis was selected as the meeting place for the next annual convention. The nurses will hold their convention in Washington in January, 1905. This decision will interfere with the plans of those who had expected to visit the next world's fair in a body and to share in the entertainment to be provided for the delegates of the various organization which will throng the exposition city.

Papers were read at yesterday's meeting by Frank Miles Day, a Philadelphia architect, who is acknowledged as an authority in the construction of hospitals; Isabel Meisaac of Chicago and Miss Sylvia M. Palmer of Rochester, N. Y. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Miss Georgia M. Nevins, Garfield hospital, Washington, D. C.; first vice president, Miss Ida F. Giles, Homeopathic hospital, this city, and ex-president of the body; second vice president, Miss Jennie Cottle, Minnequa hospital, Pueblo, Col.; secretary, Miss Adelaide Nutting, Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, Md.; treasurer, Miss Anna L. Alline, Teachers' college, Columbia university, New York; councilors, Miss Sophia F. Palmer of the Journal of Nursing, Rochester, N. Y., and Miss Isabel McIsaacs of the Illinois Training school, Chicago.

IN MEMORY OF CAPT. W. P. HERBERT

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon a memorial minute was passed upon the death of Capt. W. P. Herbert. A delegation from the board will attend the funeral at Bellevue in a body today. Capt. Herbert was one of the vice presidents of the chamber of commerce.

REVOLT GROWING STILL GREATER

Secretary of the Democratic City Committee of McKeesport Bolts Fusion Ticket.

WILL VOTE FOR REPUBLICANS

Upheavals in the Twenty-First Ward. Feeling Over Slating a Successor to City Assessor Barr—Fourteenth District Workers Renounce Citizens Party.

The ill-assorted union between the Citizens party and the Democrats has filled another Democrat with disgust. D. J. Driscoll, secretary of the Democratic city committee of McKeesport, has announced that he will support the Republican county ticket at this election. In the same hour in which Mr. Driscoll said this, Thomas B. Alcorn, Democratic county chairman, promised that there would be lots of cutting of the Citizens-Democratic ticket.

It has been currently believed that the Citizens leaders intended to trade votes to insure the election of their candidates for district attorney and sheriff, even if they thereby caused the defeat of the candidate for prothonotary, Alderman J. A. Fletchner, a Democrat. Evidently the Democrats, as foreshadowed by Chairman Alcorn, intend to retaliate.

In telling his reasons yesterday for supporting the Republican candidates, Mr. Driscoll said: "I am not the only Democrat who is going to give his support and vote to the Republicans. I think it is about time the people should rebuke the Citizens party for breaking its pledges and deceiving the people under the cloak of reform.

Used as a Tool.

"Most of us went into the Citizens movement with the honest purpose of securing reform, and the result is that we have simply aided a set of politicians to secure the offices and the Democratic party has been made a tool in the interests of a few men. It will require heroic efforts to regain the ground the Democratic party has lost. I will support the Democratic state ticket, of course."

John Lawley of the Twenty-first ward is slated to be city assessor, to succeed Daniel O. Barr, deceased. There are at least six aspirants for the place. James A. Clark, Democratic city chairman, will have the naming of Mr. Barr's successor and he is for Lawley.

At the meeting of the Citizens organization of the Twenty-first ward this evening, the representatives of the Fourteenth district will present a paper charging the Citizens party with having failed to keep any of its pledges and asserting that the administration of the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny is disgraceful. The paper was drawn up at a meeting held Wednesday evening, and bears the signature of about 50 former Citizens workers.

"Good-Bye, Charlie."

Under the charges made against the Citizens party are the words: "Good-bye Charlie, we must leave you." This refers to Charles Finley, one of E. M. Bigelow's most trusted lieutenants.

The meeting was attended by about 25 members of the Citizens party, and there was apparently no objection to the action taken. J. B. Miller presided. J. B. Wasson, a grocer, and Mr. Swearingen announced their intention of resigning from the ward executive committee at this evening's meeting.

The Republican ward association of the Twentieth ward will open its headquarters tonight. The rooms are in Penn avenue, near Shady avenue. Informal speeches will be made. Dr. E. R. Walters, ward chairman, will have charge of the headquarters, and will spend a good deal of time there day and night.

The headquarters of the Twenty-first ward Republicans have been opened at No. 271 Frankstown avenue. They will be kept open throughout the day and late at night. All men who intend to vote the Republican ticket are welcome at any time, regardless of their past political affiliations.

Colored Voters Interested.

Colored Republicans of Braddock and the neighborhood are taking a deep interest in the present campaign. At a meeting held in the Republican headquarters in Braddock last evening addresses were made by N. T. Velar, president of the Afro-American Association of Allegheny county; the Rev. Mr. Mackey, the Hon. H. M. Scott, and the Hon. F. W. Edwards. The meeting passed resolutions pledging to support the county ticket and indorsing President Roosevelt.

Republican meetings have so far been arranged as follows: On Thursday next, at White's opera house, McKeesport; on Saturday next, at Old City hall; on Tuesday, October 27, in the new fire engine house at Whittaker; on Thursday, October 29, in Carnegie music hall, Braddock; on Saturday, October 31, at Old City hall, and on Monday, November 2, in White's opera house, McKeesport.

Six Months' Run in Sight.

Officials of the American Steel and Wire Company deny that the company's plants at Braddock and Rankin are to shut down because of an over production of stock. Both mills are running double turn and have many orders, and the expectation is that the plants will be kept in operation constantly for the next six months.

OVER-STUDY.

Children Don't Break Down When Fed Right.

It is often the case that when children break down at school it is attributed to over-study, when it is really only a case of improper feeding.

This can easily be overcome by a little care in the selection of food and drink. "Since childhood I have been a coffee drinker, and about a year ago I became so nervous and run down that I was compelled to leave school and give up studying altogether.

"Everyone thought my ill-health was due to over-study, but during several months of rest my condition did not improve, but instead I grew worse. Medicines failed to help me and I was sick and miserable all the time. One day a friend, while discussing my condition, advised me to leave off coffee and try Postum. It was not long before I began to gain strength, for Postum began to build me up almost immediately.

"In less than three months from the time I left off coffee and used Postum I was back again at my studies and was soon studying harder than ever before, and yet I felt and looked fresh and strong in spite of the hard work. There can be no doubt in the world that all this improvement was due to leaving off coffee and drinking Postum in its place.

"My married sister, hearing what Postum did for me, thought she would try it, but in making it she did not follow directions and got a weak and characterless drink, from which she and her family turned in disappointment. It was shortly after this I visited her and made Postum as directed on the package, which is easy enough, and all were so delighted they said they liked it better than coffee. Since then Postum has held a high place in my sister's household, and her health is very much better since she left off coffee and began Postum.

"A schoolmate of mine whose complexion was very sallow and muddy saw what Postum did for me and decided to drink it in place of coffee, and it was but a short time until she began to gain strength and her complexion lost its sallow hue. Now she says she will never drink any more coffee, but will stick to Postum."

This young lady also tells of numerous other relatives and friends whose health, appearance and weight have been very much benefited by leaving off coffee and drinking Postum, the food drink. All names given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Look in each package for a copy of the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

RAILROAD BILLS WILL BE HELD UP

Citizens Party Managers Prevent Meeting of Select Council Corporations Committee.

ORPHANS DROP DEMANDS

They Will Not Insist Upon Passage of Baltimore & Ohio and Duquesne Way Measures—Rump Committees Are Safe.

In spite of the assurances of the Citizens party leaders that they will comply with the demands of the "orphans" and pass the Baltimore & Ohio and the Pennsylvania railroad ordinances, as well as the linear tax ordinance, absolutely no move in this direction is being made. No meeting of the corporations committee of select council, which has possession of the railroad ordinances, has been called, and none will be held before the meeting of select council Monday afternoon, which will be the last before the election.

The Citizens party managers have promised to pass the linear tax ordinance in select council Monday afternoon, but they claim they can do nothing more than that, and the "orphans" are said to have withdrawn their demands for the passage of the railroad measures and to be content with the bogus one-year franchise bill. To get the franchise bill before select council Monday afternoon a meeting of the finance committee of the upper branch will be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon. It is expected that the ordinance will be affirmatively recommended by the committee.

Mayor William B. Hays was asked yesterday afternoon if the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinance, over which there is no dispute, would be passed by councils before the election.

"I do not know; we cannot do everything at once," replied the mayor.

"Is there any necessity for delay in passing the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance? Is it not all right?" the mayor was asked.

"I guess it is all right, but it takes time to get these things through councils. We will pass the linear tax ordinance first and then we can take up other matters," said the mayor.

"Will there be a quorum of select council Monday?"

"I am sure there will be."

"Will there be another meeting of councils after Monday next and before election?" was the next query put to the mayor.

"I could not say as to that," he answered.

Mayor Hays then went on to make the time-worn excuse that there were some "doubtful" Citizens members in select council and that this element made any prediction worthless.

The members of select council combine claim to have received positive assurances from the Citizens party leaders that no sincere effort shall be made to abolish the select council committees, despite the demands of the "orphans" to this effect.

No move will be made Monday to either abolish the "rump" committees, which have been holding up important legislation, at the connivance of the Citizens party managers, nor will an effort be made to enact any railroad legislation. Despite their publicly-signed statement that they would lend no aid to the Citizens party until the linear tax and the railroad ordinances were passed, several "orphans" who signed this pledge last Monday night have already declared themselves in favor of the Citizens ticket.

Two Workmen Injured.

Charles Shultz, aged 22, of East Pittsburgh, employed at the Westinghouse Electrical and Manufacturing Company's plant, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon by falling from a high scaffold. Jacob Roschy, aged 30 years, a Russian, employed at the Westinghouse airbrake plant, Wilmerding, was seriously scalded with boiling oil yesterday morning.

Bustling Fifth avenue will pour its MIGHTY crowds into the NEW EXPOSITION buildings tonight for the farewell appearance of VESSELLA and the PARK SISTERS.

SALE OF HOMESTEAD'S WATER WORKS OPPOSED

Citizens in Mass Meeting Charge That Politics Has Had Too Much Play.

The citizens of Homestead held a mass meeting last evening and protested against the proposition to sell the Homestead borough water works to a private corporation. Three members of councils' water committee were present, T. W. Morgan, H. E. Johns and John F. Hill. They stated that the plant was not making expenses and had not been doing so for the past five or six years.

The procedure which made this result possible was bitterly assailed by the citizens, who believe that politics is responsible for the failure. Resolutions were passed opposing the sale of the plant, notwithstanding the unfavorable reports as to its condition. A committee was appointed to audit the accounts for the citizens at large and report at a subsequent meeting, showing just what had been lost or made by the municipal plant during the 12 years of its existence.

The committee is composed of Harry L. Baker, Charles Goeddell, James Wright, Thomas L. Davis and Adolph Doerr. The next meeting of citizens is set for Tuesday evening, November 3.

JOSEPH HORNE CO.

Weather—Cloudy. Saturday, October 10, 1903.

We do not know but that we owe the Managers of the Exposition a vote of thanks for extending the time for closing so much later than in former years, and we daresay out-of-town people are of the same mind. Thousands of people have been here this week to hear Vessella and his famous Italian band, and today will bring in thousands more. Many of these excursionists found this store an attractive place. Today's excursionists are cordially invited to see our attractions. Of course we are referring to dress and ornamentation for both men and women, boys and girls. By the way, something of great interest, not only to out-of-town women, but to our home women as well, are the lectures and demonstrations of Prof. Takahashi, from Tokyo, Japan, on that enthusiastic feminine subject, Art Needlework. In the Restaurant, sixth floor, 9 to 11 this morning, 3 to 5 this afternoon. Free.

The Queen Quality Shoe a Synonym for Perfect Fit.

The very first requisite of a shoe is that it shall fit the foot with absolute accuracy. Closely but not tightly. No waste space, yet no pressure.

The Queen Quality Shoe is made to fit the foot. It fits it just as a Paris-made glove fits the hand. Have you ever noticed that no other shoe dealer talks much about fit? They talk about "style" and "beauty" and "form" and other things that mean nothing. But they say little about fit. They don't dare to.

Queen Quality fits because it is of entirely different construction, which, by the way, adds many dollars to the weekly payroll of the manufacturers. But the shoes fit perfectly!

50 styles of Autumn and Winter Boots, $3.00. A number of special styles 50c extra. Fast color eyelets do not wear brassy.

Women's Shoes Other Than Queen Quality.

Many women will not wear a shoe under $5.00 or $6.00, simply because they will not understand that shoes of seemingly fine grade can be very poor both in fit and workmanship. But in our fine shoes women have absolute guarantee of perfection. The shoes are made to our special order by one of the most noted shoemakers in the country; the leathers are specially selected; the workmen who build the shoes are gifted with rare skill; each shoe is made by hand. Thus, in buying finest shoes of us, women have the satisfaction of wearing the best-made shoe for prices a great deal below what such handsome shoes usually sell for. An example or two—

Women's Calf Boots, stout soles, hand made, splendid winter boots, button or lace, $5.00.

Women's Dongola Kidskin Shoes, light hand-turned sole, military heel, button or lace, $5.00.

Women's Shoes of dull kidskin or patent ideal kid, light soles, Louis XV. heel, button or lace, $6.00.

Women's Patent Ideal Kid Shoes, light turn sole, Cuban heel, a very stylish last, $5.50.

Shoes for Boys and Girls.

Particular attention given to youthful shoes, more attention given to the absolute necessity of perfect fit. We can overlook once in a while an ill-fitting shoe on full grown feet, but when it comes to putting the wrong shoe on a growing foot we must register our disapproval. Growing feet are often ruined for life by shoes that don't fit. We have every style of Autumn and Winter Shoes for boys and girls, and they are fine shoes in every way.

Prices begin at $1.25 for sizes in the quite youthful age and run along up to $3.50 for shoes for boys and girls who are about ready to step over the line into womanhood and manhood.

Women's Newest Neckwear.

Women's daintiest neckwear we might say with equal truth. Variety is the watchword—variety greater than ever before. Because never before did Fashion sanction such widely different creations for the purpose of neck garniture—Lace Stocks, Taffeta Stocks, fancy Collars, Stoles, collar and cuff sets, seemingly without end. Fastidious indeed must be the woman who cannot find here just what she is looking for. Individuality the keynote—fashionable, yet apparently designed for you alone. See for yourself.

Stocks—Different Materials.

Of Lace in stole effect; need not tell you they're fashionable. $2.00 and $2.25.

Taffeta and Crepe de Chine Stocks. Made of fagotting, with pleated tabs in front—decidedly chic—$2.25 and $2.50 each.

Stocks of cream lace with pleated jabot—correct with the waist of silk. $2.00 and $3.00.

"The Christy Stocks"—the very newest—made of taffeta with stitched yoke and large soft bow in front. $1.75 each.

New Arabian Stocks lined with Taffeta in beautiful colorings and white. $1.75 and up to $3.00 each.

White mull and embroidery Stocks with pleated tabs—medallions of lace appliqued on stock—come in colors and white. $3.00.

Another attractive number is a stock of white taffeta trimmed with Valenciennes lace—very modish—$4.50.

Washable stocks—a new assortment just arrived—embroidery is the material employed. 75c to $1.50.

Collar and Cuff Sets.

Hand-embroidered mull collars with cuffs to match. 50c to $5.00 a set.

Soft canvas sets, consisting of Collar and Cuffs—embroidered in colors—$3.00.

Plain Mull Bands with Cuffs to match—very neat and inexpensive—25c the set.

Irish Lace sets—an unusually handsome line—$6.00 to $12.00.

Stoles—Fabric and Feather.

Chiffon and Liberty Silk have been used with pleasing effect. $4.50 to $40.00.

Stoles of the always popular Ostrich feathers—$22.00 to $125.00.

Marabout feather Stoles with Muffs to match—just over from Paris—$25.00 and up to $50.00 the set.

Boas of Marabout feathers from $8.00 to $25.00. Right here we want to tell you that Marabout promises to be the fashionable Stole of the season.

Men's and Boys' Sweaters.

Strictly all-wool worsted yarn used in all our Sweaters except those for Boys at $1.00 each. Sweaters that keep their shape, will not pull or draw, fast colors.

Men's Sweaters, white, navy, gray, $3.00 and $4.00 each.

Boys' Sweaters, navy, with red stripes, and vice versa, $1.00.

Boys' Sweaters of all worsted, navy with white stripes, with red stripes, with orange stripes and red with white stripes, at $2.00.

Boys' Sweaters, navy and white, navy and orange, black and red, for $2.25.

Curtain Stretchers.

This is a delicate subject. What woman has not had some experience with "Curtain Stretchers"? We have had ours, and only last month a new one was placed on the market. We immediately sent for a sample. It is the best we ever saw—as nearly perfect as you will ever find. The price is the same as the imperfect ones. $2.50.

Gas Heaters.

The Housefurnishing Department, Basement, is well ready to meet all demands for Gas Heaters. These heaters are a great convenience, are inexpensive. It is not desirable to turn on the furnace when cool weather first makes its appearance, and that is the time when the Gas Heater plays well its part.

The best on the market is the NEW METHOD, or the Old Monarch improved. It's much stronger than formerly. Then again it's better looking. As a heat giver it is unexcelled. Prices are very reasonable—varying according to size, $1.75 each and up.

THE YALE BATHROOM HEATER—Every person knows the good points of this round heater—it stands 16 inches high—our special price..... $1

Many other household essentials in this Housefurnishing Department; in fact, thousands of them, among which we take for special mention—

OSTRICH FEATHER DUSTERS—a good, useful article, needed every hour of the day. We have four qualities, all from the ostrich, the finest coming from beneath the wing. We had the manufacturer pick those without a stub on so we could have a plano duster, so soft that it is hard to believe they are feathers. To see them is to admire. $1.25.

BRIC-A-BRAC DUSTERS, white feathers tipped with brown, also from under the wing—don't scratch, various sizes, 65c each up to $1.25.

PARLOR DUSTERS, made of black feathers taken from the wing, used for pictures, carriages, etc. $1.25 to $2.50.

COMMON DUSTERS, for everyday work, made from feathers that the ostrich has cast off in his racing across the wilds of Africa. Prices on these especially low this season. 10c and up to 75c.

Three Demonstrations in the Basement.

In the Housefurnishing Department. Don't matter if you're in a hurry. The few minutes you spend here will prove time well spent. All demonstrations of interesting "helps" to reduce the labor of housekeeping. All of paramount interest to the housewife.

How to Make Bread in 3 Minutes.

Every forenoon at 11 o'clock we verify our statement—hands never touch the dough. The moment you've seen it you begin to wonder how you ever existed without it.

The New Block Light.

The demonstration of the famous Block Light will also interest you—300-candle power to every light. Cuts your gas bills into half and penetrates into every corner of the room.

The Kap Top Broom.

Some call it a broom wonder—a radical change from the old style. Can be washed in hot or cold water. If you want to use a disinfectant there is a place to put it where percolation will take place gradually. It's the newest—it's the best—it's the cheapest, quality considered.

25c to 40c each.

When quarantine guards are found during the small hours of the night perambulating through dwellings located a square or two from the domiciles they are set to watch, the public is likely to wonder why quarantine guards are employed. Assuredly such night prowling does not contribute to the protection of the public health, but is more apt to spread infection. And the public cannot be blamed for agreeing with the citizen who had one of the guards arrested for entering his residence, that a fine of $15 and the loss of his police badge is a very slight punishment for the offense. However, the citizen and the public cannot be expected to know how many votes the derelict guard may be able to control or influence.

At Binghamton one-half of the automobiles which had started in the endurance run to Pittsburgh had dropped out. They encountered bad roads. The rains had made the highways muddy and it was found a difficult matter to keep the machines on the track at curves. The pulling up hill was hard. The remainder of the course should prove a little better, but the prospect is that few of the motor cars will survive for the triumphal entry into this city next Thursday. The endurance run is likely to prove the lack of endurance of the motor car for long runs in bad weather. As instruments of pleasure they are all right for those who can afford them, but the mass of people will continue to do their long-distance riding on railroad trains.

According to the news printed by a Democratic-Citizens party organ there will be no attempt to abolish the rump committees of select council. Those committees are too useful to the "air-tight combine" to be lightly surrendered, and as they serve to diffuse responsibility to some extent the proprietors of the Democratic-Citizens party are not anxious to make a fight against them. Nevertheless, the words of Councilman W. H. Stevenson, he of the Orphans, are as true as when uttered. If the Citizens party managers were sincere in their expressed desire for reforms they would at once abolish the rump committees. It is evident they are not sincere, and everybody in town knows it, with the possible exception of the Orphans' organization.

One of the most commendable acts of the St Louis world's fair management is its effort to assure comfortable hotel accommodations for visitors at reasonable rates. It has completed a canvass of the city which has resulted in the following statistics: Established hotels have capacity for 21,000 guests and have been supplemented during the year with accommodations for 47 000 more; temporary hotels, 30,000; respectable rooming houses, over 15,000; private houses, nearly 18,000. This computation gives a total capacity of 130,000 persons at rates ranging from $1 a day to $4. Nearly all of these places are bound by agreement to not exceed their regular rates. To make this canvass has entailed much work and some expense, but it promises to bear fruit for those who intend visiting the exposition.

While there are positive assurances from the proprietors of the Democratic-Citizens party of a meeting of select council on Monday and of the adoption of the linear license tax measure in its uncertain form, there is no prospect for a release of the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances demanded by the "orphans" or the Duquesne way franchises. The bosses have apparently concluded that one measure will satisfy the orphans and their adherents and that it is in such form that it will not hurt their friends, the corporations. Meantime, to make more certain their friendly disposition in that direction, the wire ordinances have been amended to exempt the street railways, which will probably operate to exempt all of the others by rendering the whole ordinance unconstitutional. The policy is simply one of hold-up and evasion.

With a zeal worthy of a better cause, the Cleveland Plain Dealer tries to defend Tom Johnsonism by telling its readers that Pittsburgh is unable to sell bonds. Careful reading discloses the fact that the Plain Dealer has reference to the $550,000 road bonds offered by the county commissioners, which at 3½ per cent have not proven an attractive investment to people who are getting 4 per cent and more for their money. The credit of Allegheny county is as good as that of Pittsburgh, though our Cleveland cotemporary is not warranted in assuming them to be the same, not even to support a political argument. Pittsburgh is at present not well governed, though it has no Tom Johnson for mayor, but even so, the fact has no bearing upon the sale of Allegheny county bonds at a rate of interest below prevailing rates for money.

The Gazette has received a letter from the president of the local Women's Christian Temperance union concerning the criticisms of text-books at the late convention of the Pennsylvania Medical society at York. The criticisms were contained in the report of the text-books committee, and they denounced the school books on physiology and hygiene, especially those indorsed by the W. C. T. U. In the executive council that report was tabled by a vote of 35 to 5 and a new committee was appointed to inquire into the subject. The letter says this action was very much appreciated by the W. C. T. U., which resents reports of the convention intimating that the doctors of the state were wholly opposed to the union's methods. This is an old controversy not likely soon to be settled. Temperance is a good thing, but many worthy persons doubt the wisdom of specific teaching in the physiology textbooks of the public schools.

Revolt Extraordinary.

It was but natural that self-respecting Republicans should desert the Democratic-Citizens party on its record of unredeemed pledges and its condition as a personally owned chattel. But that is not all of the revolt. A material part of the Democracy is unable to countenance the perfidy of the organization which, after a year and a half in office, has not redeemed one of its solemn pledges. The secretary of the Democratic city committee of McKeesport is the latest spokesman for the element in revolt, and he speaks decisively.

A few weeks ago W. S. Guffey made it clear that he was done with the proprietary mixture. He declared his intention to not accept an appointment on the finance committee and his purpose to let the proprietors of the Democratic-Citizens organization paddle their own canoe or drift. Between these two prominent party men there are thousands of inconspicuous Democratic voters who have reason to be of the same mind.

As for the revolt that has been going on in the ward and district organizations, the public has been fully informed. There has never been anything to equal it in the political history of Allegheny county. It is disorganization personified. Of course, the Democratic-Citizens party proprietors have command of the payroll, and the orders—which are also in violation of their campaign pledges—indicate they are using it to the fullest extent. But it is hardly thinkable that the payroll can overcome the almost unanimous public resentment against the nullification alike of reform pledges and the previous efficiency of city departments.

No Need for Apprehension.

It is surprising, indeed, to find a journal like the Philadelphia Bulletin opposing the call of an extraordinary session of congress by the president to meet on November 9. The Bulletin declares that "extra sessions are only justified when a crisis or emergency is to be dealt with, or when some question demanding immediate attention has suddenly sprung up in the interval between regular sessions," and that "there is no condition of national affairs which requires any action that cannot be just as well taken up and considered in December as in November. Whatever legislation the country needs today or is likely to get," says the Bulletin, "can be enacted as effectively for all practical purposes after December 7 as after November 9. Mr. Roosevelt ought to reconsider his determination. To get congress together only a few weeks ahead of the regular time when the 'long' session is to be held is not worth the vague sense of alarm or uneasiness which a proclamation for an extra one generally tends to produce in the country at large."

Surely the Bulletin is not ignorant of the necessity for the extra session of congress. The national faith has been pledged to Cuba and the extra session is called to redeem that pledge. It might have been redeemed at the last session of congress, but the senate was dilatory and the president was compelled to call that body in executive session after the 4th of March last to act on the Cuban and Panama treaties. The senate then took such action as made sanction of the Cuban treaty by the house of representatives necessary. To prevent amendment or rejection of the treaty by the congress of Cuba and the reopening thus of the whole subject, President Roosevelt promised the Cuban government that the American congress would be called in extraordinary session not later than November to take the necessary final action on the treaty. This has been explained many times, and we cannot think that the Bulletin is in ignorance of the facts. There is but one purpose in summoning congress. There will be but one item of legislation before it. There is nothing to give rise to any "vague sense of alarm or uneasiness," for the matter is well understood by the people. Doubtless, if there was constitutional authority for it, the president would summon only the house, the senate having already acted, but while the senate may be convened in executive session without assembling the house, the house cannot be convened separately. We do not think, however, that the country feels any such apprehension as the Bulletin expresses with regard to the extra session. In fact, we believe that the country as a whole approves it, knowing the purpose for which it is called.

The War Cloud.

Europe has no eyes for any place but the far east and no ears for anything but the news of that quarter. Possibly some of the correspondents magnify the dangers of the situation, but at the least the conditions appear critical. It is explained that the Russian squadron of 90 vessels of all kinds is simply maneuvering, but it is noted the ships are painted in war colors and the fleet includes colliers and troop transports. It will be remembered in this country that while Germany and Great Britain maintained the blockade of Venezuela our own squadrons maneuvered in the Caribbean sea, and while Admiral Dewey had no thought of war, he was still prepared to act on a moment's notice. Russia appears in this case to have selected for its naval maneuvers a time and place most convenient for real work if such should become necessary.

Negotiations continue at the mikado's seat of government, which it is conceded may end in a peaceful settlement of the oriental status or in a disagreement. The Japanese are a quick-tempered people, and the nation is in a state of military preparedness. Russia, too, is always ready to fight, so that if a decision is reached that war is inevitable there will be no waiting for a formal declaration. The fact that Admiral Alexieff, in command in the far east, has recently been given vice regal powers is an element of danger, for the admiral belongs to the extreme war party in Russia and is in position to act without waiting for orders from St. Petersburg.

As for the evacuation of Manchuria, Europe has about reached the conclusion arrived at in these columns months ago. Russia will not evacuate. It has added the Chinese province to its domain for all practical purposes, and there it will remain. The nominal Chinese title may be continued indefinitely, though in some respects it would be preferable to have that fiction abandoned.

The Business Situation.

The most important event of the week was the action of the United States Steel directors in relation to the dividend on the common stock. The influence of the event did not lie so much in the fact that the rate of dividend was cut in two, as in the statement of the considerations governing the action. The unfilled orders on hand were reported at 3,728,742 tons, a decrease of 1,114,265 tons as compared with the corresponding date last year. As one of the directors is quoted as saying, "this is an abnormal slump." Although evidence has been accumulating of a general slowing down of business it did not have the same effect as this formal acknowledgment by the Steel Corporation.

This abnormal decrease in iron and steel tonnage is easily accounted for. In the first place it should be recalled that last year there was an extraordinary rush of orders to anticipate the delay of freight blockades, which everybody foresaw would result from a resumption of anthracite coal mining. There was also an eagerness to anticipate still higher premiums on some kinds of iron and steel, which reached famine prices and stimulated heavy importations. This was the condition of affairs with which comparison must now be made. It was abnormal, and if it could be forgotten and comparison made with normal years, present conditions would be regarded as fairly satisfactory. In the second place the high premiums which promptly delivered material commanded last fall no doubt had something to do with influencing labor to demand higher wages. At all events these demands were made. The enhanced cost of material and labor and the harassing strikes which prevailed throughout the spring and summer had the inevitable result of checking building operations.

The thing that has now happened is a reversal of the relative positions of the producer and the consumer of labor and products. The buyer is now dictating terms, and until these terms become satisfactory he will pursue a hand-to-mouth policy. However, no one believes that improvements will cease, or that projected plans will be permanently abandoned.

One thing that is responsible for the tone of depression that is beginning to pervade business circles is the continued decline in the stock market. Low prices and absence of demand for investment securities have prevented corporations from raising the capital required for betterments and extensions. The shrinkage in values has also curtailed the borrowing power of business men, who now carry their surplus in the shape of stocks and bonds. The reduction of the steel dividend reduces the buying power of the holders of the stock to the extent of $10,000,000 a year, quite an item of itself. A turn in the stock market, which it would seem cannot be much longer deferred, would have a widespread beneficial effect, not alone upon legitimate business, but upon public sentiment, which plays an important part in the prosaic affairs of life.

The business situation as a whole, however, is by no means as gloomy as would appear from a survey of the stock market. The farther one gets away from the latter the brighter the picture. Today the government will issue its final crop report for the season, and it is now certain that the total yield will be up to the average. The season has been backward and thus far the movement of grain to market has been slow. Greater progress was made in this direction during the week, and with a freer movement of breadstuffs to Europe there is certain to be an easier tendency in domestic monetary conditions, which will mark the beginning of better things in the stock market and a revival in industrial circles.

The judgment of the umpire that the Eighth Ohio lost largely in the number of killed in one of the recent offensive movements in the mimic warfare in Kentucky is fresh evidence of the disposition of Ohio men to rush the firing line. Probably the boys thought that there were some good consular appointments and treasury soft snaps in the possession of the enemy.

Representative Burton's prospective inspection of the Ohio river is for the professed purpose of ascertaining its needs, but previous experience inspires the fear that it is probably designed for the purpose of finding out how much money the stream can get along without.

Confidence of the Pittsburgh sporting editors in the pennant winners isn't at the boiling point just now, of course, but it is nevertheless worth any man's life to tell them that the pennant won't be brought in triumph to Pittsburgh next season.

France and Great Britain have agreed to arbitrate their future difficulties, but it isn't expected that any of the French and English gun stores and cartridge factories will go out of business immediately in consequence.

Since the soldiers' orphans' commission has decided to keep politics on the outside, the Franklin county Republican committee will have more time to devote to an increase of the Republican majority.

Previous sentiment that Boston culture is not what it used to be has been revised by careful inspection of the scores of the last two ball games in this city.

The trouble with the United States Shipbuilding Company seems to have been that the craft was carrying too large a cargo of paper.

The weather man played a low down trick with the thermometer yesterday.

You can't keep a good thing down unless it is dealt in on Wall street.

It was too cold yesterday at the ball park for even baseball fans.

The eastern war cloud has its dark side out.

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

Bishop J. S. Foley of Detroit, Mich., will be 70 years old on November 5, and the citizens are planning a public reception.

Col. A. A. Pope has founded a church without any sectarianism in Cohasset, Mass., in memory of his son. All are welcome to worship in the church, Pagan or Christian, Jew or Gentile.

The memory of Charcot, founder of the School of Hypnotism in Paris, has been perpetuated by the chisel of his wife. The statue just erected at Lemolon-les-Bains is her work, done during his life, and is highly esteemed as a piece of portraiture.

The citizens of Greensburg, Ky., have started a campaign for subscriptions to a fund for the purpose of erecting a monument over the grave of Moses Aiken, the "moonshiner preacher," and the most eccentric pulpit orator the state of Kentucky and possibly the United States has ever had.

Samuel H. Marks, who died at his home in Petersburg, Va., recently, at the age of 95, had several claims to distinction. He was the oldest white resident of Petersburg, and one of the oldest Odd Fellows in the United States. In 1824, when Lafayette visited Petersburg, Mr. Marks was in line with other citizens to do honor to him, and in 1831 he took the field with the old Petersburg Dragoons to suppress Nat Turner's rebellion.

Placing the Blame.

As our commerce with Cuba dwindles and the folly of our failure to accept the trade concessions offered us by the Cuban republic becomes more glaring, there seems to be a disposition in some quarters to throw the blame for our neglected opportunities on the shoulders of a Republican administration and a Republican congress. We have not hesitated to denounce the blindness and narrowness of the factionalism at whose door must be laid the failure of Cuban reciprocity legislation in the Fifty-seventh congress. The groundless fears and obstinate objections of certain Republican leaders in the two houses did contribute materially to hold our ports closed against Cuban products. But an equal share of responsibility for the defeat of the administration's reciprocity project must fall on Democratic shoulders. It was the Democratic minority in both house and senate which by votes and counsel made effective the protest of the Republican "insurgents." The full Democratic strength in both branches was exerted to nullify the "moral pledges of McKinley" and to defeat a reciprocal trade agreement of any sort with Cuba.—New York Tribune.

Warning to Americans.

Whatever may be the result in Great Britain of this departure from a traditional policy, it can hardly fail to have the effect of making Americans adhere all the more closely to the economic principle under which the great manufacturing industries of this country have been built up. It may be too late to save British industries and the export trade of that country by the adoption of a protective tariff, but Americans will be warned to shun the dangers toward which the adoption of a free trade policy would impel them.—Denver Republican.

Uniform Divorce Law.

The enactment of a uniform divorce law by congress might reduce the number of separations, and in this way promote a greatly needed reform. But it is probable that congress could not pass such legislation without an amendment of the constitution. Laws alone, however stringent, will not check the evil. The churches must co-operate with our statesmen if greater reverence for the sanctity of marriage is to be created among those classes in which divorces are most frequent.—Baltimore Sun.

A Brief Interpretation.

A mad bull broke loose in Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, Monday, creating a panic among 3,000 men, women, children and soldiers, causing the police and the patrol to be called out, and making it necessary for the discussion of Pittsburgh politics to be suspended for 40 minutes.—Uniontown News-Standard.

The Race Issue.

The one party in the country which will be hit always and under all circumstances by the sectional issue is the Democracy. If the Democratic leaders be insane enough to project the negro issue into politics in 1904, the Republicans will have no cause to complain.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Republican Responsibility.

The Republican party admits that, controlling the administration, it is charged with probing the postal scandals and doing its utmost to punish the guilty. It does not plead the baby act and try to shift the duty on the minority in the Missouri ringster style.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Morgan's Modesty.

Senator Morgan of Alabama says he knows of 500 Democrats any one of whom would make a better president than Roosevelt, but as he is a modest man he declines to designate more than 499 of them by name.—Chicago News.

Dead Issues.

"Who are you?" said the 16-to-1 spook, as a new ghost entered the chamber of issues dead and buried. "I am the late anti-imperialism," said the newcomer.—Minneapolis Journal.

England's Exclusive Market.

Great Britain need not despair. She may lose leadership in other things, but she can still supply dukes and earls for the American demand. —Saturday Evening Post.

At Original Sources.

Now that Gov. Dockery will have to visit the barber oftener, he may be able to keep better posted on what is going on in politics.—Macon (Mo.) Republican.

THE MERRY REUBEN.

(With Apologies to the Reader.)

When the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the cow,
And the hungry hog is callin' to his tootsy wootsy sow,
And the hen is in the hennery, layin' eggs to beat the band,
Wal, it's then that I'm the maddest, merriest Reuben in the land.
Fer the sun is brightly shinin' in the same old sassy way,
And the collar's full of taters and the barn is full of hay,
And I am full of cider, hard as granite, I'll allow,
When the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the cow.

There's somethin' kind of double like about the things I see—
I see a dozen buildin's whar there's only two or three;
But gosh! I ain't no quitter! Fill the tumbler to the brim;
I'll gulp it down, by ginger; though my sight's a-gittin' dim.
I'm done with my fall plowin' and the thrashin's over, too,
And so I might as well tank up a little, wouldn't you?
So give us—hic—another swig! Lesh drive dull care away
When fro—frosh is on—hic—pumpkin, and cidersh in—ja—jay!

—Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

It is well for soldiers that they don't know what a day may bring forth, and better still, that they don't care. While we knew there would either be a big fight or a long footrace we were not worried in the least.

Sufficient unto the day are its troubler.

IN THE FIELD, KENTUCKY, Oct. 7, 1862.

Aroused at 3 a. m. by the bugle, but not feeling altogether well, after the hard work of yesterday. I stayed in bed until breakfast was ready.

Wagons and troops kept moving all night, and wagon trains are still wending their way slowly up from Chaplin river. So steep and rough are the roads that the men have to put their shoulders to the wagon wheels and help them over hard pinches. This is what tuckered us out so badly yesterday.

After being called into line general order No. 2 was read. It forbids all pillaging or plundering of any kind whatever, even to catching chickens or picking apples. Here we remained until after Gen. Rousau's division, and part of Gen. Jackson's had passed. It was nearly 10 o'clock when we fell into line and struck out through a desolate and unproductive stretch of hilly country in which roads seem never to have been made nor kept in repair.

The people have an ignorant expression of countenance, are stupid in manner, and dull of comprehension. This man said he didn't think there were so many people on the face of the earth as he had seen pass that morning. As for schoolhouses, there are none, and churches are very scarce. It astonishes one to see such ignorance, and such lack of enterprise. The people seem to live from hand to mouth, and to barely live at that.

During the afternoon the roads became better and the marching would have been good had it not been for the coarse sand blowing in our faces when our direction was against the wind.

Col. C. L. Poorman passed along the line during a halt and told us that the rebels were going to make a stand at Perryville, which is about 17 miles from here. This news was received with cheers from the men, the most of whom would rather fight than march; or they think they would.

PERRYVILLE, KY., Oct. 8, 1862.

Rations of beef prepared for our advance today, as it was thought we might have our hands full of other business before night. But before we got through preparing rations word came that Bragg was skedaddling.

The Ninety-eighth was assigned to the front of the division, which is a more desirable position than the rear, as it gives a clear field and unobstructed line of march.

At 5:30 our regiment was ordered on skirmish duty. Company B, Capt. J. R. Mitchell, deployed on the left of the road, with our company (E) as reserve. The road wound along the tops of the ridges, the country being very rough and hilly.

The skirmishers had to clamber along through timber and brush and fields, no matter how rough and disagreeable. While going through a corn field a number of the men gave out from heat and exhaustion, and all suffered from the scratching of the corn-blades. In order to keep up with the column moving along the road we had to do a good deal of double-quicking, and no time to rest, nor a sufficient supply of water.

This was kept up for about two hours, when we were called in and took our places in the columns, which was a very comfortable change.

There was pretty heavy cannonading directly ahead, but it was reported that there would be no general engagement before tomorrow. However, at noon it sounded to us very much like a battle was in progress all the time.

At 1 o'clock we halted in the edge of a woods, unslung knapsacks and proceeded to take a rest, for we were awfully tired and hot, and thirsty. But instead of resting we were ordered to get ready for action, as men were left with the stack of knapsacks, and the men moved down into a cove on the right of the road, where we waited and rested awhile, if it could be called resting. Some of the men went on the hunt of water, but were cautioned not to go far away. Ammunition wagons and ambulances were going to and coming from the front regardless of roads and without respect for fences or cornfields, and they moved fast.

While lying here a solid shot came whistling along low down. It struck the ground and bounded into a corn shock. There was a great scramble to see who would get it first. It was as warm as if fresh laid. All wanted to see and touch it, not through admiration but mere curiosity.

At 2 o'clock Capt. Harris' battery, Nineteenth Indiana, moved into position, on an open ridge to the left of the cornfield near which we lay, and in which Loomis' Michigan battery was doing business. We were assigned to support the battery, and followed it up into the open ground. Some of the men who had gone for water had not yet returned. They all got back later, but without a good supply of water, as they found it a very scarce article.

We were halted under the brow of the hill on which the battery was posted, the left wing of the regiment in front, with the right a few paces in the rear, and both on the right of the battery. Here we remained for more than an hour, with cannon balls and bullets flying over us, and low enough to have fixed a lot of us if we had been standing up. As it was James Creighton, Nicholas Wilson and Clark Wilkinson of our company were struck and pretty badly hurt, but not fatally.

Although the danger was so apparent it was difficult to keep the men down. They wanted to stand up to see where these things came from. There seemed to be an almost entire absence of fear, and no signs of fright at all.

At about 4 o'clock the fight began in earnest. The left wing of the regiment, under command of Col. Poorman, was ordered to the left in a hurry, to meet a threatened attack on the battery. We found the Fiftieth Ohio there, but in bad shape. Its commander, Col. Taylor had disappeared, and all the field officers had been wounded. The adjutant was trying to get the men to advance, but they refused to obey his orders. Col. Webster (Ninety-eighth Ohio), commanding the brigade, advised Col. Poorman to rush them out of the way and drive the rebel skirmishers out of the thicket in our front.

While delivering this order a mounted rebel scout came out of the bushes and deliberately fired twice at the two officers, but he never fired again. It seemed that the whole line opened on him. This appeared to nerve up the half disheartened, half-mutinous men of the Fiftieth, and they charged into the thicket.

Just then Lieut. John T. Collins, aid on Col. Webster's staff, dashed up with orders from Gen. Jackson to return at once, as the battery was in danger of being captured. We started double quick to join the right wing of the regiment, which was with the battery. The Eighty-third Indiana, on the left of the battery, seeing us rushing so fast took it that we were being chased and a lot of the men ran through our ranks mixing us up. We tried to stop them, but they were scared and couldn't be stopped.

These runners were hardly out of the way until the rebs came up and took their places. They also took the battery, there not being enough horses left to move the guns and not men enough to drag them down the hill.

Owing to the confusion in our ranks we were moved to the right of the right wing in order to give time to straighten out. But before order had been restored a fine, large rebel regiment loomed up in the cornfield, almost in our rear, which caused us to change front. This was done without ceremonies or orders. The rebel regiment looked to be a mile long, but it wasn't, quite. The men were dressed in butternut gray, long frock coats, and hats with feathers in them.

We couldn't hear the orders, but we could clearly see the motions—"ready," "aim," "fire." It was a beautiful volley, but too high. It seemed like a solid sheet of lead passing over us. It didn't all pass over, not quite. I was in the act of leveling my gun at the dun horse on which was mounted a fat officer, who was waving his sword and yelling at the men. But before I could take aim a bullet whizzed across my breast and ripped through the crazy-bone in my right elbow. It was done so quickly that I didn't feel it, and for a moment I was puzzled at my hand refusing to work. The stream of blood that poured out of my sleeve explained all. Johnny Evans lay dead at my feet, and Nate Humphrey was yelling with pain. Capt. Urquhart ordered me off the field, and slinging my gun on my right shoulder, along with Humphrey's, I took him by the arm, and we two found our way through showers of bullets to the field hospital, leaving the regiment fighting for dear life to hold the hill.

Thus ended my first appearance in battle.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—With all records broken since 1882, New York is awash. The number of incidents of travel, all damp and uncomfortable, related in offices today and tonight proved how entirely the public attention was occupied by the weather and how little importance everything else was, even politics. As usual it was the people who lived in the suburbs who had the most doleful tales to tell. Travel in New York has been an awful and uncomfortable thing for everyone, but the men and women whose business is down town while their homes are in the Bronx, Brooklyn or New Jersey, went through perils enough this morning to make them all feel like heroes—and heroines. Some of the latter class got to business only by circuitous routes. For instance, residents of Brooklyn who come across to Manhattan in the ferryboats which land at East Twenty-third street, found that the voyage across the river was the least uncomfortable and perilous portion of the journey. The river had backed up in the streets for more than a block on this side, and was not navigable save by trucks and other vehicles with high wheels. Men in a hurry to get to business paid truckmen to carry them up to dry land, but many women would not venture out of the ferry house, preferring to go back to Brooklyn, take an hour's trolley ride to the big bridge, and get over to Manhattan in that way. This is only one of several such incidents in different parts of the city. This evening the whole city is still flooded, and the rain continues to pour. With nearly a foot of rainfall in 48 hours, according to official measurements, no wonder everybody is staying home tonight unless imperative business takes him abroad.

Collier's New Comedy a Failure.

William Collier's new comedy, "Are You My Father?" at the Bijou is the most disastrous failure of the season to date in the general opinion. Every critic in town, with one exception, declares it to be beyond redemption.

Two More Gems by the Big Chief.

"Big Bill" Devery continues to make speeches as he leans against the famous "pump," and most of his remarks are directed against Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall. Here are two of Devery's gems of thought and expression: "Say! Murphy and all those other political grafters will have to jump into the river. They will smell the same to me after they get into office as they do now." "I hear of a seven-foot leg floating in the river. It's good betting that Murphy pulled that leg off somebody he was doing business with." Surely Devery still retains his ability to make original remarks, even if he has been beaten over and over again since he essayed to be leader of his Ninth district.

Cuban Lad's Chilly Venture.

With nothing on but a night shirt a 15-year-old Cuban lad wandered away from a sanitarium in East Seventy-second street this morning. The rain was coming down in sheets and naturally there was trouble in the sanitarium when it was found their little patient had gone out into the storm. He was found in the course of half an hour or so, and then the things done to him with hot blankets and hot drinks kept a large staff of nurses busy for another half hour. People in the street were so much occupied in hustling through the rain that even such an unusual spectacle as a boy walking along with only a night shirt on did not attract attention.

Sir Thomas Doesn't Look Well.

Sir Thomas Lipton did not look at all well as he sat in the saloon on board the Cedric this morning waiting for the ship to sail for Liverpool. He had gone aboard as early as 4 this morning. The banquet in his honor at the Waldorf last night was not over very early, and Sir Thomas rode straight from the table there to the ship. He said that he had had a good time there, as he has everywhere during his long visit to this side. His illness has left him weak, but he expects soon to be himself again when he settles down to his home routine in England.

Hamilton Fish Has Appendicitis.

Hamilton Fish, assistant United States treasurer, is reported tonight to be much better. He was suddenly taken ill on a Broadway car yesterday, and his ailment was diagnosed as appendicitis. His physicians say he will recover without an operation. Like his namesake, the "Ham Fish" who was killed at San Juan, the assistant treasurer has a constitution not easily overcome.

Rainy Daisies Invisible to the Naked Eye.

This was a great day for the "rainy daisies" to demonstrate their belief in their own tenets, but it was noticed that few of the women abroad today wore short skirts. Perhaps the rainy day costume is out of fashion in New York. This was a day when it would have been useful, if ever, but the average woman who was compelled to venture forth wore the usual long skirt, which she hitched up in one hand in the good old way. Fashion can give comfort a black eye any day, even when it rains.

Recorder Goff Inflicts Severe Punishment.

Recorder Goff does not hesitate to impose a heavy sentence when he believes the crime warrants. Another example of his conscientiousness in this regard was furnished today when he sentenced Walter Wilson to 25 years in Sing Sing prison for administering "knockout drops" to women in the Tenderloin and robbing them of money and jewelry. The prisoner got 10 years for having the drug in his possession, and 14 years on one indictment charging him with robbery. In passing sentence the recorder made this significant remark, which may apply in communities outside of New York: "I have received several requests for clemency from the women robbed, but women have fits of emotional insanity regarding criminals. I shall sentence you to serve 35 years." As the prisoner is 42 years of age this probably means imprisonment for life.

Troubles of Jersey Commuters.

More than 500 Jersey commuters were compelled to walk three miles over the hills in the driving rain this morning to a little station at Belleville, a suburb of Newark, because their own branch of the Erie railroad had been put out of business. An oak tree had fallen across a cut and it took hours to remove it and repair damages. When the pedestrian commuters reached Manhattan an hour or two late they were as bedraggled and mud-stained a collection of ordinarily decent men and women as ever came in on a ferryboat.

Opening for the Ready Letter Writer.

One of those perfunctory duties that lie so heavily on the shoulders of the man with an unready pen has kept Mayor Low busy throughout this rainy day. He is writing his letter of acceptance of the nomination for the mayoralty of New York by the Fusionist party. Of course Mayor Low is not a wielder of an unready pen, having been principal of a great educational establishment, but it must be difficult for him to write a letter of this kind, when, as he declared today, in answer to a direct question, he has "nothing to say on the general situation in any manner, shape or form."

Russia and Japan.

The real danger point is not now Manchuria but Korea. The conflict between Russia and Japan really seems to be "an irrepressible conflict between opposing and enduring forces." It may be that Japan would not resist the Russian control of Manchuria, although that control was expected by Japan as the fruit of her victory over China, and her expectation was balked by Russia, provided Russia would keep her hands off Korea and allow Japan a free field there. But that is precisely what Russia will not do. All accounts agree that her treatment of Japan is the reverse of conciliatory and that she proceeds, both practically in taking whatever she wants, and diplomatically in justifying her aggressions in such a manner as only a state of unquestioned superiority in strength can safely use. This tone of superiority must be quite as galling to the Japanese as any of the specific acts of which they complain. They are prepared to dispute the alleged superiority, and there is only one way in which the dispute can be settled. That way both Russia and Japan seem prepared to follow.

On paper there is, of course, no comparison between the military force of Japan and that of Russia. But the proposition that the Russian soldier is the equal of the Japanese is one that certainly will not be admitted by any officer who served in any one of the detachments that went to make up that international and competitive military expedition, the expedition for the relief of Peking. And it is not the strength of the two armies that is in question, but the strength of the two navies. It is extremely unlikely that there should be any land fighting beyond the limits of Korea itself. The Japanese are not likely to attempt an invasion of Manchuria. The Russians are as little likely to attempt an invasion of Japan. And it is in the Japanese sea that the contest for the control of Korea is probably to be decided. The practical question is of the superiority in Asiatic waters.—New York Times.

Japan is quite as strongly opposed to the extension of the territory of a European power in eastern Asia as the United States would be to European colonization in Central America or the islands of the Caribbean; and for similar reasons. The note said to have been presented by Baron von Rosen, the Russian minister, to the Japanese government ostending that the evacuation of Manchuria concerns nobody but Russia and China would be regarded at Tokyo just as a direct denial by Germany, Great Britain and Italy of the vitality of the Monroe doctrine would have been regarded at Washington during the recent crisis in Venezuela. Japan has been obliged to submit to numerous infractions of the "Asia for Asiatics" doctrine, but the limit of her yielding under compulsion has been reached. The establishment of a strong but isolated Russian outpost at Port Arthur might be endured, but not the passage into Russian hands of the entire hinterland from the Yellow sea to the Amur river.

The fact that negotiations are still pending between Japan and Russia indicates that a qualified occupation of Manchuria, for police purposes and for the purpose of guarding the route connecting the Transsiberian railway system with its eastern outlet at Dalny, might become the subject matter of a Japanese-Russian agreement. The Japanese, however, consider Korea to be absolutely and entirely within their immediate sphere of influence, and, if a partition of the Korean peninsula have, indeed, been proposed by Russia, as stated in the news dispatches, the proposal would have been an insult added to injury. No other conclusion could be drawn from such proceeding than that Russia was bent on provoking a conflict. That Japan is prepared for a challenge is made clear by the gathering of her war fleet and the mobilization of her land forces.—Philadelphia Record.

+ + + +

Russia stays and Manchuria is destined to pass in time from Russian "occupation" to Russian complete possession. China is reported to have appealed to Japan for assistance in this crisis and Japan has its own cause for anxiety as to Russian movements in Manchuria. The possession of that province is a step towards the occupation of Korea on one pretext or another, and that would menace the safety of Japan. It is asserted that Russian encroachment on Korean territory has has already begun by the erection of a fort on the Korean side of the Manchurian boundary. Negotiations between Russia and Japan in regard to Korea are in progress, the exact nature of which is not known, but one version of the Russian proposition is that it involves the partition of Korea between Russia and Japan. The doubtful part of that story is the willingness of Russia to let Japan have any part of what in time it will want for its own use.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Yesterday (October 8) was the date set for the signing of the new treaty between the United States and China, providing for the abolition of the likin tax and for the opening of two new treaty ports in Manchuria. It is gratifying to observe that that treaty was duly signed, the Chinese government scrupulously keeping faith with us. It is to be

CONFERENCE DELEGATES CHOSEN

Pittsburgh Methodists Elect Representatives to Meeting of General Body.

PROMINENT CHURCHMEN GO

Delegates to 80th Annual Session of Local Religious Organization Spend a Busy Day—Pulpit Assignments Cause Much Speculation.

The interest of Methodist Episcopal churches of this vicinity, was turned yesterday to the election of ministerial and lay delegates, and alternate, to the General conference of that denomination, to be held in Los Angeles, Cal., in May, of next year. The election was the salient feature of the eightieth meeting of the Pittsburgh annual conference, in session since Wednesday in the Emory church, Sixth Highland avenue.

Of equal interest to the election is what changes Bishop W. F. Mallalieu will make this year. The bishop, who has charge of this year's conference, will probably hand down his list of pulpit assignments on Monday. Several changes are likely to be made, but it is understood that the pastors of the larger churches in Pittsburgh and Allegheny will not be moved. The Rev. Daniel Dorchester, Jr., of Christ church; the Rev. J. M. Thoburn, Jr., of Cavalry church, Allegheny; the Rev. E. L. Eaton, of the North Avenue church, Allegheny, and the Rev. A. D. Mink, of Emory church, will be with their congregations again, it is said.

The ministerial conference convened in the auditorium of Emory church at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning, while at the same hour the lay conference came to order in the auditorium of the East Liberty Presbyterian church. At the former conference, Secretary N. P. Kew, read the minutes. Dr. T. N. Boyle proposed a change in the record admitting J. B. Starkey, of North Dakota, to the Pittsburgh conference, which was adopted.

Candidates from Other Churches.

Presiding Elder J. F. Murray, of the McKeesport district, presented three ministerial candidates from other churches. They were the Rev. Daniel C. White, from the Baptist church; the Rev. Paul C. Wagner and the Rev. J. A. Hamilton, of the United Brethren church. They were admitted to the conference in accordance with the rules of the church. All served the Methodist church during the past year, the Rev. Mr. White at Saltsburg, the Rev. Mr. Wagner at Glassport and the Rev. Mr. Hamilton at Pleasant Unity.

A class of six young students were admitted into full membership as ministers of the church. They are A. S. Blackmore of the East End, G. E. Bremner of Washington, D. L. Headen of Venetia, Walter J. Hunter, Banksville; M. B. Lytle of Dravosburg and H. E. Lloyd of North Cumberland, W. Va. Another candidate was absent and his case was continued.

In addressing the young men Bishop Mallalieu referred to the Anglo-Saxon race and said God had raised them up to convert the world. As to reading matter he advised the young men to omit nonsense and read the poets and Methodist literature.

Scored Higher Criticism.

Considerable time was occupied in referring to what is popularly called higher criticism of the Scriptures. The speaker scored the new ideas of the Bible very severely. He said persons should not halt on technicalities, but accept the Scripture as it is.

After hearing the reports of the committee who had examined the candidates, all of whom passed with high averages, the election of delegates to the general conference was taken up.

The bishop appointed the following tellers to collect and count the ballots: J. J. Hill, D. Flanagan, George H. Flinn, T. C. Reynolds, R. E. Wolf and W. W. Youngson. Each member of the conference was instructed to vote for five, the five having the highest number of votes to be declared elected.

There were 30 candidates in the field and it took over one hour to count the votes of the first ballot. The vote was one of the heaviest ever cast by the Pittsburgh conference, numbering 207, with 83 necessary to elect. The balloting began during the morning session and was concluded at the meeting in the afternoon. Four ballots were taken for the principals, the following securing election: Rev. Dr. T. N. Boyle, Pittsburgh; the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Smith, Pittsburgh; the Rev. Dr. James Mechem, Washington, Pa.; the Rev. G. M. Terbush, Allegheny, and the Rev. J. F. Murray, McKeesport.

A vote was taken for the election of two alternates and after the election of the Rev. E. J. Knox of Greensburg, Pa., the conference adjourned to give way to the meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society. The other alternate will be elected at this morning's session.

Election of Lay Delegates.

Samuel Hamilton, temporary president, acted as chairman at the conference of the lay delegates. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, John S. Rosensteel, Sewickley; secretary, W. G. Madore, Aspinwall; assistant secretaries, John W. Rider, Freedom, and A. Z. Gallinger, Washington.

Devotional exercises followed the election, conducted by John F. Dravo of Beaver, after which the following committees were appointed:

Permanent organization—Ulrich Whistler, Allegheny; R. W. McKee, McKeesport; M. A. Rist, Blairsville, and W. H. Skinner, Washington.

Rules—J. C. McDowell, Pittsburgh; Thomas D. Horner, McKeesport, Alexander White, Washington; O. C. Horner, Allegheny, and Walter Guthrie, Blairsville.

Resolutions—George E. Alter, Allegheny; E. C. Patterson, Blairsville; J. B. Seachrist, McKeesport; J. A. Strickler, Pittsburgh, and John W. Wall, Washington.

Tellers—W. H. Clatt, Pittsburgh; E. E. Kidney, Allegheny; W. Lane, Blairsville; A. G. Lewis, McKeesport, and George Ashley, Washington.

Credentials—J. R. Schooley, Washington; J. R. Aiken, McKeesport; George Hugo, Blairsville; J. H. Charters, Allegheny, and R. S. Swan, Pittsburgh.

A memorial service followed. Mr. Hamilton making the principal address. He referred to the death of Hudson Samson, saying he was one of the most unostentatious donors connected with the church and whose full charities were known only to himself. The speaker stated that Mr. Samson had been one of the most prominent candidates ever sent by the Pittsburgh conference to the general conference.

The lay delegates reached the election period in the afternoon. The balloting for principals was interesting and the fight hotly contested. Three ballots were taken and the following were elected delegates: A. M. Shoyer of the Allegheny district; R. T. Wylie, of the McKeesport district; Samuel Hamilton and John W. Kinnear, of the Pittsburgh district, and B. C. McGrew of the Washington district.

But one ballot was taken for alternates and Charles Parkin, of the Pittsburgh district; R. T. Hopwood, of the McKeesport district, and Capt. John A. Wood, of the Pittsburgh district, were elected.

On the first ballot 199 votes were cast, with 100 necessary for a choice, and no one was elected. The second ballot brought out 208 votes, with 105 necessary to elect, and Hamilton and McGrew went through. On the third ballot there were 207 votes, with 105 to elect, and Shoyer, Wylie and Kinnear completed the delegation.

On the ballot for alternates three to elect, the vote stood: John A. Wood, Pittsburgh district, 96; Charles Parkin, Blairsville district, 84; R. F. Hapwood, McKeesport district, 62; Harvey Henderson, Allegheny district, 72; J. B. Donley, Washington district, 3.

Debate Over Resolutions.

While the ballots were being counted by the tellers the conference listened to several addresses and discussed and voted upon the resolutions presented. The principal resolution was "That we recommend that the general conference consider the advisability of abolishing the office of presiding elder and transferring the work of said office to a resident bishop in each conference."

This resolution met with vehement opposition. Capt. John F. Dravo, R. F. Hopwood and Samuel Hamilton fought it earnestly, saying it was not Methodistic and was revolutionary in every sense. Very little was said in its favor and the resolution was tabled by almost unanimous consent.

Another resolution that caused much discussion was, "That we believe it would be expedient to restore the time limit of five years to the pastorate." The resolution was adopted by a vote of 59 to 46.

A resolution to the effect that the ratio of representation in the general conference be reduced at least one-half, was lost and one in opposition to the laying of church corner stones on Sunday was adopted. A resolution that lay delegates be allowed seats in the annual conferences with equal representation, was also adopted. The resolutions passed will be presented by the delegates elected yesterday to the general conference.

Samuel Hamilton, chairman of the entertainment committee, gave a dinner yesterday from noon until 1:30 o'clock to the lay delegates at the Hotel Lamont, about 250 guests being present.

Missionary Meeting Held.

Immediately after the adjournment for the day of the ministerial conference, there was an interesting missionary meeting conducted by Miss Emma A. Fowler, in the absence of the conference corresponding secretary, Mrs. William Van Kirk. On behalf of the latter, Miss Fowler gave a brief synopsis of the secretary's report.

It showed there are 147 auxiliary missionary societies in the conference, and 4,967 members, not including the young people. During the year just closed $21,158 41 was raised for missionary purposes. This is the largest sum ever raised by the conference for a similar purpose in one year and is an advance of $6,000 over 1902.

Mrs. A. E. Siviter, conference secretary of the Standard Bearers, reported the organization to be in flourishing condition, and to have passed the 1,100 mark. The organization is composed of young people between the ages of 14 and 18 years. The members have undertaken the support of Miss Nora Frederick of the North Avenue church, Allegheny, during the coming years as their representative in Korea.

Miss Phoebe Parkinson, a returned missionary from China, addressed the meeting, telling of the need in that country for more missionaries. She said Foo Chow must have five more workers next year, and urged her hearers to take more interest in the matter.

Miss Parkinson told of the baby towers in China, of the murder of girl babies, and of the orphanage in which rescued infants are cared for. She said $30 will support a child in the orphanage, but the institution is now overcrowded. The speaker concluded by telling of instances where children have been murdered in the baby towers and instances where rescues have been accomplished.

Increase in Collections.

The anniversary meeting of the missionary society was held in the evening. The report of the collections of the Pittsburgh conference for the home and foreign missionary societies showed an increase of $17,118 50 over the collections of the previous year. The report, which was read by the Rev. A. D. Mink, was for the districts of the Pittsburgh conference and was as follows: Pittsburgh district, $2,310 35; Allegheny district, $11,572 94; McKeesport district, $9,713 91; Blairsville district, $9,497 93; Washington district, $5,883 27.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected without opposition as follows: President, the Rev. E. G. Loughrey, Uniontown; vice president, the Rev. John T. Steffey, Pittsburgh; secretary, the Rev. J. W. McIntyre, Washington. The treasurer, the Rev. Joseph Horner, Pittsburgh, was elected at a previous meeting of the conference.

The address of the evening was made by the Rev. Dr. J. C. Floyd, a field missionary of the Methodist church working in China, India, Africa and the Malay islands. The address was on the work of the missionaries in foreign lands and was delivered in an eloquent manner. The speaker was introduced by the Rev. Mr. Mink, pastor of Emory church, who acted as chairman of the meeting.

The Cause of Missions.

Dr. Floyd spoke of the cause of missions, which, he said, was the greatest movement in the world today. It is taking a spurt forward all over the country, and people, he said, are beginning to realize how important a work it is. A great work was yet to come, as the gains in the financial report show. He congratulated the people of Pittsburgh conference who have contributed so handsomely to the cause of missions. He said that while most of the missionaries were needed in the foreign lands, their own homes should not be neglected.

Pittsburgh, said the speaker, is a great field for missionary work. The work in foreign lands is necessary on account of the great poverty existing among the masses, where many of the men work for five cents a day and have to support families.

One of the pleasant social features of the conference was a reception given last night in honor of Bishop William F. Mallalieu by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hamilton at their home in North Highland avenue. About 400 guests, mostly ministers and their families who are attending the conference, were received by Bishop Mallalieu, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hamilton, Mrs. Arthur C. Mink, Mrs. C. W. Smith, Dr. T. N. Boyle, Dr. C. W. Smith and Dr. Arthur D. Mink. Among those present were the presiding elders of the conference and the newly elected delegates to the general conference.

The Greeks among the ministers attending the conference held their first banquet last night at Youngson's cafe, in Shady avenue, East End. There were about 50 members representing all the leading college fraternities gathered at the board. It is intended to hold this Pan-Hellenic banquet every year. The Rev. E. J. Knox of Greensburg acted as toastmaster. Responses to toasts were made by Dr. Daniel Dorchester, Jr., of Pittsburgh, the Rev. J. P. Marlatt of Tarentum, the Rev. H. N. Cameron of California and the Rev. W. S. Conner of Allegheny.

In Memoriam.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 9, 1903.

At a meeting of the Board of Fire Underwriters of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, held at their rooms this date, to take action on the death of their president, Capt. William P. Herbert, the following resolution was adopted and ordered spread on the minutes:

Capt. William Perry Herbert is dead. After a long and painful illness, he crossed over the dark river and is now at rest. The sad event that removed him from our midst took place at his home in Avalon on Thursday morning, October 8, 1903.

In the death of Vice President William P. Herbert this association loses one of its oldest and most valued members. His sound judgment and large experience in the insurance field made him a valued and accepted councillor. His uniform courtesy and sunny disposition made him the friend of all. From early boyhood he was identified with the management of the Western Insurance Company, leaving it only at his country's call. He returned to the company at the end of the year with an enviable military record and resumed with it in higher positions throughout a long, useful and honorable life. He was not only diligent in his calling, but gave much time also to the welfare of the public and to the work of the church. "Not slothful in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord." He will long be remembered as a true friend, a prudent underwriter, a gallant soldier and a Christian gentleman.

To the afflicted household of the deceased we convey our heartfelt sympathy.

(Signed) WILLIAM L. JONES,
W. J. PATTERSON,
W. F. GARDNER,
Committee.

Ministerial Alternates—The Rev. E. J. Knox, Greensburg, Pa.; one more to be elected this morning.

Lay Delegates—A. M. Shoyer, Allegheny; R. T. Wylie, McKeesport; B. C. McGrew, Washington, Pa.; Samuel Hamilton and John W. Kinnear, Pittsburgh.

Lay Alternates—Capt. John A. Wood, Pittsburgh; Charles Parkin, Blairsville; R. T. Hapwood, McKeesport.

Punxy's Rooters Flee Back To the Land of the Groundhog.

People on the "inside" have discovered why the weather was too bad for the baseball game yesterday. Snow was ordered and because it did not fall was no fault of the weather man. A crowd of Punxsutawney rooters came to town on Thursday and talked themselves hoarse in praising the good weather they had brought. Col. Frank Ridgway, chief of the local weather bureau, heard of their coming and prepared to bull the fair weather stock.

"I think I'll just blow up a cold wave and have this final game held off till Saturday," soliloquized Ridgway. "I'll close the eyes of this groundhog bunch."

Then he turned on the steam heat in his office, tilted back in his chair and watched the mercury slide down the tube. He saw great dark clouds scudding past his windows and listened with a chuckle to the sighing of the wintry gale. Then he heard a wayfayer outside and a rap on his door.

"Who's there?" shouted the weather man.

"Clymer Freas, superintendent of the Punxsutawney weather works," came the reply.

"Well, climb or freeze—this is a cold day," retorted the weather man, and the Punxsutawney delegation went back home last night to pass resolutions condemning Pittsburgh weather and to root for the Pirates over the long-distance telephone. Scores of visitors from many out-of-town places returned home yesterday, greatly disappointed in the postponement of the game.

MILLS WILL STOP FOR ONLY ONE WEEK

President Dinkey Says the 35 and 40-Inch Shut-Down at Homestead but Temporary.

NOTICE POSTED YESTERDAY

Rumors Started That the Order Was for an Indefinite Period—Denial Made of Reported Closing of the Allegheny Pressed Steel Car Plant.

The posting of a notice at the Homestead steel works yesterday that the 35 and 40-inch mills will be shut down was responsible for the sending out of a report that these important parts of the works would be closed indefinitely.

"The notice distinctly states that the shutdown is for a week," said President A. C. Dinkey of the Carnegie Steel Company last evening, when asked about the report. "I expect that the mills will be running the week after. They have been running off and on all summer. In fact the 35 and 40-inch mills have never run full since they were built. The reason is that there are not enough orders for those sizes. Two weeks ago these mills did not run. They have been running since, and will run again after next week."

These two mills are among the most important at the Homestead works. They entail the employment of over 2,000 men.

It is insisted that the closing of these mills has no significance beyond a temporary shortage of orders for the sizes mentioned. The general stringency in the money market is stated not to have had any marked effect upon the demand for the products of the steel mills, as yet, and the predictions of a gloomy future are also claimed by those in a position to know to be far beyond the real prospect.

Gen. Supt. Hunt of the Homestead works said last night over the telephone that there had been no notice posted and that there would be no shutdown.

The 10, 23 and 33-inch mills in Homestead, which have been working on single turn for three weeks, were yesterday restored to double turn and are expected to run full for some time to come.

The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company yesterday cut down its force of draughtsmen in East Pittsburgh by 100. About 200 men in other departments were also discharged. It is said that within a week there will be 1,000 less employes at the big electric factory.

The Westinghouse Airbrake Company in Wilmerding is also releasing a large number of employes. This week will be the last for some time to come for work for 400 men, it is said.

In both the electric and the airbrake factories the same reason is given—a lack of new orders sufficient to warrant the keeping of the exceptionally large forces which have been employed for some time past.

Reports were printed yesterday that the Allegheny plant of the Pressed Steel Car Company was practically all shut down. The following statement was given out by the management:

"There is no truth in the report that the Allegheny works of the Pressed Steel Car Company are shut down. They are still running, though not to their maximum capacity. The management states that the plan has been in continuous operation for several years and that they have to avail themselves of opportunities like the present to close down a section of the works for the purpose of making such repairs as can only be made when the plants are not in operation."

The management states further that present indications are more favorable for general business than they have been for several months past.

Hurt While Sinking Gas Main.

Antonio Tarmelo and John Susceric of Spruce street, Allegheny, and John Frezutic of Lake street, Allegheny, were buried underneath tons of earth while excavating yesterday for a gas main in Jacks Run. The two laborers and after their injuries had been dressed were able to walk home.

MEMBERS OF SYNOD WILL OCCUPY PULPITS

Ministers Attending Meeting at Kittanning Assigned for Sunday Sermons.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

KITTANNING, PA., Oct. 9.—At today's session of the synod of the Reformed church the Rev. C. H. Ranck, chaplain of Mercersburg academy, delivered an address in relation to that institution. There are 325 students at the academy. All the pulpits in this town and its surroundings, whatever may be the denomination, will be occupied on Sunday by members of this synod. The appointments are as follows:

Manorville Lutheran, C. A. Falhouse; Manorville Methodist, W. H. Kerschner; Kittanning Evangelical Lutheran, morning, Hiram King; evening, U. C. Gutelius; Kittanning Methodist, morning, C. H. Foust; evening, J. Wagoner; United Presbyterian, morning, W. J. Muir; evening, A. M. Keifer; Baptist, morning, E. P. Skyles; evening, R. E. Crum; First Presbyterian, morning, P. S. Leinbach; evening, C. M. Hartsell; Ford City Presbyterian, evening, J. Barnhart.

The session tonight was addressed by the Rev. Dr. J. C. Musser, editor of the Philadelphia Messenger, on the subject, "Our Publicational Interests." The other speakers were Prof. E. M. Hartman, assistant to the president of Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster; the Rev. Dr. S. S. Stahr, president of Franklin and Marshall, and Prof. W. J. Knapenberger, president of the Women's college, Allentown. After adjournment a banquet was given to the 122 delegates and their friends in the hall of hose company No. 1.

DIVORCE IS A CRIME.

Evangelical Lutheran Council Declares Itself on Dissolution of Marriage.

NORRISTOWN, PA., Oct. 9.—The general council of Evangelical Lutheran church, in session here considering the divorce question, today passed resolutions declaring the dissolution of marriage bonds "a crime against God which cannot be mitigated or apologized for by any defects of the civil laws or any lowering of the standard prescribed in God's word on the part of the community around, or those who may be regarded leaders of public opinion.

"Licenses issued by the state cannot be a guide to the conscience of either pastor or applicants. Every movement to promote a general uniformity of legislation in our various state governments is worthy of hearty encouragement, in the interests of strong morality, that ultimately the prescriptions concerning marriage and divorce may be the same in all the states and territories of the United States."

CHARGED WITH SHOOTING.

Traveling River Photographer in Jail at Fayette City.

FAYETTE CITY, PA., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—James M. Williams, the photographer whose visits in his houseboat have made him familiar to nearly every town along the river, is held here on a charge of felonious shooting. It is said that Williams' boat was fastened to a railroad tie and when Benjamin Vonosso, a section hand, cut the boat loose, he was wounded by Williams.

At the hearing before Justice Beam, Williams was held for court trial. His bail was fixed at $500. He is still in the lockup.

W. C. T. U. OF OHIO ELECTS STATE OFFICERS

CANTON, O., Oct. 9.—At today's session of the State Women's Christian Temperance union the following officers were elected: Mrs. Annie Woods Clark, Columbus, president; Miss Frances Hazelton Ensign, Madison, corresponding secretary; Miss Olivia Annette Thomas, Bloomdale, recording secretary; Mrs. Florence Jaite, Cleveland, treasurer; Mrs. Lillian Burt, Columbus, editor of the Messenger; Miss Ida Anna Quinby, Edenton, secretary of Loyal Temperance legion. Miss Olivia Annette Thomas was made superintendent of the Young Women's branch of the state union.

DUNBAR BUSINESS MAN BADLY INJURED BY DOGS

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—James Copley, Sr., a prominent business man, is in a serious condition at his home in Dunbar, as the result of a peculiar experience yesterday. While he was walking along the street, two dogs chained together, ran up behind him and tripped him. The dogs, angered by his falling upon them, pounced upon him and tore his flesh in a number of places. The canines were hunting dogs belonging to William Stroud. One of them had to be killed before he could be made to desist.

SOMERSET YOUNG WOMAN DIES IN THE PHILIPPINES

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—News has just been received by relatives here of the death in the Philippines of Miss Daisy M. Vogel, daughter of the Rev. Philip Vogel of Somerset, Pa. Miss Vogel and her sister went to the Philippines two years ago to teach in the American schools and was to have returned home last week for a visit. She was located at Balinag, province of Southern Luzon, where she was stricken with fever. Her remains will be brought home.

To Extend Electric Line.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The United Power Company, which operates an electric railway from East Liverpool to a point below Wellsville, near the Jefferson county line, has asked for a franchise to construct an electric railway on the county road from Empire, this county, to the Columbiana county line. As the Steubenville Traction Company is completing a line to Empire, there will soon be an electric road from Wheeling to East Liverpool.

Big Timber Tract Sold.

OIL CITY, PA., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The largest lumber deal recorded in this section for years was closed today when the Grandin Lumber Company of Tidioute purchased from the President Oil Company 12,000 acres of timber in Pine Grove township, this county. It is estimated that the tract contains between 25,000,000 and 30,000,000 feet of pine lumber, which will be prepared for the Pittsburgh market at once.

Marriages at Steubenville.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Elmer C. Cunningham and Nellie Keller of Tarentum, William W. Seaton and Anna E. Claybaugh of Charleroi, James W. Shields and Edith J. Dunham of Rochester, Joseph Springer and Maggie Stwolm of McDonald, Pa., Harry A. Rupret and Geldia J. Campbell of Verona, Pa., were granted licenses and married here.

Blacksmiths Have a Big Smoker.

A smoker with about 300 members and guests present was held last evening in the Arnfeld building, in Penn avenue, by Local No. 262 of the International Association of Blacksmiths. Speeches were made by Calvin Wyatt, Thomas H. Flynn and Stewart Simpson, as well as by I. W. Cummins, first vice president of the union. About 20 new applications for membership were received. The local meets on the evenings of the first and third Wednesdays each month at Moorhead hall.

New Brokerage Company Formed.

The Union Brokerage & Commission Company yesterday filed a certificate of incorporation at Dover, Del. On Monday it will succeed the W. S. Haugh Company in the brokerage business here. The incorporators are R. L. Anderson, H. L. Haugh of Allegheny; W. F. Varlett of Braddock and Harry W. Davis of Wilmington, Del. The capital stock is $100,000. It expects to have 15 wires in operation in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

SHIRE OAKS, PA.—Mike Catshore, a Slav, employed at the mines of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, was killed by a fall of slate.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA.—A barn and contents on the farm of J. C. Pickenpaugh, three miles from here, was burned. Two valuable horses perished.

CANAL DOVER, O.—Ground was broken here for the new building of the Tuscarawas Brewing Company, capitalized at $200,000. The building will be six stories high.

JOHNSTOWN, PA.—Warren L. George, eldest son of Fletcher C. George, merchant and newspaper man at Lilly, died of injuries received on the Pennsylvania railroad.

IRWIN, PA.—The members of the Catholic Total Abstinence society of Pittsburgh will next Sunday join local members in a trip to Scottdale, where Father Matthew's day will be celebrated.

WASHINGTON, PA.—As a result of high gas rates residents of Waynesburg have organized the Citizens Gas Company to supply the home demand. Stock is being subscribed and wells will be put down in the town.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Attorney C. H. Akens, the local representative of the New Castle & West Pittsburgh and the Moravia & Wampum electric trolley lines, announces that the work will be begun in a short time upon both lines.

WOOSTER, O.—The Presbyterians of Ohio will hold their synod in this city next week, and a very large attendance is expected. The Sabbath School association meets next Monday and Tuesday in the First Presbyterian church.

BUTLER, PA.—Three men, whom Thomas B. Rippey, an aged farmer living near Craigsville, had asked to show him where the West Penn railroad station was, conducted him to an out-of-the-way place and robbed him of his watch and $10.

STEUBENVILLE, O.—A run on the First National bank at Mingo Junction was inaugurated by the foreigners because of fright over the closing of the Carnegie mills. Pile of coin on the counter and prompt payment stopped the withdrawals.

WEST NEWTON, PA.—While returning from a funeral William Donahue and son were struck by a shifting engine in the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie yards here, and the father, who is 60 years old, had his left arm ground off. The son escaped with severe bruises.

SHARON, PA.—At a meeting of the West Middlesex council the contract for the laying of the mains and construction of a big reservoir for the new water works system was awarded to William McIntyre & Sons of Sharon for $16,000. The work is to be started at once.

WASHINGTON, PA.—The cornerstone of the Fourth Presbyterian church was laid with appropriate ceremonies. The address was delivered by the Rev. Henry Woods, D. D., of Washington and Jefferson college, and many local clergymen took part. The church will cost $10,000.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—A misstatement was made in dispatches which said that the Struthers plant of the American Sheet Steel Company had closed down and had discharged and paid off all employes. The plant is still in operation and will continue so, as far as the local managers of the plant know.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Civil war veterans of this locality will attend the annual reunion next Thursday in Pittsburgh of the Fifth Pennsylvania heavy artillery. The veterans will meet in the hall at No. 116 Wood street, where the visitors will be entertained by their Pittsburgh comrades. The regiment was raised in Western Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON, PA.—The court refused a divorce to Adrian Fayolle, a prominent McDonald merchant. The case had been fought in the courts for nearly a year. Fayolle claimed that his wife had another husband and knew that her husband was living when he married her. An absolute divorce was awarded some months ago, but the court has reversed its decision.

FOUR BURIED BY LANDSLIDE.

One Man Fatally Injured on Railroad Work Near Bolivar.

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The Thomas McNally Company of Pittsburgh, and McMenamin & Simms of Philadelphia, the contractors who have charge of the Pennsylvania railroad in the Packsaddle, are experiencing great delay from frequent landslides. This morning a whole side of the mountain near Bolivar fell with a roar, burying four workmen and a steam shovel.

Tony Pastori was dug from under the mass of rock and earth in a dying condition. Frank Honi dug his way out, despite frightful cuts about the head. The other two, also foreigners, escaped with bruises.

CASSATT IS PLEASED WITH NEW PORTAGE ROAD

ALTOONA, PA., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—President A. J. Cassatt and party, who are making their annual tour of inspection on the Pennsylvania lines, arrived here this evening. They came over the Pittsburgh division as far as Gallitzin. From there they made their first trip over the new Portage road, extending from Gallitzin along the eastern slope of the Alleghanies to Duncansville, where it connected with the Petersburg cut-off of the middle division. President Cassatt expressed himself as greatly pleased with the work done on the new strip of road and the general condition of the system so far inspected.

Sons of Temperance Organize.

TORONTO, O., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Progressive division, Sons of Temperance, was instituted here last night with 23 charter members. George Householder is the chief officer.

WHEEL AND CAR PLANT IS BURNED AT IRWIN

Property Valued at $50,000 Destroyed With but $6,000 Insurance.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

IRWIN, PA., Oct. 9.—The Hockensmith Wheel and Mine Car Company plant in West Irwin was destroyed by fire this morning. The loss as estimated by members of the firm is $50,000, on which there is an insurance of about $6,000. Coming close on the $40,000 fire of the Parr Wagon Company, the general impression is that the fire of this morning was of incendiary origin; but this was not borne out after a rigid investigation by members of the firm.

The plant was in operation last night until nearly 10 o'clock. At this hour the night watchman was on duty. On going to the boiler house at about 2:30 o'clock he discovered a blaze near the firebox, the flames having communicated to the side of the building. He called for assistance, but no one was at hand. With nothing near by to extinguish the flames they soon enveloped the building, and from there communicated to other structures. When the firemen arrived the fire was beyond control, a strong wind fanning the blaze.

The plant consisted of machine shop, pattern shop, foundry and power house. The company had about $20,000 worth of work under construction, the loss being complete. The firm is at present erecting a $10,000 brick-and-steel plant at Penn, which is about two months from being completed, and the fire this morning put it out of business for that length of time. About 50 men were employed. The company furnished power for the Irwin Lumber Company mills and the Penn Electric and Manufacturing Company, and these plants will be idle for some time.

The Hockensmith Wheel and Mine Car Company has been in existence here for about 20 years. It grew from a very small concern to the most important in town. It is a chartered company with $100,000 capital, the following being stockholders: Frank C. Hockensmith, Wilbur Hockensmith and F. C. Shallenberger of Pittsburgh and D. M. Wagoner of Irwin.

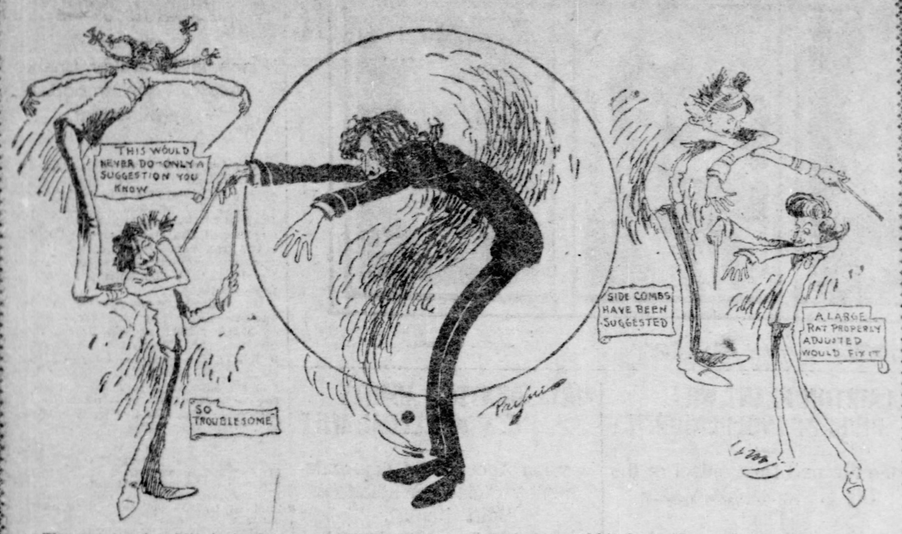
CONDUCTOR VESSELLA AND HIS TROUBLESOME LOCKS



THIS WOULD NEVER DO—ONLY A SUGGESTION YOU KNOW
SO TROUBLESOME
SIDE COMBS HAVE BEEN SUGGESTED
A LARGE RAT PROPERLY ADJUSTED WOULD FIT IT

The untutored public is beginning unconsciously to associate long hair with musical genius. And this is not surprising, since every piano agency flashes a picture of the unshorn Liszt in its window, and the world must stand in reverence of the eccentric Paderewski. At the opening of the Pittsburgh exposition the nimble Creatore gave an exhibition of his wonderful ability as a conducter—and caused the eternal envy of the man who manufactures hair restoratives.

This week the big chief of the musicians at the big hall out-Creatores Creatore when it comes to the wearing of long, unruly scalp covering. Vessella constantly keeps one hand busy brushing back his waving locks while with the other he wields his magic baton. In the audiences, of course, there are always people who are prone to make suggestions, and some of these ideas are here depicted by the cartoonist.

Vessella and his Royal Italian band close their engagement with four concerts whose climax will be reached at 9:30 o'clock tonight. The Park sisters are to add eclat to the occasion with their inimitable work on four silver cornets. It has been most interesting the past week to note how Vessella has grown into popular favor because of his fine caliber and splendidly attractive programs. If applause counts as an indication of appreciation, Vessella is sure to leave Pittsburgh in mental state of high gratification, for Expo music hall has fairly rung with plaudits. The musical program for this afternoon follows:

THE MILESTONES IN A NOTABLE EPOCH

John Morley's Biography of Gladstone Gives Historical Facts a New Aspect.

SEVERAL CRISES TOUCHED

Some Private Notes on the American Rebellion Give an Insight Into the Diplomatic Tactics of the Victorian Era—Extracts from an Old Diary.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The biography of Gladstone upon which John Morley has been at work for several years will be published tomorrow. Being the record of the life of a man who aided in shaping the destinies of England for two-score years, it is really the history of an important part of the Victorian era, and contains much as to the man and the events of his time that is new.

The author had possession of the letters and papers of the statesman, including a curious diary, and many extracts from them are published for the first time. They have an intimate view of several of the great crises through which England passed while Gladstone was a member or the leader of the government, and nearly all of them will prove of great historical importance.

Of paramount interest to Americans are the comments of Gladstone on the Trent affair contained in some correspondence with the duke of Argyle. Gladstone described the cabinet meeting, held after the receipt of the news that the confederate commissioners had been seized. After the cabinet meeting he writes:

Diplomacy of the 60's.

"I returned to Windsor for dinner and reported to queen and prince. The cabinet determined on Friday to ask reparation, and on Saturday they agreed to two dispatches to Lord Lyons of which the one recited the facts, stated we could not but suppose the American government would of itself be desirous to afford us reparation, and said that in any case we must have the commissioners returned to British protection; and (2) an apology or expression of regret.

"The second of these dispatches desired Lyons to come away within seven days if the demands are not complied with. I thought and urged that we should hear what the Americans had to say before withdrawing Lyons, for I could not feel sure that we were at the bottom of the law of the case, or could judge here and now what form it would assume. But this view did not prevail."

Mr. Morley shows how the queen, the prince consort, and Mr. Gladstone each in his or her way worked together to soften, abridge and modify Lord Russell's violent dispatch to Lord Lyons, the British minister at Washington, and to avert anything which might bring on a collision; and this despite the fact that strong and active interests in England favored forcing north and south apart for England's profit.

Majuba and its Errors.

The next passage in the book deals with Gladstone's inflammatory Newcastle speech, during which he let fall the sentence about the American war of which he was destined never to hear the last. His statement that Jefferson Davis had "made a nation" created a profound sensation, and Mr. Morley does not spare his subject the frank statement that he made an outrageous error, fraught with serious consequences. He prints Gladstone's own estimate of his error, in which the statesman scores himself relentlessly for his "most unwarrantable declaration."

Of Majuba and Gladstone's part in it, Mr. Morley writes:

Some have argued that we ought to have brought up an overwhelming force to demonstrate that we were able to beat them, before we made peace. Unfortunately demonstrations of this species castly turn into provocations, and talk of this kind mostly comes from those who believe, not that peace was made in the wrong way, but that a peace giving their country back to the Boers ought never to have been made at all, on any terms or in any way.

This was not the point from which either cabinet or parliament started. The government has decided that annexation had been an error. The Boers had proposed inquiry. The government assented on condition that the Boers dispersed. Without waiting a reasonable time for a reply, our general was worsted in a rash and trivial attack. Did this cancel our proffered bargain? The point was simple and unmistakable, though party heat at home, race passion in the colony, and our everlasting human proneness to mix up different questions, and to answer one point by arguments that belong to another, all combined to produce a confusion of mind that a certain school of partisans have traded upon ever since. Strange in mighty nations is moral cowardice, disguised as a Roman pride. All the more may we admire the moral courage of the minister. For moral courage may be needed even where aversion to bloodshed fortunately happens to coincide with high prudence and sound policy of state.

Commenting in his private record on the great struggle for household suffrage in 1867, Gladstone wrote: "Perhaps we ought to have recognized that the idea of household suffrage, when the phrase had once been advertised by a government as its battleground, was irresistible, and that the only remaining choice was whether it should be a household suffrage cribbed, cabined, and confined by the condition of personal ratepaying, or a household suffrage fairly conforming in substance and operation to the idea that the phrase conveyed.

Notes by the Grand Old Man.

Here are some fragments from the diary kept by the Grand Old Man, most of them referring to the great budget of 1860:

"July 20.—H. of C. Lost my Savings Bank Monies bill; my first defeat in a measure of finance in the H. of C. This ought to be very good for me; and I earnestly wish to make it so.

"Aug. 6.—H. of C. Spoke 1½ hours on the Paper duty; a favourable House. Voted in 286-253. A most kind and indeed notable reception afterwards.

"April 10, '61.—Saw Lord Palmerston and explained to him my plans, which did not meet his views. A laborious and anxious day. Apr. 11.—Explained my case. 1-3. Chaos! Apr. 12.—Cabinet 1-3. Very stiff. We 'broke up' in one sense and all but in another. Apr. 13.—Cabinet 2¾-6. My plan as now framed was accepted. Lord Palmerston yielding gracefully; Stanley of Alderly almost the only kicker. The plan of one bill was accepted after fighting. Apr. 15.—H. of C., financial statement for three hours. The figures rather made my head ache. It was the discharge of a long pent-up excitement."

In his introduction to the biography Mr. Morley says:

Gladstone used to say of himself that his life was ever greatly absorbed in working the institutions of his country. We mark a signal trait. Not for two centuries, since the history strife of Angelican and Puritan, had our island produced a ruler in whom the religious motive was paramount in the like degree. He was not only a political force but a moral force. He strove to use all the powers of his own genius and the powers of the state for moral purposes and religious. Nevertheless his mission in all its forms was action. He had none of that detachment often found among superior minds, which we honor for its disinterestedness, even while we lament its impotence in result. The track in which he moved, the instruments he employed, were the track and the instruments, the sword and the trowel, of political action; and what is called the Gladstone era was distinctively a political era.

Here is an eminently characteristic passage by Mr. Morley about his subject:

Gladstone Is Eulogized.

His name is associated with a record of arduous and fruitful legislative work and administrative improvement, equaled by none of the great men who have grasped the helm o fthe British state. Entering public life with vehement aversion to the recent dislodgment of the landed aristocracy as the mainspring of parliamentary power, he lent himself to two further enormously extensive changes in the constitutionality center of gravity. With a lifelong belief in parliamentary deliberation as the grand security for judicious laws and national control over executive act, he vet at a certain stage betook himself with magical result to direct and individually appeal to the great masses of the country-and and the world beheld the astonishing spectacle of a politician with the microscopic subtlety of a 13th century schoolman, wielding at will the new democracy in what has been called "the country of plain men."

A confirmed and trained economist, and no friend to Socialism, yet by his legislation upon land in 1870 and 1881 he wrote the opening chapter in a volume on which many an unexpected page in the history of property is destined to be inscribed. Well was it said of him, "You have so lived and wrought that you have kept the soul alive in England."

UNCLE SAM MAY RAISE HORSES FOR THE ARMY

General Staff Considers Advisability of Making Ft. Riley a Breeding Station.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The general staff of the army is considering the advisability of making Fort Riley a remount station for the breeding and raising of army horses and mules. Officials of the war department are not sure that congress will favor the proposition and in some quarters the prediction is made that it will insist that the present method of buying horses in the open market be continued.

The army regulations direct that the quartermaster general shall purchase horses by contract after competition. Owing to the rigid requirements imposed a very small percentage of the animals offered are accepted by the quartermasters and for the past five years there has been great difficulty in meeting the demand. Horses under 5 years old are not accepted except in the case of fine and well-developed animals. The horse market in the United States during the past five years has been subjected to a severe drain. In addition to the demand for animals for the United States army the English government purchased large numbers of horses and mules during the Boer war and the German government also bought heavily of American horses for its army.

This demand has increased prices to such an extent that the quartermaster's department has adopted plans for obtaining animals in some other way. Recently the United States has been paying as high as $185 for cavalry horses and there was only a limited supply at the advanced prices. The result has been that the war department has recently delayed purchases in the hope that the animals might be bought cheaper. The quartermasters will soon begin buying horses in Kansas City, St. Louis and Kentucky markets.

The proposition that the government purchase colts and raise them at Fort Riley has been submitted to the general staff, as well as the plan to breed horses. The chief objection to both plans is that they would involve a larger outlay of expense thatn under the present unsatisfactory system. An official of the general staff said today that a decision would be reached before congress meets and that legislation on the subject would then be recommended by the secretary of war.

JUBILEE DAY.

CAMPBELL COMMEMORATES THE RESTORATION OF EARLY CLOSING TODAY.

When the clock says 6:30 p. m., today, the closing bell will sound at "The People's Store."

The first Saturday night in 10 years this has happened.

But it will occur over and over again every Saturday night hereafter.

The hours of department store work are shortening, and great is the jubilation among the department store employes.

To spread the glow of pleasure throughout the general public today, Campbell will turn "The People's Store" into a brilliant bazar of bargains, as set forth in the four solid columns of specials on another page.

People who buy today will score two good points—will set the stamp of their approval on early closing, and save enough money on their purchases to pay the next month's gas bill.

WILL ANNEX CANADA.

German Authority Says Dominion Is Helpless If Uncle Sam Should Reach for Her.

VIENNA, Oct. 9.—(Special Cable.)—The famous geographer, Prof. Friederick Ratzel, who has spent considerable time studying national economy in Canada and the United States, publishes an article in the Marine Rundschau, in which he points out the enormous growth of commerce and industry as well as farming in the trans Atlantic countries. "This development," says Ratzel, "must necessarily affect European countries, and none more than England."

The professor prophesies that within a reasonable time the United States will probably annex the Dominion of Canada, which is entirely defenseless and entirely unable to defend the enormous boundary line against an attack by the United States should that power make up her mind to deprive England of her big American colony.

SYNDICATE WANTS STREET CLOSED

Proposed Vacation to Give Room for Big Warehouse System on the South Side.

BIGELOW IS CONSULTED

Plans Submitted to Director of Public Works—Bingham Street to Be Vacated and Cabot Way Widened—Ordinance at Next Council Meeting.

An ordinance, vacating the portion of Bingham street, between Third and Fourth streets, South Side, to give room for the mammoth system of warehouses to be erected by the River & Railroad Terminal Company, will be introduced at the next meeting of the Pittsburgh councils. Bingham is a 50-foot street and runs east and west through the south end of the ground which the warehouses are to occupy.

James J. Buchanan and George W. C. Johnston, officers of the River & Railroad company, called upon Director E. M. Bigelow yesterday to submit the plans for the closing of Bingham street and the widening of Cabot way, which the company proposes to enlarge in lieu of taking Bingham street. Bingham is a 50-foot street and Cabot way is an alley only 20 feet wide. They run parallel to each other and are half a block apart. Cabot way lying nearest to Carson street. The company explains that it has purchased all the property abutting on the portion of Bingham street to be vacated and as far as Cabot way. It has also purchased a large part of the property lying between Cabot way and Carson street.

Cabot way terminates at Third street and the continuation of it below Third street is known as McKean street, which is 40 feet wide. The company offers to make Cabot way the same width as McKean street.

The details of the warehouse scheme have been published in The Gazette. The warehouses are to run from the Monongahela river to the new line of Cabot way, which is a block from Carson street. From Carson street trains will be admitted to the warehouses by a viaduct. There will be 44 warehouses inside of one large building, eight stories high, and including 25 acres of floor space. Mr. Buchanan stated yesterday that the company is investing $7,000,000 in the enterprise and has already spent about $1,250,000 for real estate. A portion of the building will be located on the site of the Oliver mill, which is a part of the property purchased.

The first floor of the building will be occupied exclusively by the railroads. Mr. Buchanan stated that in addition to the rail the Pennsylvania, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and the Wabash railroads would connect with the warehouses and in addition to the railroad business plans have been made to get a large part of the river trade.

The directors of the company are as follows: James J. Buchanan, president; George W. C. Johnston, secretary and treasurer; James A. Henderson of the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati Packet Company; George M. Laughlin, of Jones & Laughlin; George Heard of the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia.

PAINTER SET ON FIRE BY SPARKS OF CIGARETTE

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Harry Jacobs, 19 years old, a painter, rushed through the smoker of an elevated train today, his clothing enveloped in flames, causing a panic among the passengers and sustaining painful injuries. Jacobs' clothing, which was saturated with benzine, became ignited from a cigarette which he held in his hand. A policeman extinguished the blaze by throwing his overcoat about the man.

PRIVATE JOHN DOWD TO BE TRIED AGAIN

Charge of Murder Will Probably Be Made Against Him in Civil Court.

Private John Dowd, who shot and killed William H. Crowley on September 10, at the Allegheny arsenal, will probably be turned over to the civil authorities Monday. United States District Attorney James S. Young is now in communication with the department of justice at Washington and he expects to receive instructions by that time. In the meantime Private Dowd is doing regular duty at the arsenal. District Attorney John C. Haymaker is satisfied that Dowd will be placed in the hands of the civil authorities by Monday.

Haymaker and Young had a conference yesterday with reference to the Dowd case. Mr. Young asked for 48 hours in which he could communicate with the military authorities and the department of justice. It is the intention of both attorneys to dispose of the case without a conflict between the civil and military authorities.

"I saw Mr. Young," said Haymaker, "and I decided to wait until he had an opportunity to communicate with the authorities at Washington. There is no use taking any unnecessary steps. I want to avoid as far as possible, any conflict between the civil and military powers. From what Mr. Young said, I am of the opinion that the soldier will be turned over to the civil authorities without any great trouble."

Coroner McGarry was notified by Haymaker not to hold the inquest in the case until Young had heard from Washington.

EXHIBIT OF WORKS BY ARTIST HUGH NEWELL

A collection of oil paintings, water colors and pastels by Hugh Newell, a well-known Pittsburgh artist, will be placed on exhibition in the galleries of Wunderley Bros., in Sixth avenue, for two weeks, beginning next Monday. There are 150 pictures in the group, the majority of which are landscapes executed on Staten Island and in Bronx park, N. Y. Rustic scenes and quaint figures predominate, although there are a few scenes painted near Mr. Newell's home in Wilkinsburg. Four of his works have been submitted to the forthcoming loan exhibit at the Carnegie art galleries.

Crafton Also Has Bond Trouble.

Crafton is having trouble getting rid of its bond issue of $50,000. Last night four bids were opened. None of the firms would offer premiums, but one agreed to give $.101.60 if the interest was increased to 5 per cent. The other firms wished to know if the interest had been increased.

ART JURY SELECTED FOR CARNEGIE EXHIBIT

Ten Celebrated Artists Will Pass Upon the Paintings Presented.

The art jury which will select the pictures for the eighth annual exhibition at the Carnegie art galleries was appointed yesterday, and consists of William Merritt Chase, Ben Foster, Childe Hassam and John LaFarge, New York; Edward W. Redfield, Philadelphia; Joseph R. DeCamp, Cincinnati; Frederick W. Freer, Chicago; Thomas C. Steele, Indiana; Robert William Vonnoh, Rockland Lake, N. Y., and Thomas Eakins, Buffalo. All the celebrated painters will meet here next Thursday to pass upon the pictures submitted. The prizes are $1,500, $1,000 and $500, and will be given to American artists only.

All the men elected to act upon the jury are prominent in American art circles. Childe Hassam, whose work is familiar to thousands of Pittsburghers, was awarded a medal of the second class at the Carnegie institute competition in 1898. Mr. Chase was a member of the international jury of award at the World's Columbian exposition and won a gold medal at the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo.

John LaFarge is famous as a mural painter. He has won many honors in this country and is a chevalier of the Legion of Honor in France. In some of the world's most famous modern buildings copies of his works may be found. Sketches taken on his travels in Japan and through the isles of the South Seas added much to his fame.

Mr. De Camp is a comparatively young man. He was born in Bridgeville, Del., in 1858, and studied in the Cincinnati museum, and at the Royal academy in Munich. He has secured numerous prizes in recent contests. Mr. Freer is a native of Chicago and won his first recognition in the world's fair of 1893. Mr. Vonnoh likewise won a medal at the Chicago exhibition, as well as securing similar prizes in the big collections of the old world.

ALDERMAN CHASED MAN AND SENT HIM TO JAIL

George A. Linn was sent to jail by Alderman C. C. McGovern yesterday on a charge of larceny from the person. Alderman McGovern saw Lynn pick the pocket of D. W. Kedney of the Bay State Chair Company on a McKees Rocks car. Lynn was chased an caught near the Duquesne incline in Carson street. Mr. Kedney's pocketbook, which contained $.35, was recovered.

William M. Chase, New York City.

Childe Hassam, New York City.

GOING AFTER BOODLERS.

Treaties Will Be Amended to Permit of Their Extradition from Other Countries.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The state department will open negotiations with Great Britain and France for the purpose of amending treaties with those countries to secure the extradition of men indicted in Missouri on the general charge of boodling. It is stated at the department that the treaties will be made retroactive in accordance with an opinion rendered by Attorney General Knox.

District Attorney Folk of St. Louis had a final conference with Secretary Hay at which it was agreed the negotiations for the supplemental treaties should be begun at once. It is the expectation that extradition treaties would be negotiated not only with England and France, but with all other nations with which this country has treaty relations.

LIPTON GOES HOME.

Sir Thomas Says He Expects to Regain His Health During Ocean Voyage.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Sir Thomas Lipton sailed for England today on the Cedric. Sir Thomas said that he was not feeling as well as he looked, but that he expected to gain strength on his way to England.

The rumor that he had purchased the packing plant of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger in Chicago for $320,000 is emphatically denied, although advices from Chicago announce that the firm will neither affirm nor deny the report.

Oil Company Chartered.

DOVER, DEL., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The Kansas-Bradford Oil and Gas Company of Bradford, Pa., was granted a charter today to bore for oil and gas; capital stock, $100,000.

CLAIRTON PLANT WILL BE KEPT INDEPENDENTLY

Plan Formed for Control of the Big Monongahela Valley Plant.

The Clairton Steel Company will continue to be operated independently. The authority for the statement is unquestioned, and the announcement means that obstacles have arisen to prevent the plan which was formed some time ago for the control of the company being passed to several interests which had expected to use all of the company's big production. The Crucible Steel Company of America was to have had a one-fourth interest in the company under the new plan, while the United States Steel Corporation acquired a one-half interest, other interests taking the remaining one-fourth.

The Clairton Company owns at Clairton, in the Monongahela valley, one of the largest and finest plants in this section. It is capable of producing billets at the minimum of cost. Its independent operation is not expected to be such as to have a deleterious effect upon the market in any way.

NEEDS A PADDED CELL.

McKeesport Prisoners Fond of Butting Their Heads Against Prison Walls.

McKeesport Central police station needs a padded cell and the property and finance committees of the city councils at a meeting last night, recommended that this improvement be made at once. It was stated that several prisoners had recently tried to butt out their brains on the walls.

"Well, the fault lies outside the police bureau," declared one wrathful member of the committee. "We could save money by compelling the sale of a less violent brand of liquor to the people who are the patrons of the cells."

The property committee recommended that all city wires be placed in an underground conduit. The transfer would cost $15,000 and the finance committee recommended that council borrow that sum for the work. The salary of the city treasurer was recommended to be increased $4,100 to provide for clerk hire.

Diocesan League to Meet.

The Diocesan league of the German Catholic Young Men's association will hold its 21st annual open meeting at St. Mary's school hall, Sharpsburg, tomorrow evening. The affair will be in charge of the St. Aloysius Literary society of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.

MRS. JOHNSTON ADMITS SHE'S NOT LEGAL WIFE

Woman Accused of Embezzlement Explains Her Relations With Dentist.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Mrs. Marie Layton Johnston today admitted that she was not the wife of the Fifth avenue dentist, although she bore his name. Mrs. Johnston made this statement while in the Tombs prison, where she is being held pending examination on charges of forgery and larceny in connection with the accounts of the United States Playing Card Company. Mrs. Layton, or Johnston, said:

"Dr. Johnston has a wife (Mrs. Helen Pauls Johnston, by name) and a little daughter. I am not Dr. Johnston's lawful wife, although none of my associates except his mother knew it."

Bail in Mrs. Johnston's case was fixed at $7,500. Argument will be made Monday to have it reduced.

COLLECTORS ARRESTED.

Two Men Working the Public for a Bogus Exhibition Are Stopped.

Two men, who gave their names as J. McIntyre and Charles Vaughn of Philadelphia and Cincinnati, respectively, were arrested yesterday by Detectives Richard Kelly and Harry Hutchinson, as suspicious persons. Complaints had been made to Superintendent of Detectives Thomas A. McQuade that solicitors were collecting funds here to defray the expenses of an exhibition by newspaper artists employed on the local papers.

McIntyre confessed to having made collections for that purpose and said he had been employed to do so by a man in New York. He was unable to give the New York man's address. McIntyre's books showed that he had collected some $700 in this city. Vaughn said he was employed by McIntyre and that beyond his commission he had no other interest. Vaughn is said to live hereabouts. The newspaper artists have no plans for an exhibition this year.

Bond Sale Postponed.

The county commissioners have postponed action on the proposed bond issue of $550,000 for the use of county roads for 30 days. It is believed that the money market will be in better condition at that time and that a new advertisement will result in the bonds being sold. C. R. Williams & Co. have made an offer to take them at private sale, but no action will be taken until after the second attempt to sell them publicly.

OHIO LOSES JUDGESHIP BECAUSE OF DISPUTE

Hanna and Foraker Unable to Agree Upon Important Appointment.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A rare example of party fealty is being shown by Senators Hanna and Foraker of Ohio. Both have their coats off working for the success of the Republican ticket in that state, and nobody is fighting harder and more sincerely for the re-election of Senator Hanna to the United States senate than Foraker.

But while they are fighting side by side out in Ohio, they are arrayed against each other here in Washington over an appointment. There is a vacancy on the bench of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, and Senator Foraker has recommended to President Roosevelt the appointment of Judge D. Thew Wright of Cincinnati. Mr. Wright seemed to have a sure thing on the place when Senator Hanna protested. It seems that Mr. Hanna is acting for George B. Cox, the Republican leader of Cincinnati, and Mr. Cox has vowed that Wright shall not have the appointment. The reason for this opposition is that Wright took part in a fight authority thereof that came within one vote of losing Cox the control of the Cincinnati organization, and Foraker is said to have been in the plot. Cox and Foraker have heretofore always been close friends, but recently the Cincinnati leader has made a very close alliance with Senator Hanna and Cox has been able to hold up the appointment of the man who led the revolt against him.

The deadlock between the Ohio senators will likely take place for Ohio, as Senators Dillingham and Proctor of Vermont have also come forward with a name. But, while Hanna has spiked the Foraker gun in this affair, they are still marching shoulder to shoulder in the Buckeye campaign. L. W. STRATER.

ONE MURDERER HAS HIS DAY OF DEATH FIXED

The First of 51 Murderers In This County This Year to Hang December 3.

Gov. Samuel W. Pennypacker has fixed December 3 as the day for the execution of Joseph Canovsky, who killed his wife, Mary, on February 7, last year. The death warrant was signed by the governor yesterday and will be sent to Sheriff William McKinley in a few days. Canovsky beat and kicked his wife to death after she had confessed that she had been unfaithful to him. Canovsky said he became angry when his wife confessed her infidelity and in his frenzy killed her. She was the first person murdered in Allegheny this year, and unless a reprieve is granted Canovsky will be the first and probably the only man executed in the county this year.

During the year 51 persons have been murdered in this county. In January there were six, February five, March four, April four, May eight, June eight, July five, August three, September six, and two during October.

VICTIM OF CHINESE RIOT DYING OF CONSUMPTION

Nine Chinamen charged with assaulting Frank Lee, a fellow-countryman, during a fight over the ownership of a Chinese restaurant, which took place at No. 312 Second avenue on Tuesday afternoon, waived a hearing yesterday and gave bail for court. Frank Lee, the prosecutor in the case, who was alleged to be in a serious condition from injuries received in the fight, it was stated, was really dying from consumption.

Stylish clothes are a great help to the man

WHO wants to "get on." A bungled coat or baggy pair of trousers doesn't create a good impression, and first appearances mean a great deal to a man in the business as well as in the social world. In this connection, it is not too much to say that our new Fall and Winter stock is about as perfect as the highest fidelity to the interests of the public can possibly make it. Vast and varied as it is, there is not in it even a thread of shoddy. Every garment has been made in daylight lofts, by the best American workmen, who, being paid by the day, not by the piece, had no object in slighting or hurrying their work. Hence, the thorough workmanship of our clothing equaling (in the higher grades) the most expensive work of the fashionable tailor shops. But, because our clothing possesses such excellence and has been cut to fit so perfectly, does not add to its expense to you. It would, if our outlet was limited, but being the largest in the state, we can well afford to sell our perfect clothes for the same, yes, and for even less money than the same qualities but inferior styles can be bought elsewhere.

At 8.50 we offer you nobby new suits and top-coats that are as good or better in every way than any offered elsewhere for $10 or even $12. There's no inferior workmanship anywhere about these garments. The coat collars furnish a good example of the good honest tailoring—they're hand-worked into shape which means that the shape remains permanently.

At 15.00 the particular dresser can fit himself out here in a splendid suit or topcoat which would cost him fully one-quarter more money if bought elsewhere. It required most accurate cutter work and skillful tailoring to impart so much style and individuality to these garments. Every taste from the most conservative to the most radical can be suited in this line.

The acme of clothing perfection, at 20.00 to 33.00

Nine-tenths of our finer clothing comes from makers who do not sell to other Pittsburgh stores. The man who is satisfied with nothing but the best—the man who keeps in closest touch with the latest style changes and is fastidious in the matter of fit, quality and workmanship, can find no fault with these superb garments. Yes, he may get the same degree of perfection if he goes to a high class tailor, but it'll cost him an additional outlay of from $10 to $20. Our showing of full dress suits and tuxedos is most comprehensive—the garments are beyond criticism.

Correct boys' attire—and remember our guarantee for satisfactory wear goes with every suit or overcoat

BOTH TEAMS ARE EAGER TO WIN TODAY'S GAME

COLD AND WIND STOPPED GAME

Boston People Angry Over the Delay, but Manager Clarke Had the Last Say.

LIVELY GAME LOOKED FOR

There was no ball game between the Pittsburgh and Boston teams yesterday afternoon, and the calling off of the contest caused a lively row and came pretty close to winding up the series between the teams. The man to raise the row was Jimmy Collins, manager of the Boston Americans, who insisted on the game being played regardless of the weather conditions and when Manager Clarke of the Pirates refused to grant his request Collins threatened to take his team home, but later in the afternoon he got over his angry spell and decided to remain here and play the game today.

When Manager Clarke visited the ball park at noon yesterday he found the playing field wet and soggy and the wind howling about at the rate of about 40 miles an hour, at least that is the gait it appeared to him, and Manager Fred is a pretty fair judge of wind storms, as he comes from Kansas. He at once decided to call the game off and sent out word to that effect. Shortly after the announcement of no game had been made Manager Collins called at the office of the Pittsburgh club and on learning of Manager Clarke's action he became very wrathy and threatened all sorts of things, but he calmed down later and decided that the only thing to be done was to wait over and play the game.

The Boston people were also angry over the postponement, as they had made all arrangements to go home last night and having to stay over for another day was not at all to their liking. These people made all sorts of threats as to what they will do to the Pirates when they get them down in Boston next week, but these threats were made in such a way that they are likely to be forgotten in a day. It was pointed out to the Boston people that under the articles of agreement covering the games that the manager of the home team is to be the judge of the weather conditions and when he says to play Manager Clarke might have taken a chance and played the game, but he saw an opportunity to give a large class of patrons a chance to see one of the world's championship games who could not attend on any other day but Saturday. To have played the game yesterday would have been foolish, as it would have been dangerous to both players and spectators in being exposed to the cold and wind.

The game, therefore, will be played this afternoon, and it promises to be a struggle from start to finish. The pitchers named are Phillippe and Young and the battle between this pair of stars will be worth going a great distance to see. The players on both teams are worked up to the highest pitch over the remaining games and as a result there is bound to be some lively work. There also is promises to be doings among the rooters of both teams, as the feeling is very strong. Secretary Locke yesterday set aside section "G" of the grandstand for the Pittsburgh rooters, who will be under the leadership of Solly Sussman, and they will wear the Pirates' colors and be loaded with tin horns and other noise-making implements. Charley Black, who is a thirty-third degree rooter, has arranged a war cry for the Pittsburghers to offset the Boston yell and it runs thus:

"Phillippe, Phillippe, Phillippe, Phi

Always wins and always will."

There has been so much talk about these world's championship games by certain people who seem to have an impression that the Pittsburgh team ought to win every game, paying no attention to the fact that the men on the Boston team, and the club owner has been unjustly criticised in the matter on the alleged grounds that the games are being manipulated in favor of the gate receipts. In order to show the folly of such statements it was stated last night that just before the Pittsburgh team left for Boston to play the opening game of the series, President Dreyfuss, through Manager Clarke, made the offer to Phillis players that in case they win the series from the Boston team that he would divide equally among them the net receipts of the Pittsburgh club's share. This shows the big interest the club has in the series, to say nothing of the glory that would be attached to such a victory.

President Harry Pulliam of the National league, who has been here attending the world's championship games, left last night for New York, where he was called on business, but before his departure he stated that he will be on hand in Boston to cheer for the Pirates. It was also stated last night that quite a large delegation of Pittsburghers will accompany the team to the City of Culture.

The Boston rooters will this afternoon wear a special button presented to them by Pickering, and which they regard very highly as the most precious souvenir of the present trip. Not only will the rooters wear these buttons, but each player will have one on his uniform shirt.

THIRTEEN-INNING GAME.

Warren Took Long-Drawn-Out Contest from Rochester.

ROCHESTER, PA., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The longest game ever played on the local grounds, a 13-inning contest, took place here this afternoon, when the Warren (Ohio) team defeated the Rochester Athletic association nine, 4 to 2. Smith pitched a splendid game for Rochester, allowing only one hit up until the ninth inning, when the visitors scored two runs, tying the score. In the thirteenth inning they secured two more, winning the game. One of the runs was secured on a wild pitch by Smith and the other when he was caught napping, a runner stealing home. Jackson pitched a nice game for the visitors, allowing but six hits. Lindsay knocked a home run. Score:

W. & J. IS BEATEN BY PITTSBURGH HIGH SCHOOL

Coach James' Pupils Score Three Touchdowns to Visitors' One in Exciting Game.

The Washington and Jefferson academy eleven was beaten by the Pittsburgh high school yesterday afternoon at Friendship park, 16 to 6. Throughout the game was fast and in general all-round work Coach James' pupils showed to better advantage than the prep students from Washington.

Pittsburgh secured two touchdowns in the first half and one in the second, while W. and J. forced the ball over the line in the second period through a fine exhibition of line bucking with an occasional short end sprint. High School, profiting by its no score game with the Washington High school one week ago, jumped into the contest with a vim and dash that stood it in good stead with its heavier opponents. The team as a whole played good football, save for a little fumbling.

The most prominent actors on High School's side in the first half were "Dune" Worrell and "Midget" Spuhler. Worrell, who is a speedy youngster and strong, bucked the line fiercely and got in two long runs, his first being from High School's 35-yard line down the field for the first touchdown. Towards the end of the first half he again broke through the line from the middle field, but was pulled down on the 5-yard line. An interference by one of his own men sent him down and Northrop nailed him before he could get up. Spuhler, at left end, did not allow one run around his side of the line, and frequently he got behind the line and smashed interference before it got started rightly. He, however, was compelled to retire at the close of the first half because of a mix up with Kraatz, the academy's fast left half. Kraatz was given the ball for a run around Spuhler and just after he got it from the quarterback and was starting to get behind his interference, Spuhler grabbed him around the knees and both went down. Kraatz, in falling, came down with his feet on "Midget's" solar plexus, putting him to the bad. Kraatz, too, had to lie on the ground for some time before he could resume playing. Kraatz is a fast youngster. In the interscholastic field and track games last spring he showed up well in the sprints and runs.

W. and J. began the game by kicking the ball along the ground, but made a drive for it, but it escaped him and Burns secured it for the Academy. The ball was surrendered on the 35-yard line on downs. High school fumbled and on the 26-yard line Northrop also fumbled, High School getting the ball. It was forced to the 35-yard line where Worrell got away from the bunch for a touchdown. W. Orr missed goal.

The ball traveled up and down the field until the Academy got it on its 26-yard line where Northrop and Lowery got inlxed up in a pass. Paul Johns passed up the ball and ran over for a touchdown. W. Orr again missed goal.

In the second half High School sent in substitutes and the superior weight of the Academy forced the ball down the field, Kraatz doing the bulk of the work. On High School's 10-yard line Kraatz was hurt and retired. A few line bucks had the ball over. Northrop kicked goal. With but a few minutes to play in the second half High School swept down the field in lively fashion. Milne broke through the line for a 30-yard run, planting the ball on the 6-yard line. He added two more on a buck and then G. Orr was sent through just as time was called. Bauer kicked goal, making the final score 16 to 6.

OHIO HORSE WINS A RICH CLASSIC

Caspian Takes Fifteenth Transylvania—Dan R. Creates New World's Pacing Record.

FAIR CROWD IN ATTENDANCE

LEXINGTON, KY., Oct. 9.—Six thousand persons braved the biting west wind today to see Caspian, an Ohio horse and second favorite in the betting, win the fifteenth Transylvania with a purse of $6,000. The best time was 2:09½. Hawthorne, the favorite in last night's pooling, made a poor showing.

Caspian is the horse of which it has been said that he cannot go more than two heats, but he went three today and won the first and third heats with ease. Kent, which took second money, was purchased from Dick Donley of Wichita, Kan., by E. E. Smathers for $4,200 just before the second heat, and made a strong bid for first place in this heat.

The feature of the day outside of the Transylvania was the new world's record made by Dan R. for a pacer, a mile to a wagon, who went the second heat in 2:04¼. There were but two entries for the free-for-all pace for amateur drivers, C. K. G. Billings of Chicago drove Greenline and H. K. Devereaux of Cleveland drove the chestnut gelding, Dan R., in the first heat.

In the first heat Dan R. broke before reaching the quarter pole and Greenline forged ahead 100 yards. At the quarter stretch Dan R. made up good distance, but was still trailing three lengths behind. A hundred yards from the wire he had caught Greenline and in a driving finish beat him by a neck in 2:15½, going the last quarter in 29½ seconds. In the next heat Dan R. led from start to finish and went the mile in 2:04¼, beating his competitor by several lengths. The track was fast. Summaries:

THOMAS BUYS STALWART.

Crack Young Colt Brings $12,000—Walden Gets River Pirate.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The sale of horses sold on behalf of W. C. Whitney, Perry Belmont, John E. Madden and Thomas B. Hitchcock attracted to the numerous gallery of prominent breeders and turfmen to the paddock this afternoon despite the incessant rain. Stalwart, the 2-year-old by Meddler, whose early work at Morris park first turned him and breeder in approximately his value at $100,000, went for $12,000, just $100 less than the price realized for an untried octagon yearling yesterday. Though Stalwart beat Thomas in the closing engagements he is not a robust colt at the present time. E. R. Thomas got Stalwart without much bidding.

River Pirate, the Pirate of Penzance colt for which Belmont paid John E. Madden $22,000 a year ago, was knocked down to R. W. Walden for $5,000. A number of other well-bred horses sold from $100 up to $3,000.

Notable Toasts Made by Men of Prominence at Chicago Day Banquets.

EXPRESS RADICAL THOUGHTS

Gov. Durbin of Indiana Sounds Warning Against Socialism's Growth, and Minnesota's Chief Executive Talks of Stars and Stripes in Canada.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—"Chicago Day" was celebrated tonight with banquets by the Marquette and Lakeside clubs, at which prominent speakers from various parts of the country were present.

At the Marquette club the principal speakers were Frank S. Black, former governor of New York; Gov. Winfield T. Durbin of Indiana, Gov. Samuel R. Van Sant of Minnesota and Judge Peter S. Grosscup of the United States circuit court. Many topics were discussed, all of which met the hearty approval of the 250 banqueters. George R. Peck of Chicago was toastmaster.

Ex-Gov. Frank S. Black responded to the toast, "Partisanship," in which he pointed out that every object was carried to success through the constant energy of its supporters. The non-partisan, he said, was destitute of strong beliefs and was never found at the summit. Consequently politics without principle is an imitation and a pantomime. He said this country's foundation stones are principle and endeavor. Upon those two has been reared a structure whose grandeur has no parallel and whose promise affords to the struggling masses of the world their chief hope.

One of the features of the evening was the address of Gov. Durbin upon "The American Spirit." After paying a glowing tribute to the growth and marvelous transformation of the United States, he said the following regarding the menace of Socialism:

"The appeal of Socialism is from the historic American spirit to political conceptions developed under monarchical institutions, institutions presupposing the parental nature of government and the unquestioning subjection of will of the individual to the absolutism of the state. It assumes the propriety, interest in the subject matter rather than the proprietary interest of the citizen in the republic. But despite the fact of its European origin, so manifest that it might be summarily turned back from every American port of entry under the undesirable immigrant laws, Socialism is a living force in American politics, raising an elemental issue which must be squarely met—and with resistance more intelligent than is implied by mere denunciation.

"Do you doubt the imminence of this menace? Then recall the adoption of a government ownership plank in New York last year, by a great political party which once claimed individual liberty as its essential doctrine. Witness the welfare being waged in Ohio tonight in the name, if not in the name, of incipient Socialism. Do you question the potential popularity or this propaganda because it leaves human nature out of the problem of human government? Then remember that 6,000,000 American citizens gave their indorsement at the polls to the financial plank of the Chicago platform, which presupposed the supernatural powers of the United States congress.

Governor Van Sant spoke as follows on "The Great Northwest:"

"Thousands of American farmers are making homes in Canada, filled with love for our republican form of government. Presently, multitudes of Canadians are achieving comfort and affluence in the border states. The interchange of commodities correspondingly multiplies. The necessity for the freest commercial intercourse becomes more and more imperative.

"This subject is indeed one of great moment. Canadians and Americans are every day becoming more intimate in manifold ways. The development of that international spirit is the crowning evidence of the advance of civilization. Every national policy and every public servant should have appropriate regard for the increase of the most cordial friendliness of relations and mutual good will between the United States and the Dominion.

"Who knows but the inauguration of so wise a policy, together with the peaceful invasion of Canada by the American farmer, may not bring about 'a consummation devoutly to be wished,' with universal amity and the Stars and Stripes floating over all lands, from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic circle."

Among the others who spoke were Judge Peter S. Grosscup of the United States circuit court, Frank O. Lowden of Chicago, State's Attorney Charles S. Deneen, Judge Orrin N. Carter and the Rev. R. A. White, all of this city.

TRYING TO SHIFT BLAME FOR THE MUSICAL BOYCOTT

Musicians' Federation Endeavoring to Have Bands Reinstated in Militia.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Officials of the Chicago Federation of Musicians declare the services of the Marine band of Washington, D. C., at the Chicago centennial celebration and the consequent boycott by union musicians resulting in the discharge of members of the various bands of the Illinois national guard were secured through a misrepresentation.

The federation states the course of two colonels of the national guard in recommending the discharge of the Regimental band members is unjust, the centennial arrangements committee intend of the musicians, deserving censure. The federation officials assert that when they found the Marine band was to play at the auditorium meeting they wrote Secretary Moody of the navy and asked why the government permitted the band to leave Washington.

In reply the secretary stated the centennial committee notified him that the members of the Marine band were to be the guests of the city of Chicago and were not to receive compensation and had he known the Marine band was to compete with civilian musicians, he would not have allowed the band to go west. This reply from Secretary Moody, the federation officials believe, will bring about the reinstatement of the discharged members of the regimental bands.

SOCIETY.

MISS HENRIETTE KIEL and her fiance, Frederick G. Hawden, were honor guests last evening at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Hall of Anderson street, Herron Hill. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. William Dinsdale Hawden, Miss Helen Kell, Frank Milton Hunter, Miss Margaret Marshall, Dr. Henry M. Hall, Jr., the two honor guests, and the host and hostess. The dinner was served in eight courses and the decorations were especially dainty. The centerpiece was of anemones, and at each end of the board were fruit pieces, edged with leaves. Several silver and cutglass dishes of bonbons also added to the decorations. The ladies wore handsome evening gowns. Mrs. Hall receiving her guests in a lace robe. Mr. Hawden landed in New York on Thursday and arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning.

An especially fine musical program has been arranged by Edward Napier to precede the wedding of Miss Kell and Mr. Hawden on Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension. The recital will commence at 4:30 o'clock and a score of the leading singers of Pittsburgh will sing in conjunction with the choir of the Church of the Ascension. The ceremony will be performed by the rector, the Rev. Robert W. Grange, D. D. The musical program will include the following numbers:

Marche Nuptiale ..... Guilmant

In Honor of a Bride-Elect.

Miss Frances Patton Mills, who is to be one of the early fall brides, has been guest of honor at a number of social affairs. Last evening Mrs. Velma Mellon, of North Negley avenue entertained in honor of Miss Mills, and this afternoon Miss Katherine Carnahan, who is to be the bridesmaid, will give a tea for her. The bridesmaids' dinner will be held on Wednesday, together with the rehearsal.

Mrs. C. A. Nelson of New Mexico is expected to arrive in the city today to remain over the winter. Miss Josephine Tyers, the maid of honor, has been entertained by Miss Mills for about a week. A number of wedding guests will arrive next week from New York and this city. The marriage of Miss Mills and Robert B. Carnahan, Jr., is to take place on Thursday at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Theodore Tennele, with whom she makes her home. Mrs. Tennele gave a tin shower for Miss Mills last Saturday.

Celebration of Crystal Wedding.

The employes of the Edward E. Reick Company surprised their employer and his wife last evening by holding a reception and banquet in the Forbes street Turner hall in honor of their crystal wedding day. Mr. and Mrs. Reick had planned to entertain a number of their employes at their home last week, but on account of a fire, which did much damage, the affair was postponed. About 225 guests were present at the celebration last evening, including all the employes both in the city and out of town. John Leonard, the general manager of the company, on behalf of the employes, presented a handsome punch bowl to Mr. and Mrs. Reick. During the banquet the gift was covered by a huge milk can. A large wedding cake was also in evidence.

Bank Cashier Will Marry.

A wedding of unusual interest in Grove City will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents October 21, when Miss Lillian McKay of that city will be married to Capt. T. J. Robinson of Scottdale. The groom is a former resident of Grove City, and was captain of Company M, Sixteenth regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania. He is now cashier of the Scottdale National bank. The bride is a daughter of Robert McKay of the McKay Carriage Manufacturing Company.

Two Greensburg Weddings.

Two weddings in which Greensburg is interested are those of Miss Sarah E. McCormick to Albert W. McClellan of New Florence, and Miss Margaret King of Brooklyn to Victor Zimmerman of New York. Miss McCormick is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John McCormick, and is very popular in the younger society set of Greensburg. Mr. McClelland is assistant supervisor of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad. The wedding is scheduled for the latter part of October. The Zimmerman-King wedding will take place on Wednesday evening, October 14. Dr. Zimmerman is a son of Mrs. Cordelia Zimmerman. He is a graduate of the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

Melba Will Sing Here.

The new musical season in Pittsburgh is to have a brilliant introduction by the peerless Melba, who will appear in Carnegie Music hall on Wednesday evening, October 28, assisted by Llewela Davies, an eminent Welsh plantate; Ellison Van Hoose, America's finest tenor; M. Chevalier, a prime favorite with all grand opera goers; Signorita Ada Sassoli, a talented little harpist, and Charles Mote, a distinguished soloist on the flute. Mme. Melba returns to this city after an absence of two years, devoted to brilliantly successful engagements in continental opera houses and in England and Australia.

First Recital of Series.

Miss Elizabeth C. McNally, soprano, and Genevieve Wheat, contralto, have arranged a delightful program for the recital to be given by these two well-known singers on Tuesday evening, October 22. Miss McNally will sing a new song by W. H. Alling, and Miss Wheat will sing, among other numbers, a group of songs by American composers. In addition to the solos, a number of duets new to Pittsburgh will figure on the program. This recital is the first of the series announced by James Stephen Martin for the season, and will be given in the lecture hall of the Carnegie institute.

The First Mozart Concert.

The Mozart club is now rehearsing Berlioz's "Te Deum," which is scheduled for performance about November 15 at the first concert of the club's season. The chorus is delighted with this work, and the rehearsals are progressing finely. There are a few vacancies yet for sopranos, altos, tenors and bassos, and persons desiring to join the chorus before the first concert should make early application to Director McCollum.

Dinner for Bride-Elect.

Mrs. Robert Kiser will give a dinner next Tuesday at her home in Center avenue. The honor guest will be Miss Jean Shaw, whose marriage to Charles B. Seely will take place on Thursday. Mrs. William Campbell is among those who have entertained Miss Shaw, she having given a luncheon recently. The Rev. Dr. Robert M. Russell of the Sixth United Presbyterian church will officiate at the wedding, which will be very quietly conducted.

A New Vocal Quartet.

A new quartet of ladies' voices has just been organized and will shortly make its appearance in public. The singers are Misses Elizabeth C. McNally, Olive Wheat, Genevieve Wheat and Bertha Baker. The quartet will make its debut at the first of the month at James Stephen Martin's afternoon musicales at the Martin residence in Walnut street.

Miss Abel and Dr. Voight Engaged.

The engagement of Miss Hilda Abel and Dr. Charles H. Voight of Allegheny, is announced. Miss Abel is the daughter of the late Joseph Abel of Pittsburgh, and is a sister of William F. Abel of Murtland avenue, East End. Dr. Voight is a physician well known on the North Side. The wedding will take place in January.

For Two House Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Mathews of North Negley avenue, have issued invitations for an afternoon and evening reception on Thursday, October 22. The affair will be in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stonecipher, their guests, and will be a housewarming affair for the new Mathews home in the East End.

Clark—Blakley.

The marriage of Miss Lilla M. Clark to Frederick Blakley of Hazelwood, occurred at the home of the bride's brother, J. L. Clark, Mahoning avenue, Youngstown, O., Wednesday evening, October 7.

THE DEATH ROLL

Mrs. William R. Ford.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bartley Ford, widow of William R. Ford, for many years a well-known Pittsburgher, died at the family residence, Center avenue and Neville street, last night about 11 o'clock, after a short illness, of pneumonia. Mrs. Ford was born in Blairsville, Indiana county, Pa., October 29, 1838. She was married to William R. Ford in 1862, while he was a captain in the federal army during the civil war. At the close of the war they removed to Pittsburgh. Mr. Ford was president of common council for nine years and collector of delinquent taxes during the years 1887-1897. Mrs. Ford was an ardent worker in the United Presbyterian church. She was a member of the Second United Presbyterian church since she came to Pittsburgh, and was one of the oldest members. She was connected with several charitable institutions of the church. Two daughters, Mrs. James T. Ogden and Mrs. William C. Moreland, and one son, William W. Ford, survive. Two sisters and four brothers also survive.

Funeral of Father Carroll.

The funeral of Father Matthew Carroll will take place this morning. The body of the dead priest was laid in state at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in St. Andrew's Roman Catholic church, Beaver avenue, Allegheny, and will remain so until 9:30 o'clock this morning. The offices for the dead will be said at that hour and will be followed by solemn requiem mass. The officers of the mass will be Father F. J. McCabe, celebrant; Father Martin Ryan, deacon; Father P. J. O'Neill, sub-deacon; Father John Enright, master of ceremonies. The burial will take place in St. Mary's cemetery.

William Thorn.

William Thorn, formerly manager of the Sharon Steel baseball team, died at his home in Tarentum yesterday after a two weeks' illness with typhoid fever. He was graduated from Volant college in 1900, with the degree of bachelor of science. He had been employed in the production department of the Carnegie Steel Company at Sharon. He is survived by his mother, four brothers and one sister. He was a son of the late James Thorn, auditor of Mercer county in 1899-'01.

Funeral of Capt. W. P. Herbert.

The funeral services over the remains of Capt. William P. Herbert of Bellevue will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Bellevue Methodist Protestant church in Lincoln avenue. The services will be in charge of the Rev. Dr. George Shaffer, the pastor, assisted by the Rev. J. J. Murray of Baltimore. Post No. 259, G. A. R., will turn out in a body. The interment will be made in Uniondale cemetery.

Peter Devlin.

Peter Devlin, aged 64 years, is dead at his home, No. 327 Thirty-eighth street. He was born in County Tyrone, Ireland, and came to this country when quite young. He was with the Carnegie Steel Company for 33 years. In 1863 he was married to Miss Catherine Mills. Mr. Devlin was a member of St. John the Baptist's Roman Catholic church.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Vassar Students' Aid Society Met.

With plenty of money in the treasury for the two scholarships which the society maintains, the Vassar Students' Aid Society this year will work for the college endowment fund. The first meeting of the season was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. C. Doty, president of the society, in Lincoln avenue, Bellevue. The attendance was large. The society now has between 50 and 60 members, and yesterday five young women who graduated last June were received into the club. They are Miss Louise Loy, Miss May Barker, Miss Pearl Watkins, Miss Ida Allison and Miss Elizabeth Thompson. The members include the alumnae of Vassar college living in Pittsburgh and the surrounding towns and other students who left college before completing their course.

The society has two annual scholarships of $200 each, and has the full amount in the treasury already. Plans were discussed yesterday afternoon for an entertainment of an imposing character to be given this winter for the endowment fund. Over a year ago John D. Rockefellow offered to double any amount of money raised for Vassar up to $200,000, thus giving it a possible endowment fund of $400,000. The offer is open until June, 1904, and already a large amount has been raised, while the alumnae and former students throughout the country will work most energetically this winter to complete the desired $200,000. The Pittsburgh society is one of the most loyal, though not so large as several others, and will endeavor to add a large contribution to the growing fund. A meeting will be held in a few days, probably next Saturday, when some definite plan will be proposed.

The business yesterday afternoon was followed by social features, with music and refreshments. Miss McCarell sang and Miss Loy, who is a talented pianist, played.

Miss Blow Lectured on "Faust."

Miss Susan E. Blow, the well-known lecturer and pioneer kindergarten teacher in this country, inaugurated her annual course of lectures before the students of the Kindergarten college yesterday afternoon. The chapel of the First United Presbyterian church, opposite the Schenley, in Fifth avenue, the meeting place this season, was filled with a large and enthusiastic audience, composed of the students and women interested in the course, on Faust.

Miss Blow received a cordial welcome, and without introduction or preface opened her first special subject for the day, "The Generative Thought of the Drama." Miss Blow acknowledged that with "Faust" is not appreciated and gave as the reason that people do not understand the problem presented by it. To enjoy and appreciate the drama, she explained, required the grasping of the thought of the author and the appreciation of the beautiful form in which the thought is expressed. She compared the ancient dramas, the "Iliad" and the "Odyssey" with "Faust" and showed that only in the last is the individual recognized. Thus it presents a new theme.

On succeeding Mondays and Fridays Miss Blow will continue the course of 10 lectures in the following order: October 12, "The Genesis of Mephisto;" October 16, "Auerbach's Cellar and Witches' Kitchen;" October 19, "The Ruin of the Family;" October 23, "The Prologue in Heaven;" October 26, "Faust Considered in Theme, Structure, Style, Relationship to the Life of the Author and His Other Works;" October 30, "The Significance of the Drama;" November 2, "The Carnival Masquerade;" November 6, "Faust's Pursuit of the Beautiful;" November 9, "Classical Walpurgis Night and Helen."

Committee Tea at the Y. W. C. A.

The tea on Friday evening, October 16, at the Young Women's Christian association will open the social season there. All the committees of the association have been invited. Miss Mary Mills, secretary in Madras, India, will speak on her work there. Miss Hill will be a guest at the association house for three days, coming on Friday. She will speak on the girls' club there. Miss Hill's service Sunday evening. The Wilmerding branch will be formally opened the following week. Miss Laura Rose of Morristown, N. J., will take charge of the branch to which the Westinghouse Airbrake Company has offered the use of its building. Miss Sara L. Shaw of Bellevue and Miss Virginia Sherrard of Chambersburg are at present studying association work in Pittsburgh preparatory to becoming association secretaries. The Pittsburgh association is now the largest in the United States, and during the past year four girls have studied the method here, while no regular training schools were not in session. The clubs are making preparations for a number of social affairs to be given through the winter. The membership in the association is especially large this year, 208 new members having been secured in September.

Committee Appointed.

The Oakmont Boat club this week appointed a committee to purchase land at B street and the Allegheny river, and to erect a handsome club house. Further action will probably be made at a meeting on Monday evening at the residence of John T. Anderson, chairman of the building committee. The committee members are Alexander Thomas, J. R. Johnston, Harry E. Kier, Samuel Meals, T. J. Hunter, W. E. Bargar, Alex Warner, C. L. Livingstone, Charles Bailey, C. C. Lee, H. S. Paul, M. S. Verner, J. G. Nicholson, H. W. Armstrong, Dr. W. H. Coyer, Dr. Charles Arensberg, William Campbell, Orlando Metcalf, W. H. Nimick and George Macrum.

Lectures for Mothers.

A course of five lectures will be delivered by Miss Susan E. Blow before the mothers' department and faculty on Wednesday mornings at 10:30 o'clock in the Kindergarten college. The course will comprise "The Child of Nature," October 14; "The Child of Man," October 21; "The Child of God," October 28; "Numbering the Fingers," November 4, and "Aesthetic Education," November 11.

Tuesday Musical Club Meetings.

The Tuesday Musical club will hold its meetings this year in the Schenley. The first meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon, November 3. Next week the year books will be issued and will present a very attractive series of programs for the season. Since its organization the Tuesday Musical club has met at "The Maples," Mrs. C. L. Magee having been deeply interested in its work, but her contemplated residence in Rome makes necessary the new meeting place provided for this year.

PERSONALS

Elias J. Bird of Chicago passed through Pittsburgh last night over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad on his way home from a visit to Europe. Speaking of his trip abroad he said: "In the past four years the industries of Great Britain have not had 50 per cent of the business in proportion to the number of workmen employed, that the mills in the United States have had. The coal miners in England have worked very little during the past year and the future prospects are anything but bright.

A. W. Hecker, cashier of the Union Trust Company, accompanied by Mrs. Hecker, left last night for an eastern trip.

COMING OVER TO LEARN.

Distinguished British Educators Not Too Proud to Gain Knowledge in America.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—When the American line steamer Philadelphia arrives tomorrow she will have on board one of the most distinguished bodies of British educators which has over come into this country. Among them will be found experts in elementary, intermediate, technical and university education, as well as professors in medicine, economics, engineering, religious instruction, art and teaching.

They come here at the invitation and expense of Alfred Moseley, the well-known English social investigator, who has been in this country almost a month planning for their reception and work. It is the purpose of this delegation to make a thorough investigation of American educational methods so that they may be in a position to recommend changes in the British school system. They will visit institutions of learning in all sections of the country and will be here for several weeks.

When It Comes To a Comparison of qualities and prices, you'll find that there isn't anybody in Pittsburgh—or in the country who can offer you better value for your money in

Oriental Rugs

than you will find at this store—And certainly nowhere else can you find such a marvelous collection of Oriental beauty as is on show this month on our Oriental floor—

Our own expert buyers select these rugs and we guarantee them to be just as represented—You can be absolutely certain when you come here of two things—

First—The rug that you buy will be exactly what you buy it for—

Second—The price will be simply a fair, commercial value.

And these two certainties make Oriental Rug buying a much more simple proposition than it usually is—

We are showing handsome little hearth size rugs at $5, $6 and $8—
Carpet sizes as low as $45—

And there are hundreds and hundreds to select from—Among them many rarely beautiful Antiques direct from the palaces of the Orient—

Miss Agnes Miller, of Chicago, speaks to young women about dangers of the Menstrual Period—how to avoid pain and suffering and remove the cause by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"To Young Women:—I suffered for six years with dysmenorrhea (painful periods), so much so that I dreaded every month, as I knew it meant three or four days of intense pain. The doctor said this was due to an inflamed condition of the uterine appendages caused by repeated and neglected colds.

"If young girls only realized how dangerous it is to take cold at this critical time, much suffering would be spared them. Thank God for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that was the only medicine which helped me any. Within three weeks after I started to take it, I noticed a marked improvement in my general health, and at the time of my next monthly period the pain had diminished considerably. I kept up the treatment, and was cured a month later. I am like another person since. I am in perfect health, my eyes are brighter, I have added 12 pounds to my weight, my color is good, and I feel light and happy."—Miss Agnes Miller, 25 Potomac Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The monthly sickness reflects the condition of a woman's health. Anything unusual at that time should have prompt and proper attention. Fifty thousand letters from women prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound regulates menstruation and makes those periods painless.

READ WHAT MISS LINDBECK SAYS:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has greatly benefitted me. I will tell you how I suffered. My trouble was painful menstruation. I felt as each month went by that I was getting worse. I had severe bearing-down pains in my back and abdomen.

"A friend advised me to try Mrs. Pinkham's medicine. I did so and am now free from all pain during my periods."—Jessie C. Lindbeck, 1201 6th Street, Rockford, Ill.

FREE ADVICE TO WOMEN.

Remember, every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. # LARSON WANTS HEAVY DAMAGES

Swedish Massage Operator Says He Was Hurt by an Advertisement.

COURT TO FIX BYERS' CRIME

Case Against Murderer of Augustus Layton Submitted—Three Boys Sent to Morganza—Amicable Action to Satisfy a Mortgage.

Fredrik Larson has entered a $25,000 damage suit against Mrs. H. D. Lincoln for alleged injury to his name and business.

He says he is a Swedish massage operator and has an establishment at No. 424 Penn avenue. He avers that his clientele was large and that he was regarded by the professional world as eminent and competent. On October 8 last he avers that the defendant had inserted in a local paper the following advertisement: "Madame Lincoln has secured Dr. Larson, assistant, who will give alcohol, vapor baths, and Swedish massage, medical gymnast, manicuring, scalp treatment. 321 Penn ave. Hours 8:30 to 6."

The murder of Augustus Layton at Turtle Creek in 1901, was before the criminal court again yesterday. William J. Byers, who entered a plea of guilty, was before the court yesterday to have the degree of the crime fixed. While Byers pleaded guilty, John and Nellie McWilliams, the latter the widow of Layton, were acquitted. District Attorney Haymaker and Attorney H. W. McIntosh, representing Byers, agreed before Judge Frazer yesterday that the evidence taken on the trial of the McWilliams be accepted and the Judge took the papers to help him in his decision.

Lillie Jeffrey was found guilty of a charge of stealing $20 from William H. Fowlkes.

At a short session of juvenile court in the case of Elmer Baker, Leo Strut, Willie Ross and Earl Baker, who were accused of stealing a slot machine at No. 2201 Fifth avenue and a lamp from the rear of Block's Milk Company wagons, Earl Baker was committed to the care of the probation officers and the others sent to Morganza.

A bill of equity was filed by Ella C. King, an amicable action against the Safe Deposit and Trust Company, administrator of the estate of James B. D. Meeds, late of Oakmont, to clear title to property situated in Chartiers county, Pa., against which Meeds at one time held a $1,500 mortgage which was not satisfied on the records of that county. The company answered it was not familiar with averments, but submits itself to court's orders.

It Pays to Tell the Truth.

D. J. Driscoll of McKeesport, who is on the jury this week, found that it paid to tell the court the truth. He wanted to be excused to attend the ball game, and instead of having pleading the illness of the sick child at home, he told the court just what he wanted. Judge Frazer was so surprised at the candor of the juror that he excused him and 48 others at the same time.

Legal Briefs.

H. P. Dilworth has filed a statement in his suit against the Auto Car Company. He seeks to recover $1,525, which he paid for an auto car to the company's agent, which he alleges was to be good and serviceable, but which contained defects.

Samuel Patterson has sued McKinley Wisegarber for $5,000 damages in common pleas court No. 2. He avers that on August 15, 1900, he was walking along Flowers avenue with his uncle when Wisegarber attacked him with a knife, stabbing him in the stomach and causing injuries which confined him in the Mercy hospital until September 11 last.

The defendant in the suit of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company against W. C. Jutte took an appeal to the supreme court from the opinion and decree of Judge John D. Shafer. The bond required for the appeal was signed by the officers of the Chartiers Trust Company of McKees Rocks. Assignments of error to the findings of the court were also filed.

In the suit of Catherine McGuire against John W. Spering an affidavit of defense has been filed, in which the defendant says the plaintiff's cows did not wander away from her premises, but that she maliciously turned them into his corn field, where they did $100 damages. He said he locked them up in his barn, where he held them for some time to give her an opportunity to settle.

Judge Shafer has decided, in the suit of E. M. and W. Ferguson against the Pittsburgh Chemical and Specialty Company, finds that the defendants' lease called for the use of the storeroom and basement for ordinary mercantile business and that the defendants when they mixed and blended syrups and extracts in the basement causing odors, were engaging in a degree in manufacturing.

In common pleas court No. 4 in the divorce suit of Eva Horne against Joseph Horne, on her petition the libellant was permitted to discontinue the suit. The petition set forth that she is a Jewish woman of Russian birth, and with little knowledge of the English language. She says that on July 11, 1903, through misunderstanding and mistake, she signed the libel, believing the papers were to be entered in court as a means to compel her husband to support her properly.

News of the Rivers.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 8.1 feet and the river was rising.

The Frank Gilmore has been overhauled and repaired at Parkersburg. A new cabin has been built. She is to leave Parkersburg for Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon.

The Edgar Cherry was taken out of the Pittsburgh and Brownsville trade yesterday and laid up for the winter. The Morgantown packets will take care of the business of the Cherry between here and Brownsville.

Capt. David Kellar, who was in command of the steamer Gertrude, returned from New Orleans Thursday night. Capt. Kellar reports a fine trip and that the purchasers of the steamer are well pleased. Engineer Jacob Merriman will remain with the steamer. She is now making the trip to the Chattanoochee river by way of the Gulf of Mexico.

Yesterday was the busiest day the wharf has seen in several months. Crowds of men were along the wharf watching the steamers take on stores and make up their tows. River business will probably be brisk for some time. The many empties brought in by the steamers will be hustled to the mines by the pool boats and the landings will be full of loaded craft once more in a short time.

VISITORS WILL OCCUPY PULPITS

Tomorrow Will Be Conference Sunday With Methodist Episcopalians in Pittsburgh.

ASSIGNMENT OF PREACHERS

Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Arkansas to Describe His Work in the West. Church Will Celebrate Its Seventy-Second Anniversary.

Tomorrow is Conference Sunday with the Methodist Episcopal church in Western Pennsylvania. Most of the pulpits of the Methodist Episcopal churches of Pittsburgh and Allegheny will be filled by out-of-town preachers attending the sessions of the Methodist Episcopal conference in the Emory church.

Among the preachers attending the conference and the churches in which they will hold services are: The Rev. Dr. A. M. Riker, president of Mt. Union college, O., Christ church; the Rev. Dr. M. J. Sleppy and the Rev. Dr. J. P. Marlatt, Friendship Park church; the Rev. J. F. Berry of Chicago, Lincoln Avenue church; the Rev. Dr. G. M. Kelley, and the Rev. Dr. G. W. Grannis, Duquesne Heights church; the Rev. H. H. Westwood and the Rev. E. C. Lindsay, Mt. Washington church; the Rev. W. B. Bergen, Butler Street church; the Rev. W. H. Barber and the Rev. F. Ginzer, Simpson church of Allegheny; the Rev. C. D. E. Cartwright, Church of God.

The Rev. Dr. C. M. Boswell, corresponding secretary, Philadelphia City Missionary and Church Extension society of the Methodist Episcopal church, will occupy the pulpit of the Calvary church of Allegheny. The Rev. Dr. F. C. Lockwood of Allegheny college, Meadville, will occupy the Calvary pulpit in the evening. The Rev. Dr. Allen R. Bartholemew of Philadelphia, secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Reformed church, will occupy the pulpit of the Grace Reformed church in the morning. The Rev. Dr. Frank Longdon, state evangelist of Florida, will preach at the morning services in the Central Christian church.

The Rt. Rev. Dr. W. M. Brown, bishop of Arkansas, will preach in the Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, the Rev. Dr. A. W. Arundel pastor, tomorrow morning. Bishop Brown is interesting friends in his diocesan work and will tell about his labors in the west and the satisfactory progress that is being made there. Dr. Arundel will preach in the evening on "The Supreme Test of True Religion." The congregation of the Bingham Street Methodist Episcopal church will celebrate tomorrow the 72d year of its organization. The Rev. Dr. E. S. White will preach at the morning service and the Rev. J. J. McIlyar and the Rev. Latshaw McGinnis at the evening services. A pretty souvenir containing the history of the church, and many other interesting facts, will be distributed to the members of the congregation. The Rev. C. M. Miller is pastor of the church.

The Sunday school of the Forty-third Street Presbyterian church will hold its annual rally tomorrow afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. A musical program has been arranged and an address will be made by Wm. Gilley, secretary of the Presbyterian Sunday School association.

The McKees Rocks Christian church will celebrate its first anniversary tomorrow. The church started a year ago with a membership of 13 and has had a phenomenal growth, its present membership being about 400. The Rev. S. E. Brewster is pastor of the church.

FOR SOLDIER DEAD.

Preparations Being Made for State's Monuments at Chicamauga.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Gov. Pennypacker and staff of the civil will officially visit Chickamauga during the dedication of the monument of the Seventy-third regiment on November 9 and the monument of the Seventy-seventh Pennsylvania regiment on November 12. The last legislature made appropriations to take the survivors of these regiments to Chickamauga to attend the dedications and Adjutant Gen. Stewart is now arranging to furnish them with transportation.

Owing to the lack of funds the dedication of the monument to Pennsylvania soldiers at the Andersonville prison, for which an appropriation of $5,000 has been postponed until after the meeting of the next legislature.

Your Money Returned

If Hyomei Does Not Cure You of Catarrh, Say Shilling Bros. Co., Penn and Frankstown Aves.

In advertising that they will refund the money to anyone purchasing a Hyomei outfit who can say that it has done them no good in the treatment of catarrh the Schilling Bros. Company mean exactly what the guarantee says.

Of course, the percentage of cures by Hyomei is nearly 100, else they could not afford to make this unusual offer. But if the treatment should not be adapted to your case there will be no questions or quibblings when you go to get your money.

That the beginning of catarrh is due to the presence of germs in the air passages is now admitted by every physician. It stands to reason that catarrh cannot be cured unless these germs are first destroyed. The Hyomei treatment kills the catarrh germs even in the minutest air cells, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane, and makes complete and lasting cures in cases that have resisted the usual methods of treatment.

Catarrh cannot be cured by medicines administered through the stomach. Hyomei is the only natural method, and it has made cures that seem miraculous. The outfit costs but $1 and consists of an inhaler which will last a lifetime and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment. Additional bottles of Hyomei can be procured for 50 cents.

The Schilling Bros. Company gives its personal guarantee with every Hyomei outfit they sell to refund the money if it does not cure. There is no risk whatever to the purchaser of Hyomei.

FIVE-DOLLAR BREAK IN CRUCIBLE STEEL PREFERRED

The Effect Was Demoralizing on the Local Stock Market—Steel Common and Copper Made New Low Records in Wall Street.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

A $5 break in Crucible Steel preferred produced a demoralizing effect upon the local stock market yesterday and tended to withdraw the attention of local brokers from Wall street. For several weeks past the market for Pittsburgh securities has been dominated by the eastern market, and time and time again when the local list was displaying strength the appearance of weakness in Wall street would change sentiment here. Yesterday, however, local traders had their hands full attending to their specialties. The weakness at times was very pronounced, and it would not have required much more pressure to have produced a panic on the Pittsburgh board.

Crucible Steel preferred opened 1½ per cent lower at 53, and from that time until late in the afternoon the decline continued, until the price reached 48¾. The final sale was at 49, but just before the close the stock rallied to 49¼ bid. The common stock opened at 6½ and declined to 5¾, closing at 5⅞ bid. The immediate cause of the decline was said to be the liquidation of bank loans during the past two days. The lower prices established by this operation caught stop-loss orders, and the contracted buying power caused by money market conditions left the market without support. This, however, was not the sole cause of the weakness. Stories have been current for more than a week to the effect that the deal under which a large interest in the Clairton plant was to be acquired by the United States Steel Corporation for a cash consideration had failed of ratification by the directors of the latter. The facts are said to be that the two committees representing Crucible Steel and United States Steel reached an agreement, signed the contract for the joint control of the property and submitted the same to their respective boards. The Crucible directors ratified the deal, but the United States Steel directors have not yet taken final action. It is intimated that there was a provision in the contract which might serve as a loophole to escape from the ratification of the contract by the United States Steel directors, and the delay of the latter is construed as foreshadowing an abandonment of the deal entirely.

The effect of a complete abandonment of the plan for joint ownership of the Clairton plant would be to throw upon the Crucible Steel management the task of financing the company's indebtedness. The worst that might happen under the circumstances would be the suspension of a quarter's dividend on Crucible Steel preferred, but this contingency, it is claimed, would only happen in the event of acute stringency in the money market. The dividend for the past quarter was paid last week, and the annual meeting of the company will be held the 21st of this month. While there has been no statement of earnings given out, it is reported that they will compare favorably with last year, when the full dividend was paid on the preferred, a million dollars charged to depreciation, and there remained a surplus of nearly $800,000.

The rest of the market ruled very weak, although the volume of business was comparatively light. National Fire Proofing common broke to 15½, and the preferred made a new low record by selling down to and closing at 25, a net loss for the day of 4½ points. The par value of this stock is $50 a share, and the decline to $25, market value, merely brings it down into the Crucible Steel preferred class. United States Steel common and preferred were both dull and weak, but followed the course of the eastern market. Westinghouse Electric was fairly active, more than 1,200 shares changing hands, the price breaking to 67½ and recovering to 68 at the close. Pittsburgh Coal common was supported around 22 and at one time rallied to 22¾, but closed at the lowest. The preferred stock declined 1¾ per cent to 70, but closed at 70½ bid. Pittsburgh Brewing declined from 29 to 28, but just before the close was offered at 27¾. River Coal preferred declined a fraction to 32¾. Philadelphia Company declined a dollar a share to 36, but Manufacturers Light and Heat held steady to firm around 30. The only change in the banking group was a further decline in Allegheny Trust to 145, a loss of 5 per cent.

The feature of the opening market in New York was the extreme weakness in Amalgamated Copper and United States Steel common. Both stocks recorded new low prices, Copper selling down to 34½ and Steel common to 14¼. Steel preferred, which was nearly a point off in London, opened at 62 to 62½ and sold down to 61⅝. The new bonds declined from 70⅞ to 70%, but later recovered to 71. Smelting sold off to 39½, but recovered its loss. There was considerable pressure on Tennessee Coal and Iron, which broke from 29⅜ to 27½, the lowest price of the year.

Traction stocks were weak and lower, but the general railroad list declined to only a moderate extent. Atchison, Louisville & Nashville and Rock Island were the weakest of their group at the opening, but later in the day they recovered all their loss and something besides. The declines in St. Paul, Union Pacific, Missouri Pacific, New York Central and Pennsylvania did not exceed a point during the morning session, and the dealings in the entire railroad list, in fact, were light. During the latter part of the day a much firmer tone prevailed, and for the leading railroad shares the highest prices were established in the last half hour. Copper rallied to 35½ and the steel issues were firmer. The market closed steady to firm. Among the influences which helped the late rally was the declaration of a dividend of 1¼ per cent on the capital stock of the Northern Securities Company. Another was the publication of earnings of Southern Pacific for the month of August. The gross earnings were $7,386,000, an increase of $943,000 over the corresponding month last year. The net earnings were $2,135,000, an increase of $94,000. Illinois Central reported an increase in gross earnings for September of $96,000, making the increase for the three months $1,149,000. Another factor was the estimate made on today's bank statement. If the preliminary figures are anywhere near correct, the bank statement will be favorable. The money market continued easy at unchanged rates. The exports of wheat and flour for the week were disappointing, amounting to only 2,278,000 bushels.

McKEES ROCKS PROPERTY SOLD

Manufacturing Site of Eight Acres Is Purchased for $25,000.

NEW LOT PLAN IN BRUSHTON

Wylie Avenue Corner Sold--Good Lease for Market Street Building—Interesting Auction Sale—Plans for Passavant Building Approved.

The last of the available manufacturing sites in McKees Rocks has been sold through the Freehold Real Estate Company, for $25,000. It belonged to Mrs. Kate Guthrie Dickson and was bought by J. C. Morris, who, it is understood, secured the property as a site for a manufacturing concern which will shortly erect a plant. The property comprises about eight acres at Duff station in the V between the Pittsburgh, Chartiers & Youghiogheny railroad and Chartiers creek. The big plant of the F. Pitt Malleable & Grey iron works adjoins it on the east. The upper part of the plant, which has a frontage of 800 feet in Thomson avenue, is nearly level, but back of this the ground slopes off sharply to a point 30 feet below grade, making a heavy fill necessary to fit it for manufacturing purposes. This is the last plot of any size at McKees Rocks, which has not been either taken up for a manufacturing site or plotted, all the land in the adjoining West park having been put on the market. No intimation was given out as to the nature of the plant to be built.

Brushton Frontage Purchased.

The Liberty Real Estate Trust Company has purchased the Rose property in the Thirty-seventh ward for $13,000. The plot includes five acres and fronts in Haverhill, Fargo and Allison streets and Sickles avenue. The company has already subdivided about 70 lots, 25x80 feet, which are being sold at prices ranging from $250 to $400 each. The property comes up to the Wilkinsburg borough line, and a number of houses are to be built on it soon.

The Michael Craig property at the northeast corner of Wylie avenue and Pulitzy street has been sold by Adam Butrke for $26,500. It measures 45x66 feet, and is improved with two brick buildings. This is the fifth sale of Wylie avenue property since October 1, the total amount of the deals being about $80,000.

The West End Savings bank has transferred to the West End Savings Bank & Trust Company the property now occupied by the latter institution at the northwest corner of Main and Wabash streets, Thirty-sixth ward, the consideration being $27,200. The bank bought the property in 1897 from James Wallace. It consists of 40x80 feet, on which is erected a four-story brick bank and office building.

Market Street Lease Signed.

After a hunt of nearly a year for a suitable location, the firm of J. & M. Landau, now at No. 1241 Penn avenue, has secured a lease on the property of the Union National bank, at Nos. 313-315 Market street. The lease was made through the agency of Samuel W. Black & Company, who have closed more than a dozen important downtown leases since September 15. The building rented is a three-story brick on a lot 31x175 feet and will be occupied by a large drygoods store. The lease was for a term of years dating from April 1, 1904.

The most interesting event in realty circles for months will be the auction sale of the beautiful home of the late county recorder, George M. Von Bonnhorst at Ingram, October 31 at 2 o'clock. The property is on the Ridge road, one-half mile from Ingram station and is one of the best-known properties in Allegheny county, as it is only 15 minutes from the city by train or 30 minutes by street car. The residence is a handsome colonial house of 15 rooms set in the middle of a tract of 8.8 acres and has every convenience that is known to the modern builder. The grounds are laid out with rare taste and have an abundance of shade and shrubbery. On the rear of the plot is a large barn provided with the latest fixtures.

Plans for Passavant Home.

The building committee of the Institution of Protestant Deaconesses has finally approved the plans for a new administration building for the Memorial Home for Epileptics at Rochester. The new building will be above the upper one of the three houses now on the Home farm of 74 acres, and will cost at least $50,000. The plans call for a four-story structure, 48x100 feet, the top floor to be used for an amusement hall. In the upper floors will be the dormitories for female patients and many small wards. A temporary chapel will be provided in the north corner of the building until a separate and permanent chapel can be built. The basement will contain the dining rooms and kitchen for the home. The Passavant Memorial home is the only institution in Western Pennsylvania where epileptics are received, and 225 inmates are now being cared for. It is estimated that one out of every 500 of the population suffers from this disease, so that with 6,000 epileptics in this section the institution is badly in need of larger and better quarters. The building committee is making an effort to raise $18,000 in addition to the $12,000 now available before the building is started. The committee is composed of the Rev. F. W. Kohler, director of the home; the Rev. A. Krebs, superintendent of the orphans' home and farm school at Zelienople; W. B. Wolfe of Pittsburgh and Fred Marquart and C. S. Passavant of Rochester.

Some Interesting Deals Are Due.

In spite of the fact that large deals that come to the surface are fewer in number than could be desired, there are a number of good transactions already consummated or nearly ready for closing of which no mention has been made. One of these, to which Smith Brothers & Stevenson are attached, is the sale of a prominent banking property down town which is likely to be announced in a few days. Another deal of importance is the sale of the Lee lithograph plant out the first of the week, as the decision to buy the property has already been made public. Two sales of East End residences amounting to about $25,000 each are reported articled for, and a trade involving close to $100,000 is well along. A deal is also pending for a property in Walnut street at $1,200 a front foot, which shows the rapid advance in values in that thoroughfare, another property in the same street adjoining being held at $1,500 a front foot.

G. A. Steiner has received a permit for the erection of a colonial brick and stone house of 15 rooms at Farragut and Bryant streets. The residence will cost $40,000. Another East End building project under way is the three-story brick store and office building to be erected for P. A. Donnelly on the southeast corner of Homewood and Hamilton avenues, at a cost of $12,000. Bids for the building are now being taken by Architect E. V. Kerner.

What Brokers Are Doing.

Thomas street—The Real Estate Trust Company sold for D. L. Gillespie to G. L. Rieber 75x143 feet at Thomas street and Lexington avenue, East End, for $8,250. The property adjoins Westinghouse Park and will be improved at once with a $10,000 residence. The buyer's brother, William Rieber, lately secured the adjoining lot as a residence site.

Penn avenue—Sold for Adam Stein to Achille Guidi No. 4911 Penn avenue, a brick store and dwelling on lot 19x100 feet, for $7,250.

Hazelwood—Williams, Evans & Co. sold for David Evans to John Bader four lots, 25x125 feet each, in the north side of Trowbridge street, near Second avenue, Hazelwood ward, for $1,600. The buyer will build four $2,500 houses.

Webster avenue—The New York Realty Company sold for Jacob Bauch and Samuel Harris a three-story brick store and house, lot 45x124 feet, in the south side of Webster avenue, Eleventh ward, for $8,800.

Forty-fourth street—The Aronson Realty Company sold for Katherine Hoffman to Jacob Tannenbaum Nos. 102 and 104 Forty-fourth street, five buildings on 40x100 feet for $4,600.

Lang avenue—W. L. Woods sold for Peter Dick to Oscar A. Reutzel 50x150 feet at the southeast corner of Lang and Edgerton avenues, Twenty-second ward, for $5,500.

Two Sales of Houses.

Chadwick place—The Liberty Real Estate Trust Company sold for George W. Scott to John Rooff a brick house, lot 20x100 feet, in Grotto street, Chadwick place, for $2,800, and for S. W. Wilson to Harry L. Leseman a frame house, lot 22.5x80 feet, in Lincoln avenue, near Lexington avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $2,800.

Saline avenue—Cornelius Cassidy sold for Charles Eble to Emma M. Miller 30x125 feet at Saline avenue and Negley avenue, Twenty-second ward, for $1,100.

Lang avenue—Anna McHendry sold to Kate Conlon an improved lot, 20x80 feet, Lang avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $5,000.

Portland avenue—Anna Negle sold to Bessie Lippard an improved lot, 24x110 feet, in the east side of Portland avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $2,500.

Butler street—James Z. Close sold to Alvin Bauer an improved lot, 40x114 feet, at the southwest corner of Butler and Janney streets, Eighteenth ward, for $3,400.

Tecumseh street—Samuel Bennett sold to the Glenwood Railroad Company an improved lot, 40x139 feet, in the south side of Tecumseh street, near Lafayette street, Twenty-third ward, for $2,000.

The only building permit issued yesterday was to G. A. Steiner for a two-story brick and stone dwelling on Farragut street, Nineteenth ward, to cost $40,000.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, October 9.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 10 points and ruled very active. At first buying predominated, being encouraged by further bullish cables regarding the Santos crop and probable movement, while all the outside markets were higher. There was heavy realizing sales, however, that increased as the session progressed, under the influence of heavy arrivals, which footed up some 150,000 bags and the market developed a slightly easier tendency. The tone was finally steady, 5@10 net unchanged to 5 points net advance of 5 points; sales were 92,750 bags, including November at 4.75@4.80; December, 5.00@5.10c; January, 5.05@5.20c; March, 5.25@5.30c; May, 5.45@5.50c; July, 5.55@5.60; September, 5.65@5.70c. Sugar—Raw firm; fair refining, 3⅜c; centrifugal, 96-test, 3¾c; molasses sugar, 3¼c; refined steady; crushed, 5.35c; powdered, 4.85c; granulated, 4.75c.

Turpentine and Rosin.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 9.—Spirits turpentine firm, 67¼c. Rosin firm, $1 90@1 95. Tar firm, $1 80. Crude turpentine firm, $2 20, $3 and $3 20.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 9.—Turpentine steady, 77½c. Rosin steady.

The Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Cotton futures closed steady; October, 9.21c; November, 9.15c; December, 9.21c; January, 9.18c; February, 9.21c; March, 9.22c; April, 9.25c; May, 9.29c; June, 9.28c; July, 9.29c; spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 9.60c; middling gulf, 9.85c; sales, 718 bales.

LOWER PRICES RULE FOR SHELLED CORN

Hay Receipts Heavy, but the Market Holds Firm—Chestnuts Plentiful and Lower.

Shelled corn, which has been slowly growing weaker for several days, declined a cent per bushel yesterday, while all other grains remained unchanged. Ear corn is very steady, and, although demands are particularly active, there is so little arriving that sellers have things largely their own way, and do not make any concessions from listed quotations. Millfeed has been coming in very slowly, and yesterday's receipts were no exception to this rule. Prices are firm as quoted. Very little straw is arriving, and the limited offerings command full prices. Arrivals of hay were heavy, but the steady demand keeps the market well balanced and there has been no depreciation of values. In fact sellers are anxious for more of the better grades of timothy, clover and mixed hay, for which there is active request.

Speaking of the flour situation generally the Northwestern Miller states that while mills in the northwest report a very good trade in flour, with prices comparatively satisfactory, in other parts of the country business seems to have been only fair during the past week. Kansas mills are unusually busy filling old orders, but are not overburdened with fresh ones. Their prices are stiffly held and have been on the above the ideas of foreign bidders. In the Ohio valley a dull flour market is complained of, and many of the mills operated fill the on old orders. Elsewhere winter wheat flour trade was about the average. Locally conditions are just as they have been for several days and prices are unchanged. Coffee maintains its firm position, and is selling freely. Sugar is easy at the recent decline. Navy beans are firm at the advance of Thursday, and demand is on the increase. Other grocery staples unchanged.

Yesterday's business in the fruit and produce market was light, buyers taking hold very sparingly, and buying only for close requirements. Potatoes are coming in more freely at the beginning of the week, and quotations have declined, top price from store being about 70 cents. Sweets are unchanged but are easy at quotations. Onions are very much firmer than on Thursday, and top notation was advanced. Peaches are selling fairly well, but quotations remain as they have been for several days. Cigarloads are coming forward in liberal quantities, and quotations have gone off, the range now being 10 to 12 cents.

The butter market is quiet, and quotations are just about steady. Cheese is firm as quoted and eggs are steady at the recent decline which prevailed all week. Poultry supply remains fair, and demand is holding up well, so that there is no reason to change quotations, the supply for the week so far having been disappointing.

ERRATIC DAY EXPERIENCED IN CHICAGO WHEAT PIT

Made Big Gains, but Weakness Later Pulled the Prices to a Loss.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Excellent weather in the west and northwest, weak outside markets, with Liverpool barely steady in the face of the bullish news yesterday, and lower Saturday, wheat at the start and opening prices were easier, December being unchanged to ⅛@⅛c lower at 75⅛@75⅜c to 75⅝c. Traders were watching the St. Louis and Minneapolis markets closely and the declines there were followed by similar action, considerable stuff coming out on the decline. With a sudden upturn at Minneapolis prices here became decidedly strong, December selling up to 78½c and was one time at a ⅛c premium over May. A big demand for cash wheat, together with an improved demand for flour were the influences that started the upturn at Minneapolis. Influenced by local traders during the last half of the session resulted in a loss of more than the early gain, December declining to 78¼c and closing at 78⅜c, a loss of ⅝c for the day. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 667 cars, which, with local receipts of 84 cars—none of contract grade—made total receipts for the three points of 751 cars, against 746 cars last week and 904 cars a year ago.

Clear cool weather tended to exert a bearish influence over the corn pit, but prices held fairly steady in the face of the fluctuations in wheat. Small country offerings were a help in maintaining prices. The market was a local affair almost entirely with commission houses doing most of the buying. After selling between 49¼c and 50¼c December closed 50c lower at 49¾c. Local receipts were 288 cars, with 17 of contract grade.

Oats were firm the greater part of the session on a good cash demand, with commission houses fair buyers of December. The decline in wheat caused an earlier closing in the pit, December closing at 32⅝@32⅞c, a loss of ⅛c at 32⅝@32⅞c, after ranging between 32⅝@32¾c. Local receipts were 125 cars.

A small advance in the price of hogs helped to maintain a firm tone in provisions during the first part of the session, but the market sold off from lack of support then from any other cause. The close was easier, with January pork off 15c at $13 80; January lard was 5c lower and ribs 10c lower. Trade was very slow for tomorrow: Wheat, 85 cars; corn, 250 cars; oats, 150 cars; hogs, 7,000 head.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The drygoods market today has been quiet, with wholesale jobbers in demand or prices. Owing to the heavy rain storm business has been practically at a standstill.

CONSERVATISM AMONG IRON MEN INCREASING

Dun's Review Takes Hopeful View of the Manufacturing Situation.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

There have been no developments of importance in the commercial world. As a rule there is more caution in making contracts, especially among manufacturers. Uneasiness regarding the financial situation recedes as the season advances without producing any monetary pressure in connection with crop moving. The proposed reduction in pig iron output has been indorsed by all leading producers, steadying prices just when changes in freight rates started another reduction.

Other manufacturing news is favorable except where the raw material markets are unsettled, or labor struggles cause trouble. Suspension of an iron plant was attributed to the latter cause, and the movement of cotton at New Orleans also suffered because of a strike.

Latest returns of foreign commerce at this port are unsatisfactory, exports showing a loss of $1,188,646 compared with the same week last year, and imports decreasing $2,577,124. Bank exchanges at New York for the week were 26.6 per cent smaller than last year, while at other leading cities there was a gain of 4.4 per cent.

Reduced dividends and curtailed production in the iron and steel industry show that conservatism is increasing and there is no disposition to disguise the fact that business is not progressing

MINERS DEMAND RADICAL CHANGE

Failure of Western Operators to Comply Will Result in a Strike.

THREE STATES ARE INVOLVED

President Mitchell Authorized to Offer Arbitration on Wage and Hour Questions, the Rejection of Which Means Calling Out of the Men.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 9.—A strike of coal miners in Colorado, New Mexico and Utah will follow failure to adjust differences within a week, according to a statement issued today by President Mitchell and Secretary Wilson of the United Mine Workers.

The national committee of mine workers adjourned at 2 o'clock this afternoon. No other meeting will be held until the national convention in January. Immediately after adjournment of the meeting President Mitchell and Secretary Wilson issued the following statement:

"We have had under advisement since the executive board has been in session the application of district No. 15, composed of the coal mines in Colorado, New Mexico and Utah, to strike for an advance in wages, a reduction of the hours of labor, semi-monthly pays, the right to employ check weighmen at their own expense, and the abolition of the scrip system of payment for labor done. The district having exhausted all other means at its command to secure an adjustment of the disputed points, has made application to the national executive board to inaugurate a strike in accordance with the laws of the United Mine Workers of America.

"After a careful consideration of all the facts obtainable, and with a view of securing an adjustment of the differences existing between the miners and their employers, the board instructed President Mitchell to communicate with the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company and the Victor Fuel Company, which are the controlling interests in that field, and accordingly the following telegram was sent:

"'An application has been made by the organized coal miners of Colorado to inaugurate a strike at the coal mines in that and adjoining states including mines operated by your company. Before definite action is taken I have been instructed by the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America to communicate to you our desire to adjust wage differences or grievances by means of conciliation or arbitration, and I should be pleased to ascertain if you will receive representatives of our organization for the purpose of discussing matters complained of by your employes, many of whom are members of our organization and have authorized us to act for them. Please wire reply. —(Signed) John Mitchell, President United Mine Workers of America.'

"Replies have been received from both companies refusing to meet our representatives to adjust or consider the grievances complained of. These replies were presented to the national executive board for consideration, and the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"'Resolved, That the national executive officers are hereby given full power to inaugurate a strike in district No. 15 in the week after the adjournment of the national executive board if a conference cannot be arranged or an adjustment made of the Colorado situation.'

"Concerning the strike on the West Virginia Central railroad, which was inaugurated because of the action of the coal companies in discharging every man who was a member of the union, although no demands had been made by the miners for any change in wages or condition of employment, the entire matter was left in the hands of President Mitchell to negotiate a settlement if possible or continue the strike."

PROGRAM IS ARRANGED FOR RELIGIOUS DEBATE

Prominent Ministers Will Preside at Meetings Between the Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton and Pastor C. T. Russell, of Bible House.

The joint discussions on five religious topics between the Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton, pastor of the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, and C. T. Russell, pastor of the Bible House congregation, will be inaugurated in the Allegheny Carnegie Music hall on Sunday afternoon, October 18, at 3 o'clock. Six meetings will be held in the series and will take place at intervals through the week until Sunday, November 1, on the dates given below. The debates will be of the most popular nature and will be free to the public, the collection basket being eliminated.

In brief, the questions selected for discussion will be as follows: "The Second Coming of Christ." "The Millenium." "Post-Mortem Probation." "State of the Dead Between Death and the Resurrection." "Eternal States of the Saved and the Lost" and "The Doctrine of Salvation." Ministers and laymen of some of the city's most prominent congregations manifest the liveliest interest in the forthcoming discussion. At each meeting a pastor will occupy the stage as chairman. These selections and the dates follow:

Sunday afternoon, October 18, the Rev. Dr. W. H. McMillan; Tuesday evening, October 20, the Rev. Dr. H. D. Lindsay; Thursday evening, October 22, the Rev. Dr. J. W. Sprout; Tuesday evening, October 27, the Rev. John A. Jayne; Thursday evening, October 29, the Rev. Eli Miller; Sunday afternoon, November 1, the Rev. Dr. B. F. Woodburn.

Devotional exercises will occupy the 15 minutes preceding the hour set for the debate. The music will be arranged by Prof. E. Frank Walters, organist of the Bible House congregation, and E. P. Russell, procentor of the North Avenue church. The ushers are:

From North Avenue church—Chief usher, Rudolph P. Forsberg; assistants, Charles C. Heckman, Dr. Charles H. Alter, Harry M. Kelly, H. Frank Borland, Ira E. Swanger, Frank M. Summer, Howard Leonard.

From Bible house—Chief usher, W. E. Van Amburgh; assistants, H. A. Gurpner, E. Maurer, D. R. Springer, J. D. Wright, George C. Garman, John Hettenbaugh, Joseph Brewer.

JUST LIKE COLLEGE BOYS.

Girl Students Blacken Each Others Eyes in an Old-Fashioned Cane Rush.

TOPEKA, KAN., Oct. 9.—On the big stage of the Washburn college chapel, in front of an audience of 500 people, there was a fierce color fight between the girls of the freshmen and sophomore classes in which 35 sophomores tried to "rush" 40 freshmen girls off the platform. Tables and chairs were overturned, the president's chair was smashed to pieces, clothes were torn, hats were lost and eyes blackened by the fierce rough-and-tumble fight.

The occasion was the annual cane rush, and the girls of the rival classes had been trying for an hour to yell each other down from the tops of the chapel seats. Suddenly one of the freshmen girls appeared on the platform waving the rival class colors. Then the clash came. It was at least 20 minutes before the factuity could separate the two bands and restore peace.

Prizes Awarded Firemen.

ALLENTOWN, PA., Oct. 9.—Only two prizes were awarded today to firemen who paraded here yesterday under the auspices of the State Firemen's association. All other contests were called off. The awards were $50 to the Exempt company of Buffalo, for coming the greatest distance, and $50 to the Darktown of Pittston, for the most comic makeup.

CLAIMS LARGE ESTATE LEFT BY HIS UNCLE

Representative of a Sharpsburg Woman Going to England to Investigate.

Fifty residents of Pittsburgh and its vicinity expect to become independently wealthy from fortunes discovered in estates abroad. A. Seligsohn, general manager for the International Claim Agency of No. 312 Fourth avenue, will leave for Europe early next month and will spend three months in looking up dormant millions for his Pittsburgh clients. He will go with papers with claims for $5,000,000 and will visit England, Ireland, France, Holland, Belgium and Germany.

Seligsohn's largest claim will be against the estate of Joseph Walker, deceased, of Stopedbow, Lincolnshire. Mrs. Phoebe Jane Sellers of Twenty-first and Noble streets, Sharpsburg, will make demands through the probate court, Lincoln, and the king's bench for $500,000 which, she avers, was left by an uncle. The money has been tied up for a number of years and the case, when it is called up by the American representative, will arouse much interest in England.

Thousands of Pittsburghers have dreams of inheriting wealth from forgotten ancestors on the other side of the sea. Many of them have no reason to build air castles, and if they ever are well provided with this world's goods it will be the results of their own efforts. On the other hand, there are people here who have heavy claims based on just demands and eventually they will enjoy the tardy coming of their fortunes.

FURNACE CUPOLA BURSTS, INJURING THREE MEN

READING, Oct. 9.—A section of the cupola of the Keystone furnace of the Reading Iron Company burst today, causing about $5,000 damage. Three workmen were injured. For a time the lives of a score of men were in danger. The furnace, which has a capacity of 1,500 tons of pig iron a week, will have to shut down for several weeks for repairs.

Thieves Rob a Freight Station.

The freight station of the Pennsylvania railroad at East Pittsburgh was entered by thieves early yesterday morning and goods valued at about $200 taken.

Our Extraordinary Week-End Sale of Men's Clothing.

In anticipation of our early Saturday closing of next week and thereafter—in order to get our trade in the habit of buying earlier—we make these special and liberal inducements.

Next week this store closes Saturday at 6:30. This means that our Saturday night clothing trade must come to us at some other time. In order to make it an inducement for men to do their buying earlier, we have determined upon the bold move of holding specially-priced sales at the end of the week. The specials that we offer at these sales will be selected right from our own up-to-date and perfect stocks—no job lots, but the same desirable, high-grade garments which at any other time command more money than these sale prices.

We want to see if offering genuine bargains like these will have the desired effect of bringing the public to our store earlier and demonstrating the fact that day-time buying—especially in the clothing department—will be by far the most satisfactory.

Week-End Sale of Men's Suits & Overcoats at $9.75.

These garments are marked—and sold up till now—at $12 and $12.50. These suits are made of the latest mixed effects in cassimeres and worsteds, also plain blue or black. Nothing is reserved at this sale which formerly sold at these prices. In the majority of reduction sales the blues and blacks are excluded—but this is not an ordinary Reduction Sale. It is an unusual event under unusual circumstances. The overcoats in this lot are smart tan coverts and mixtures in the correct box effects. Well lined and tailored.

The $12 and $12.50 Suits and Overcoats at the Uniform Price of.. $9.75

Week-End Sale of Men's Suits & Overcoats at $12.50.
